From Prison Camp To Caviar:

From Prison Camp to Caviar Margaret K. Smith, 1988 Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time. General questions of the literary as e.g. the relation between literature and reality, truth and fiction, the dependency of author, narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc. can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre. Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms. Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles, autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance. By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs, diaries, self-portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre, this three-volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches, systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective. While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition, special emphasis is placed on the modes of self-representation in non-Western cultures and on inter- and transcultural perspectives of the genre. The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross-references. The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies, students as well as non-academic readers.

Between Prison and Freedom Alexander Podrabinek, 2025-08-01 This thrilling memoir documents the early life of Russian journalist and human rights activist Alexander Podrabinek as he and other dissidents fearlessly fought against the Soviet Union. Between Prison and Freedom chronicles Alexander Podrabinek's deeply personal recollections of his early life fearlessly opposing the injustices of the Soviet Union. He vividly describes his turbulent journey from silently protesting at Pushkin Square as a teenager to his exile in a brutal prison camp for publishing Punitive Medicine. Between Prison and Freedom is a powerful tribute to the Russian dissidents desperately loyal to their country and to each other as they fought for freedom and justice all while cunningly evading the KGB's nearly successful efforts to break or kill them. Through his personal experiences, the dissident reality unfolds as an onslaught of surveillance and false accusations, corrective labor camps and exile, and a consistent disregard for basic human freedoms. In this captivating story about standing against tyranny, Podrabinek captures the spirit of the dissident movement, the painful intersections between personal and political in a dissident's life, and the solidarity that kept the resistance moving forward.

Eleven Years In Soviet Prison Camps Elinor Lipper, 2015-11-06 The shocking and absorbing account of life in the hell of the Soviet Gulag system is told in all its horrific details here by Elinor Lipper. IN THIS BOOK I have described my personal experiences only to the extent that they were the characteristic experiences of a prisoner in the Soviet Union. For my concern is not primarily with the foreigners in Soviet camps; it is rather with the fate of all the peoples who have been subjugated by the Soviet regime who were born in a Soviet Republic and cannot escape from it. The events I describe are the daily experiences of thousands of people in the Soviet Union. They are the findings of an involuntary expedition into an unknown land the land of Soviet prisoners of the guiltless damned From that region I have brought back with me the silence of the Siberian graveyards the deathly silence of those who have frozen starved or been beaten to death This book is an attempt to make that silence speak from the Author s Preface publication in the West of The Gulag Archipelago Solzhenitsyn moved to Zurich Switzerland for a time and was considered the most famous man in the world hounded by journalists and reporters During this period he found himself untethered and unable to work while he tried to acclimate to his new surroundings Between Two Millstones contains vivid descriptions of Solzhenitsyn's journeys to various European countries and North American locales where he and his wife Natalia Alya searched for a location to settle their young family There are fascinating descriptions of one on one meetings with prominent individuals detailed accounts of public speeches such as the 1978 Harvard University commencement comments on his television appearances accounts of his struggles with unscrupulous publishers and agents who mishandled the Western editions of his books and the KGB disinformation efforts to besmirch his name There are also passages on Solzhenitsyn's family and their property in Cavendish Vermont whose forested hillsides and harsh winters evoked his Russian homeland and where he could finally work undisturbed on his ten volume dramatized history of the Russian Revolution The Red Wheel Stories include the efforts made to assure a proper education for the writer's three sons their desire to return one day to their home in Russia and descriptions of his extraordinary wife editor literary advisor and director of the Russian Social Fund Alya who successfully arranged at great peril to herself and to her family to smuggle Solzhenitsyn's invaluable archive out of the Soviet Union Between Two Millstones is a literary event of the first magnitude The book dramatically reflects the pain of Solzhenitsyn's separation from his Russian homeland and the chasm of miscomprehension between him and Western society Concentration Camps Alan Kramer, 2025-03-26 A global and comprehensive history of a modern institution of inhumanity In popular perception concentration camps are synonymous with genocide and Nazi racial extermination Yet concentration camps were and are a global phenomenon not restricted to Nazi Germany used at times even by democracies with an astonishing range of functions Drawing together a wide range of multi lingual archival research and synthesising a broad secondary literature Alan Kramer provides here a comprehensive history of concentration camps charting their first establishment at the beginning of the twentieth century on the colonial periphery through their most extreme and inhuman instances in the mid twentieth century to their continued use today Concentration camps are shown to be a truly transnational phenomenon that emerged both simultaneously within and between imperial spheres Britain Spain the USA and Germany around 1900 and diachronically from then to the First World War the Gulag and Nazi camps Such camps existed and exist under a variety of regimes often concomitant with empire building by revolutionary dictatorships as sites of genocide mass murder and performative violence but also as central elements of utopian schemes of social and racial transformation Integrating the perspective of perpetrators and the victims and contextualising them within the historiography of other carceral institutions the book will reshape the way we think about concentration camps as part of modern civilization past and present AB Bookman's Weekly ,1994 Publishers Directory ,1994 Some Like It Wilder Gene D.
