From Our Own Correspondent:

From Our Own Correspondent Polly Hope, 2020-06-11 For more than sixty five years on the air From Our Own Correspondent has been one of BBC Radio's flagship programmes It has taken listeners to parts of the world where they have never gone and perhaps never would war zones refugee camps elite universities space stations spy academies and lions dens of all sorts Its dispatches introduce audiences to people they might never expect to meet kingpins revolutionaries assassins and outcasts It has always relied on the power of personal testimony with its contributors not merely reporting the news but sharing what they found out along the way and how it felt Its correspondents often relate the unexpected the day they visited the town that is crazy about trout fishing attended a forty course Chinese banquet experienced zero gravity on a flight with Russian cosmonauts went mud wrestling in Turkey or ballroom dancing in Cameroon Themed by continent and region From Our Own Correspondent brings together the most compelling stories of the past ten years It is a perfect primer for the understanding of the modern world

From Our Own Correspondent Tony Grant, 2010-07-09 The flagship Radio 4 programme From Our Own Correspondent gives Britain's most celebrated reporters the chance to describe much more than they can in a normal report context history and characters encountered en route And for the fiftieth anniversary of the programme Profile collected together the programme's best pieces From Our Own Correspondent has been one of BBC Radio 4's flagship programmes for fifty years And this book containing dispatches from all around the world shows why FOOC as it is affectionately known has become such a well known and much loved institution It contains not only the observations of journalists covering the big news events of the day but also their personal insights into how people around the world live their lives There are dispatches from Misha Glenny in Russia Mark Tully in India Charles Wheeler in the USA Jeremy Vine in the Congo Ben Brown in Zimbabwe and Orla Guerin in the West Bank All offer a unique perspective describing the background to events around the world as they happen

The Best of From Our Own Correspondent British Broadcasting Corporation, 1994-12-31 From Our Own Correspondent is one of the most popular programmes on BBC Radio 4 and the World Service This fifth compilation is a round up of the events of 1993 as observed in radio despatches from around the world by BBC correspondents It ranges from powerful eye witness accounts of the events that made the news to some moving and very personal human interest stories and at times in the midst of even the most desperate situations unexpectedly comic moments The stories behind the South African elections the genocide in Rwanda the Arab Israeli Peace Accords and the Zapatista uprising in Mexico are all featured

The Best of from Our Own Correspondent George Spink, 1994-03-15 From Our Own Correspondent is one of the most popular programmes on BBC Radio 4 and the World Service This fifth compilation is a round up of the events of 1993 as observed in radio despatches from around the world by BBC correspondents It ranges from powerful eye witness accounts of the events that made the news to some moving and very personal human interest stories and at times in the midst of even the most desperate situations unexpectedly comic

Lincoln's Journalist Michael Burlingame, 2006-08-09 In the Civil War White House John Hay became the ultimate insider the man who had the president's ear Only an extremely small number of persons ever saw Abraham Lincoln both day and night in public as well as private settings from 1860 to 1864 notes Wayne C Temple chief deputy director Illinois State Archives And only one of them had the literary flair of John Milton Hay The most privileged of reporters Hay sent out dispatches and editorials that shed direct as well as indirect light on Lincoln With ample access to the president Hay was in a position to report his words and deeds as well as to offer opinions that may have reflected Lincoln's own views Indeed Burlingame suggests that Lincoln influenced Hay to write and place the articles in northern newspapers Burlingame takes great pains to establish authorship of the items reproduced here He convincingly demonstrates that the essays and letters written for the Providence Journal the Springfield Illinois State Journal and the St Louis Missouri Democrat under the pseudonym Ecarte are the work of Hay Additionally he finds much circumstantial and stylistic evidence that Hay wrote as our special correspondent for the Washington World and for the St Louis Missouri Republican Easily identifiable Hay's style was marked by long sentences baroque syntactical architecture immense vocabulary verbal pyrotechnics cocksure tone combining acid contempt and extravagant praise offbeat adverbs and scornful adjectives

Cities of the Mediterranean Meltem Toksoz, Biray Kolluoglu, 2014-08-25 The Eastern Mediterranean is one of the world's most vibrant and vital commercial centres and for centuries the region's cities and ports have been at the heart of East West trade Taking a full and comprehensive look at the region as a whole rather than isolating individual cities or distinct cultures Cities of the Mediterranean offers a fresh and original portrait of the entire region from the 16th century to the present In this ambitious interdisciplinary study the authors examine the relationships between the Eastern Mediterranean port cities and their hinterlands as well as inland and provincial cities from many different perspectives political economic international and ecological without prioritising either Ottoman Anatolia or the Ottoman Balkans or the Arab provinces in order to think of the Eastern Mediterranean world as a coherent whole Wide ranging in scope Cities of the Mediterranean explores diverse topics weaving together history sociology geography cartography politics and economics Early chapters examine the impact of the Little Ice Age the global economy's shift from the Mediterranean to Antwerp and Amsterdam early European perceptions of the Eastern Mediterranean 19th century harbour building practices and their impact on the cities and the connections between Alexandria Izmir and Thessalonica and their vast and diverse hinterlands The book also explores political radicalism in Turkey and elsewhere as well as the illegal trade networks that linked the Balkans and Adriatic with the Mediterranean and the introduction of new technologies that led to the faster transport of people goods and information Through its penetrating analysis of the various networks that connected the ports and towns of the Mediterranean and their inhabitants throughout the Ottoman period Cities of the Mediterranean presents the region as a unified and dynamic community and paves the way for a new understanding of the subject

