Crosby,2006-03 Get Unstuck from Fundamentalism unravels the mystery behind the need to hold myths as literal truth and the need for certainty Written in and laced with engaging Italian stories it points beyond mere rejection of childhood upbringing to a deep spiritual shore that is there for all of us to find Children live in a literal world where myths and reality are blurred such as the existence of Santa Claus or the Tooth Fairy Many of those beliefs are unraveled by the time you become an adult but fundamentalism is that which remains locked into absolutism It is as if all the answers and purpose of the world come from outside of yourself and the stories if still held literally remain in charge of your thinking Most aren t even aware of this 30% of Americans hold fundamentalist beliefs but only 9% call themselves a fundamentalist Those who are unaware cannot realize that they live on the ends of strings that someone else pulls Others live in reaction against their childhood literal beliefs and therefore shut themselves off from further spiritual growth Journey to

Journey of the Blue Flame Jacob Sockness, My Journey through the Black Sacred Cosmos James Wilburn Jr.,2022-05-04 Growing up in the Jim Crow South surviving three fires degradation discrimination and marginalization while learning to thrive in a world that was not designed for African Americans could only happen due to one s journey through the Black Sacred Cosmos My Journey Through the Black Sacred Cosmos is a memoir that chronicles the life of one individual s experiences from adolescence until adulthood James s parents and school teachers taught him socially and academically how to take care of himself in a hostile world Yet once he left home for college he began to realize how difficult it would be to fit in a world outside of his Sacred Cosmos In order to survive he had to search out who he was as an African American Many things were excluded from his educational experience concerning his history and cultural identity and he was left questioning why he was hated so much for the color of his skin This caused him to delve deep within himself trying to understand what it really meant to be an African American as well as the deeper rarely discussed issues of race and racism Our education system is failing a large percentage of our children because it refuses to change its one size fits all curriculum Our teachers are certified to educate from a Eurocentric perspective instead of approaching our children with a diversity equity and inclusion lens Like James many of African American children have experienced complex trauma and adverse childhood experiences ACEs which often hinders their ability to succeed in schools with teachers who focus solely on academic content without consideration of the overall needs of their students Our teachers counselors and administrators must be able to identify children with ACEs and understand how to adapt their teaching style to address the social emotional learning needs of children starting with early childhood education and continuing throughout their academic career James was protected and educated in his Black Sacred Cosmos and it was only after he learned to know and love himself that he could better understand and love others Our children today cannot wait as long as he did because the world is much different now It is hoped that this book clarifies some complex issues children often face by peering into the window of what James had to endure and the importance of how the unseen hands within the Black Sacred Cosmos guided him through life James Wilburn is currently the co founder of Wilburn and Associates LLC a consulting business that provides diversity training intervention and cultural awareness programs He and his wife Dr Roberta Wilburn have a wealth of knowledge and experience that enable them to effectively provide diversity training and consultation to organizations such as the City of Spokane the Washington Community Forestry Council and the North Wall School and others If you are in need of a
