From Pampas to Hedgerows and Downs, a Study of W.H. Hudson, by Richard E. Haymaker Richard E. Haymaker, 1954

W.H. Hudson And The Elusive Paradise David Miller, 1990-02-19 Finding W. H. Hudson Conor Mark

Jameson, 2023-08-01 An imposing life size oil painting dominates the main meeting room at the RSPB's base in the heart of England the man above the fireplace always present rarely mentioned Curious about the person in the portrait the author began a quest to rediscover William Henry Hudson 1841 1922 It became a mission of restoration stitching back together the faded tapestry of Hudson's life re-colouring it in places and adding new threads from the testaments of his closest friends This book traces the unassuming field naturalist's path through a dramatic and turbulent era from Hudson's journey to Britain from Argentina in 1874 to the unveiling by the prime minister of a monument and bird sanctuary in his honour 50 years later in the heart of Hyde Park a place where the young immigrant had for a time slept rough At its core this extraordinary story reveals Hudson's deep influence on the creation of his beloved Bird Society by its founding women and the rise of the conservation movement It reveals the strange magnetism of this mysterious man from the Pampas unschooled battle scarred and once penniless that made his achievements possible and left such a profound impression on those who knew him By the end of his life Hudson had Hollywood studios bidding for his work He was a household name through his luminous and seminal nature writing and the Bird Society had at last reached the climax of a 30 year campaign working to create the first global alliance of bird protectionists A century after Hudson's death this is a long overdue tribute to perhaps our most significant and most neglected writer naturalist and wildlife campaigner From Pampas to Hedgerows And Downs Richard E. Haymaker, 1954 The Rural Tradition William J. Keith, 1974-12-15 There is probably no single quality or characteristic besides love of the countryside that must inevitably distinguish a rural writer notes W J Keith However what distinguishes rural writing that belongs to literature from that belonging to natural history agricultural history etc is as Richard E Haymaker has observed the writer's means of revealing Nature as well as describing her In the final analysis the rural essayist paints neither landscapes nor self portraits instead he communicates the subtle relationship between himself and his environment offering for our inspection his own attitudes and his own vision We may be asked to look or to agree but more than anything else we are invited to share Ultimately then the best rural writing may be said to provide us in a phrase adapted from Robert Langbaum with a prose of experience Keith argues that non fiction rural prose should be recognized as a distinct literary tradition that merits serious critical attention In this book he tests the cogency of thinking in terms of a rural tradition examines the critical problems inherent in such writing and traces significant continuities between rural writers Eleven of the more important and influential writers from the seventeenth century to modern times come under individual scrutiny Izaak Walton Gilbert White William Cobbett Mary Russell Mitford George Borrow Richard Jefferies George Sturt George Bourne W H Hudson Edward Thomas Williamson and H J Massingham In examining these writers within the context of the rural tradition Keith rescues their works from the literary attic where they have too often been relegated as awkward misfits When studied together each throws fascinating light on the others and is seen to fit into a loose but nonetheless discernible line The Literary Imagination from Erasmus Darwin to H.G. Wells Michael R.

Page,2016-03-09 At the close of the eighteenth century Erasmus Darwin declared that he would enlist the imagination under the banner of science beginning Michael Page argues a literary narrative on questions of evolution ecology and technological progress that would extend from the Romantic through the Victorian periods Examining the interchange between emerging scientific ideas specifically evolution and ecology new technologies and literature in nineteenth century Britain Page shows how British writers from Darwin to H G Wells confronted the burgeoning expansion of scientific knowledge that was radically redefining human understanding and experience of the natural world of human species and of the self The wide range of authors covered in Page s ambitious study permits him to explore an impressive array of topics that include the role of the Romantic era in the molding of scientific and cultural perspectives the engagement of William Wordsworth and Percy Shelley with questions raised by contemporary science Mary Shelley s conflicted views on the unfolding prospects of modernity and how Victorian writers like Charles Kingsley Samuel Butler and W H Hudson responded to the implications of evolutionary theory Page concludes with the scientific romances of H G Wells to demonstrate how evolutionary fantasies reached the pinnacle of synthesis between evolutionary science and the imagination at the close of the century A Literary History of
