California in these years Igor Stravinsky Arnold Schoenberg Man Ray Bertolt Brecht Christopher Isherwood Aldous Huxley Thomas Mann and Franz Werfel Starr gives a fascinating account of how many of them attempted to recreate their European world in California and how others like Samuel Goldwyn provided stories and dreams for their adopted nation Starr reserves his greatest attention and most memorable writing for San Francisco For Starr despite the city's beauty and commercial importance San Francisco's most important achievement was the sense of well being it conferred on its citizens It was a city that magically belonged to everyone Whether discussing photographers like Edward Weston and Ansel Adams hard boiled fiction writers or the new breed of female star Marlene Dietrich Jean Harlow Bette Davis Carole Lombard and the improbable Mae West The Dream Endures is a brilliant social and cultural history in many ways the most far reaching and important of Starr's California books

The Soul of the Camera David duChemin, 2017-06-14 As both an art form and a universal language the photograph has an extraordinary ability to connect and communicate with others But with over one trillion photos taken each year why do so few of them truly connect Why do so few of them grab our emotions or our imaginations It is not because the images lack focus or proper exposure with advances in technology the camera does that so well these days Photographer David duChemin believes the majority of our images fall short because they lack soul And without soul the images have no ability to resonate with others They simply cannot connect with the viewer or even if we're being truthful with ourselves
