Chile D. Hojman, 1993-01-15 In 1990 after almost 17 years of military rule Chile became the only Latin American country where a democratic regime coexists with free market policies which actually work The book explores this paradox and it examines the prospects for future economic growth with income redistribution under free market rules and democratic politics The author examines amongst other things short term policymaking education health the labour market women the middle sectors privatisation market imperfections the state non government organisations external trade the financial sector and the external debt

Comparative Education Carlos Alberto Torres, Robert F. Arnove, 2007-09-16 Comparative Education The Dialectic of the Global and the Local Third Edition brings together many of the outstanding scholars in the field of comparative and international education to provide new perspectives on the dynamic interplay of global national and local forces as they shape the functioning and outcomes of education systems in specific contexts Various chapters in the book call for a rethinking of the nation state as the basic unit for analyzing school society relations provide new ways of conceptualizing equality of educational opportunity and outcomes call attention to the need to study social movements in relation to educational reform emphasize the value of feminist postcolonial and culturally sensitive perspectives to comparative inquiry into the limitations as well as potential of education systems to contribute to individual development and social change and provide detailed critical accounts of how various international financial and technical assistance agencies shape educational policy and practice in specific regions of the world

Problems and Possibilities of Neoliberal Education Reforms Mustafa Toprak, 2024-11-14 Neoliberal education reforms promise but often don't succeed to improve student outcomes and provide more equitable educational opportunities to students with different backgrounds They hold schools accountable for their performance through high stakes testing and linking performance to rewards and sanctions and by empowering parents This book presents a critical and objective appraisal of these neoliberalist education reforms Mustafa Toprak considers the practical elements of neoliberal reforms including voucher systems choice accountability competition within and between schools educational inequalities and high stakes testing and in doing this contributes to social justice debates and the idea of education as a common good He uses reforms in Chile as a case study and offers a critique of its neoliberal educational reforms Rather than discrediting all the central tenets of neoliberal education Toprak considers the pros and cons of these reforms for students teachers schools and societies and proposes new reforms to ensure that policies accurately and responsively address the needs of all stakeholders

Focus on Neuropsychology Research Joshua R. Dupri, 2006 Neuropsychology is the study of brain behaviour relationships and examines such domains of cognitive functioning as memory attention visual perceptual abilities language and intellectual function It is strongly scientific in its approach and shares an information processing view of the mind with cognitive psychology and cognitive science It is one of the most eclectic of the psychological disciplines overlapping at times with areas such as neuroscience philosophy particularly philosophy of mind neurology psychiatry and computer science particularly by making use of artificial neural networks

Economics of Education George Psacharopoulos, 2014-05-17 Economics of Education Research and Studies reviews key topics in the field of economics of education since 1960s This book is organized into 12 parts Part I and Part II focus on the supply side of human capital and narrower aspects of human capital creation by means of education Subsequent parts look at the benefits of education relationship between education and employment controversies in the field of economics of education issues of manpower planning and methodology for empirically analyzing the issues in the economics of education The last two parts address the costs of education with emphasis on cost function analysis and on the financing of education Comparative Education Robert F. Arnove, Carlos Alberto Torres, Stephen Franz, 2013 Now in its fourth edition Comparative Education The Dialectic of the Global and the Local remains the same groundbreaking book when it first debuted its collection of outstanding scholars in examining the changing transnational landscape of education With the addition of new coeditor Stephen Franz the book provides new perspectives on the dynamic interplay of global national and local forces as they shape the functions and outcomes of education systems The book calls for a rethinking of the nation state as the basic unit for analyzing school society relations and emphasizes the need to study social movements in relation to educational reforms It also emphasizes the value of feminist postcolonial and culturally sensitive perspectives for inquiry into the potential of education systems to contribute to individual development and social change This new edition incorporates recent developments in scholarship especially in education policy and practice the impact of the global economic crisis and a new chapter on education in the European Union

Routledge Library Editions: Education Mini-Set G Higher & Adult Education 11 vol set Various, 2021-07-14 Mini set G Higher and Adult Education re issues 11 volumes originally published between 1974 and 1992 They discuss and analyze adult education from both theoretical and practical standpoints and look at the challenges facing adult education during the 1970s and 80s as well as examining the history of higher adult education in the UK The mini set includes one volume which although previously available with another publisher and out of print for some years is now available for the first time from Routledge Methods Matter Richard J. Murnane, John B. Willett, 2010-09-15 Educational policy makers around the world constantly make decisions about how to use scarce resources to improve the education of children Unfortunately their decisions are rarely informed by evidence on the consequences of these initiatives in other settings Nor are decisions typically accompanied by well formulated plans to evaluate their causal impacts As a result knowledge about what works in different situations has been very slow to accumulate Over the last several decades advances in research methodology administrative record keeping and statistical software have dramatically increased the potential for researchers to conduct compelling evaluations of the causal impacts of educational interventions and the number of well designed studies is growing Written in clear concise prose Methods Matter Improving Causal Inference in Educational and Social Science Research offers essential guidance for those who evaluate educational policies Using numerous examples of high quality studies that have evaluated the causal impacts of important educational interventions the authors go beyond the simple presentation of new analytical methods to discuss the controversies surrounding each study and provide heuristic explanations that are also broadly accessible Murnane and Willett offer strong methodological insights on causal inference while also examining the consequences of a wide variety of educational policies implemented in the U S and abroad Representing a unique contribution to the literature surrounding educational research this landmark text will be invaluable for students and researchers in education and public policy as well as those interested in social science Progress in Education, Volume 15 Roberta V. Nata, 2007 This series presents substantial results from around the globe in selected areas of educational research The field of education is consistently on the top of priority lists of every country in the world yet few educators are aware of the progress elsewhere Many techniques programs and methods are directly applicable across borders This series attempts to shed light on successes wherever they may occur in the hope that many wheels need not be reinvented again and again Schools Count Ward Heneveld, Helen Craig, 1996 World Bank Technical Paper No 303 Reviews the design of 26 projects in Sub Saharan Africa that were prepared by African governments and the World Bank for Bank funding The report concludes that school level factors need more attention in program design Participation and Performance in Primary Schooling Vinayagum Chinapah, 1983 Schooling and Disparities Kjell Nyström, 1985

Bibliography on Tracer-studies, Follow-up Studies and Longitudinal Studies on Research Related to Education and Employment Françoise Du Pouget, 1982 Emergent Issues in Education Robert F. Arnove, Philip G. Altbach, Gail Paradise Kelly, 1992-01-01 In Emergent Issues in Education leading scholars in comparative education and in the politics sociology anthropology and economics of education illuminate worldwide trends in critical issues that confront policymakers and practitioners in different national settings Among the topics raised and analyzed are the organization governance and financing of education the content of curriculum texts and tests and the quality and nature of teacher training Among the issues examined is the tension that has emerged between the imperative to achieve equality of educational opportunity and the concern of educational decision makers to maintain and upgrade the quality of academic offerings Aspects of this tension are manifested in the reform movements of the 1980s especially the excellence movement that has resurfaced in the United States Reform movements are evident in countries that have experienced increased enrollment at all levels of schooling in the post World War II period In the United States as elsewhere there has been a reassessment of the relevance of education to the economy and polity and of the role of government and industry in education National, Institutional, and Household Factors Affecting Young Girl's School Attendance in Developing Societies Mary Chamie, 1983 The Journal of Educational Administration , 1991