The Crimean War William Howard Russell, 2009-05-01 Armed with only a telescope a watch and a notebook he retrieved from a dead soldier William Howard Russell spent twenty two months reporting from the trenches for the Times of London during the Crimean War A novice in a new field of journalism war reporting when he first set off for Crimea in 1854 the young Irishman returned home a veteran of three bloody battles having survived the siege of Sebastopol and watched a colleague die of cholera Russell's fine eye for detail electrified readers and his remarkably colorful and hugely significant accounts of battles provided those at home for the first time ever with a realistic picture of the brutality of war The Crimean War originally published in 1856 under the title The Complete History of the Russian War presents a selection of Russell's dispatches as well as those of other embedded reporters providing a ground eye view of the conflict as depicted in British newspapers Fought on the southern tip of the Crimea from 1853 to 1856 the Crimean War raged on far longer than either side expected largely because of mismanagement and disease more soldiers died from cholera typhus typhoid dysentery and scurvy than battle wounds Russell's biting criticisms of incompetent military authorities and an antiquated military system contributed to the collapse of the contemporary ruling party in Britain In his reports Russell wrote extensively about inept medical care for the wounded which he termed human barbarity Thanks to compelling accounts by Russell and others authorities allowed Florence Nightingale to enter the war zone and nurse troops back to health The Crimean War contains reports from military men who acted as part time reporters articles by professional journalists and letters from others at the front that newspapers back home later published Rapidly pulled together by American publisher John G Wells the volume presents a fascinating contemporary analysis of the war by those on the ground This reissue offers a new introduction by Angela Michelli Fleming and John Maxwell Hamilton that places these reports in context and highlights the critical role they played during a pivotal point in European history The first first hand accounts of the realities of war these dispatches set the tone for future independent war reporting

1923 Mark William Jones, 2023-08-29 How Germany's fledgling democracy nearly collapsed in 1923 and how pro democracy forces fought back In 1923 the Weimar Republic faced a series of crises including foreign occupation of its industrial heartland rampant inflation radical violence and finally Hitler's infamous beer hall putsch Fanning the flames of anti government and anti Semitic sentiment the Nazis tried to violently seize power in Munich only failing after they were abandoned by like minded conservatives In 1923 historian Mark William Jones draws on new research to offer a revealing portrait of German politics and society in this turbulent year Tracing Hitler's early rise Jones reveals how political pragmatism and unprecedented international cooperation with the West brought Germany out of its crisis year Although Germany would succumb to tyranny a decade later the story of the republic's survival in 1923 offers essential lessons to anyone concerned about the future of democracy today

The Gang Frederic Milton Thrasher, 2013-03-27 While gangs and gang culture have been around for countless centuries The Gang is one of the first academic studies of the phenomenon

Originally published in 1927 Frederic Milton Thrasher's magnum opus offers a profound and careful analysis of hundreds of gangs in Chicago in the early part of the twentieth century. With rich prose and an eye for detail Thrasher looked specifically at the way in which urban geography shaped gangs and posited the thesis that neighborhoods in flux were more likely to produce gangs. Moreover, he traced gang culture back to feudal and medieval power systems and linked tribal ethos in other societies to codes of honor and glory found in American gangs. Thrasher approaches his subject with empathy and insightfulness and creates a multifaceted and textured portrait that still has much to offer to readers today. With handsome images that evoke the era, this unabridged edition of The Gang not only explores an important moment in the history of Chicago but also is itself a landmark in the history of sociology and subcultural theory.

Chasing Tales Corinne Fowler, 2007-01-01 Chasing Tales is the first exclusive study of journalism travel writing and the history of British ideas about Afghanistan. It offers a timely investigation of the notional Afghanistan's that have prevailed in the popular British imagination. Casting its net deep into the nineteenth century, the study investigates the country's mythologisation by scrutinising travel narratives, literary fiction, and British news media coverage of the recent conflict in Afghanistan. This highly topical book explores the legacy of nineteenth-century paranoias and prejudices to contemporary travellers and journalists and seeks to explain why Afghans continue to be depicted as medieval, murderous, warlike, and unruly. Its title Chasing Tales conveys the circulation and indeed the circularity of ideas commonly found in British travel writing and journalism. The tales component stresses the pivotal role played by fictionalised sources, especially the writing of Rudyard Kipling, in perpetuating traumatic nineteenth-century memories of Afghan-British encounter. The subject matter is compelling and its foci of interest profoundly relevant both to current political debates and to scholarly enquiry about the ethics of travel.

The Ethical Journalist Tony Harcup, 2007 As one of the main scriptwriters of the two internal BBC training sessions which were produced following the Hutton inquiry, I can heartily recommend this book. Peter Stewart, BBC Training Department. Packed with illustrations of journalistic heroism and skulduggery, this is an engaging and useful reference book and should become essential reading for serious students of journalism and for those who practise it. Times Higher Education Supplement. A must read for all journalists, be they reporters, editors, or bloggers. It is both a straightforward explanation of ethical dilemmas using real-life examples and a subtle commentary on the state of British journalism. British Journalism Review. This engaging and accessible book cannot fail to inspire those who want to be good journalists in every sense of the word. Journalism Practice. Everything that journalists do has ethical implications, and in this book Tony Harcup explores the range of issues likely to confront those studying journalism or training to become journalists. The starting point for this engaging and innovative book is that ethical journalism is good journalism. Building on the reflective and questioning approach of the author's acclaimed Journalism: Principles and Practice, this book discusses journalists' personal anecdotes alongside relevant critical studies by academics. Original interviews include Andrew Gilligan on his meeting with weapons expert Dr David Kelly.

and Ryan Parry on being an undercover reporter in Buckingham Palace Informed by new research and the author's own experience within mainstream and alternative journalism The Ethical Journalist addresses topics such as trust the public interest deception news values source relationships crime reporting regulation and the Hutton inquiry This exciting new title discusses ethics as fundamental rather than as a set of problems or an added extra and it should become essential reading for everyone interested in journalism
