From The House To The Streets The Cuban Womans Movement For Legal Reform 1898 194:

From the House to the Streets K. Lynn Stoner, 1991-04-30 If you want to find out what a rock critic a syndicated columnist and scholars of American literature have to say about one of America's most important contemporary novelists turn to Introducing Don DeLillo Placing the author's work in a cultural context this is the first book length collection on DeLillo adding considerably to the emerging critical discourse on his work Diversity is the key to this striking assemblage of cultural criticism edited by Frank Lentricchia Special features include an expanded version of the Rolling Stone interview with the author An Outsider in this Society Gendered Compromises Karin Alejandra Rosemblatt, 2003-06-19 With this book Karin Rosemblatt presents a gendered history of the politics and political compromise that emerged in Chile during the 1930s and 1940s when reformist popular front coalitions held power While other scholars have focused on the economic realignments and novel political pacts that characterized Chilean politics during this era Rosemblatt explores how gender helped shape Chile's evolving national identity Rosemblatt examines how and why the aims of feminists socialists labor activists social workers physicians and political leaders converged around a shared gender ideology Tracing the complex negotiations surrounding the implementation of new labor health and welfare policies she shows that professionals in health and welfare agencies sought to regulate gender and sexuality within the working class and to consolidate the male led nuclear family as the basis of societal stability Leftists collaborated in these efforts because they felt that strong family bonds would generate a sense of class belonging and help unify the Left while feminists perceived male familial responsibility as beneficial for women Diverse actors within civil society thus reworked the norms of masculinity and femininity developed by state agencies and political leaders even as others challenged those ideals Crossing Boundaries Brian D. Behnken, Simon Wendt, 2013-06-27 Crossing Boundaries Ethnicity Race and National Belonging in a Transnational World explores ethnic and racial nationalism within a transnational and transcultural framework in the long twentieth century late nineteenth to early twenty first century The contributors to this volume examine how national solidarity and identity with their vast array of ideological political intellectual social and ethno racial qualities crossed juridical territorial and cultural boundaries to become transnational how they altered the ethnic and racial visions of nation states throughout the twentieth century and how they ultimately influenced conceptions of national belonging across the globe Human beings live in an increasingly interconnected transnational global world National economies are linked worldwide information can be transmitted around the world in seconds and borders are more transparent and fluid In this process of transnational expansion the very definition of what constitutes a nation and nationalism in many parts of the world has been expanded to include individuals from different countries and more importantly members of ethno racial communities But crossing boundaries is not a new phenomenon In fact transnationalism has a long and sordid history that has not been fully appreciated Scholars and laypeople interested in national development ethnic nationalism as well as world history will find
