The Nazi Concentration Camps,

1933-1939 Christian Goeschel,Nikolaus Wachsmann,2012-07-01 Weeks after Adolf Hitler came to power in 1933 the Nazi regime established the first concentration camps in Germany Initially used for real and suspected political enemies the camps increasingly came under SS control and became sites for the repression of social outsiders and German Jews Terror was central to the Nazi regime from the beginning and the camps gradually moved toward the center of repression torture and mass murder during World War II and the Holocaust This collection brings together revealing primary documents on the crucial origins of the Nazi concentration camp system in the prewar years between 1933 and 1939 which have been overlooked thus far Many of the documents are unpublished and have been translated into English for the first time These documents provide insight into the camps from multiple perspectives including those of prisoners Nazi officials and foreign observers and shed light on the complex relationship between terror state and society in the Third Reich

Historical Dictionary of Holocaust Cinema Robert C. Reimer,Carol J. Reimer,2012-04-12 Some say that telling the story of the Holocaust is impossible yet artists have told the story thousands of times since the end of World War II in novels dramas paintings music sculpture and film Over the past seven decades hundreds of documentaries narrative shorts and features and television miniseries have confronted the horrors of the past creating an easily recognized iconography of persecution and genocide While it can be argued that film and television have a tendency to trivialize using the artifacts of popular culture film and literature artists keep the past alive ensuring that victims are not forgotten and the tragedy of the Holocaust is not repeated

The Historical Dictionary of Holocaust Cinema examines the history of how the Holocaust is presented in film including documentaries feature films and television productions It contains a chronology of events needed to give the films and their reception a historical context an introductory essay a bibliography a filmography of more than 600 titles and over 100 cross referenced dictionary entries on films directors and historical figures Foreign language films and experimental films are included as well as canonical films This book is a must for anyone interested in the scope of films on the Holocaust and also for scholars interested in investigating ideas for future research
