Ryder,2012-07-10 Rhetorics for Community Action Public Writing and Writing Publics by Phyllis Mentzell Ryder offers theory and pedagogy to introduce public writing as a complex political and creative action To write public texts we have to invent the public we wish to address Such invention is a complex task with many components to consider exigency that brings people together a sense of agency and capacity a sense of how the world is and what it can become All these components constantly compete against texts that put forward other public ideals opposing ideas about who really has power and who really can create change Teachers of public writing must adopt a generous response to those who venture into this arena Some scholars believe that to prepare students for public life university classes should partner with grassroots community organizations rather than nonprofits that serve food or tutor students They worry that a service related focus will create more passive citizens who do not rally and resist or grab the attention of government leaders or corporations With carefully contextualized study of an after school arts program an area soup kitchen and parks organizations among others Ryder shows that many so called service organizations are not passive places at all and she argues that the main challenge of public work is precisely that it has to take place among all of these compelling definitions of democracy Ryder proposes teaching public writing by partnering with multiple community nonprofits She develops a framework to help students analyze how their community partners inspire people to action and offers a course design that support them as they convey those public ideals in community texts But composing public texts is only part of the challenge Traditional newspapers and magazines through their business models and writing styles reinforce a dominant role for citizens as thinking and reading but not necessarily acting This civic role is also professed Basic Concept of Journalism Branden Salas,2018-10-15 Journalism is a form of communication but it s distinct from other forms It is unique because it s a one way message or story from the journalist to the audience It s most unique because the message isn t the journalist s personal story or subjective thoughts Instead the journalist acts as a conduit narrating an objective story about something that happened or is happening based on his or her observations and discoveries Journalism can be distinguished from other activities and products by certain identifiable characteristics and practices These elements not only separate journalism from other forms of communication they are what make it indispensable to democratic societies History reveals that the more democratic a society the more news and information it tends to have Journalism means writing for newspapers or magazines It is the communication of information through writing in periodicals and newspapers The people have an inborn desire to know what's novel or new This curiosity is satisfied by the journalists through their writing in the newspapers and journals on current affairs and news This book provides a lively and authoritative introduction to journalism in all its forms The focus of the book is to show how journalists do their job not only by explaining the process but also by hearing from those who do it on a daily basis The book is a product of communication revolution and changing mass communication perspectives

Rethinking the New Technology of Journalism Seong Jae Min, 2021-03-15 News organizations have always sought to deliver information faster and to larger audiences But when clicks drive journalism the result is often simplistic sensational and error ridden reporting In this book Seong Jae Min argues in favor of slow journalism a growing movement that aims to produce more considered deliberate reporting that better serves the interests of democracy Min explores the role of technology in journalism from the printing press to artificial intelligence documenting the hype and hope associated with each new breakthrough as well as the sometimes disappointing and even damaging unintended consequences His analysis cuts through the discussion of clickbait headlines and social media clout chasing to identify technological bells and whistles as the core problem with journalism today At its heart Min maintains traditional shoe leather reporting knocking on doors talking to people careful observation and analysis is still the best way for journalism to serve its civic purpose Thoughtful and engaging Rethinking the New Technology of Journalism is a compelling call for news gathering to return to its roots Reporters those studying and teaching journalism and avid consumers of the media will be interested in this book

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts,1917 Unfreedom of the Press Mark R. Levin,2020-08-11 Six time New York Times bestselling author FOX News star and radio host Mark R Levin trounces the news media The Washington Times in this timely and groundbreaking book demonstrating how the great tradition of American free press has degenerated into a standardless profession that has squandered the faith and trust of the public Unfreedom of the Press is not just another book about the press In Levin s finest work Breitbart he shows how those entrusted with news reporting today are destroying freedom of the press from within not through actions of government officials but with its own abandonment of reportorial integrity and objective journalism With the depth of historical background for which his books are renowned Levin takes you on a journey through the early American patriot press which proudly promoted the principles set forth in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution This is followed by the early decades of the Republic during which newspapers around the young country were open and transparent about their fierce allegiance to one political party or another It was only at the start of the Progressive Era and the 20th century that the supposed objectivity of the press first surfaced leaving us where we are today with a partisan party press overwhelmingly aligned with a political ideology but hypocritically engaged in a massive untruth as to its real nature
