From Self Help Housing To Sustainable:

From Self-help Housing to Sustainable Settlement John Tait, 1997 A comprehensive discussion of the self help housing debate and in the light of recent development theory a review of the perspectives of urban informal production within the globalization of capitalism It analyses the problems of achieving sustainable solutions in housing projects the inappropriateness of many planning approaches and the lack of political interest to integrate informal settlement in urban development Housing the Poor on the African Continent Mfundo Mandla Masuku, Oliver Mtapuri, Primrose Thandekile Sabela, Nomusa M. Mlondo, 2022-10-13 This book explores the circumstances surrounding state provided low cost housing for people at the lower end of the housing market in Africa It deploys Ubuntu philosophy to unpack the provision of housing security to citizens arguing that interpreting housing rights within Ubuntu philosophy recognises the spirit of reciprocity and collective solidarity as fundamental to meeting the housing needs of low income groups In essence the volume reflects on the values of Ubuntu and informs both policy and practice by guiding policymakers researchers and practitioners with the episteme of basic human rights and the Ubuntu philosophy It pointedly grapples with issues that resonate with efforts by African governments to protect vulnerable citizens from multidimensional poverty homelessness gender neutral policies and self help housing schemes The book's insights raise red flags concerning the realisation of Ubuntu as a vehicle earmarked to deliver adequate and sustainable housing delivery outcomes The volume is a must read for academics researchers practitioners government officials and leaders from various sectors

From the City to the Desert Raffael Beier, 2019-08-23 In recent years large scale housing and resettlement projects have experienced a renaissance in many developing countries and are increasingly shaping new urban peripheries One prominent example is Morocco's Villes Sans Bidonville cities without shantytowns programme that aims at eradicating all shantytowns in Morocco by resettling its population to apartment blocks at the urban peripheries Analysing the specific resettlement project of Karyan Central a 90 year old shantytown in Casablanca this book sheds light on both process and outcome of resettlement from the perspective of affected people It draws on rich empirical data from a structure household survey n 871 qualitative interviews with different stakeholder document analysis and non participant observation gathered during four months of field research The author emphasises that the VSB programme although formally part of anti poverty and urban inclusion policies puts primary focus on the clearance of the shantytown Largely based on ill informed policy assumptions stigmatisation rent seeking and opaque implementation practices the VSB programme interpreted adequate housing in a narrow sense By showing how social interactions employment patterns and access to urban functions have changed because of resettlement the book provides sound empirical evidence that housing means more than four walls and a roof

New Urban Configurations R. Cavallo, S. Komossa, N. Marzot, 2014-04-25 Urban areas have been caught up in a turbulent process of transformation over the past 50 years and changes have been rapid with issues such as mobility nature water management energy use and public space featuring prominently

In each Olympic year since 1988 the Faculty of Architecture at Delft University of Technology has held an international conference focusing on the connection between research and design exploring the field of tension between science technology and art

This book presents the proceedings of the latest in this series of conferences New Urban Configurations held in Delft the Netherlands in October 2012 in collaboration with the European Association for Architectural Education EAAE and the International Seminar on Urban Form ISUF This edition of the conference discussed the role and critical potential of the architectural project in the transformation process of cities and territories that leads to new urban configurations

The publication contains all 140 accepted papers and a selection of the keynote lectures presented at the conference The papers have been grouped into five main themes innovation in building typology infrastructure and the city complex urban projects green spaces and delta urbanism Four of these major topics are further divided into several subtopics

Life Takes Place David Seamon, 2018-04-19 Life Takes Place argues that even in our mobile hypermodern world human life is impossible without place Seamon asks the question why does life take place He draws on examples of specific places and place experiences to understand place more broadly Advocating for a holistic way of understanding that he calls synergistic relationality Seamon defines places as spatial fields that gather activate sustain identify and interconnect things human beings experiences meanings and events Throughout his phenomenological explication Seamon recognizes that places are multivalent in their constitution and sophisticated in their dynamics Drawing on British philosopher J G Bennett s method of progressive approximation he considers place and place experience in terms of their holistic dialectical and processual dimensions Recognizing that places always change over time Seamon examines their processual dimension by identifying six generative processes that he labels interaction identity release realization intensification and creation Drawing on practical examples from architecture planning and urban design he argues that an understanding of these six place processes might contribute to a more rigorous place making that produces robust places and propels vibrant environmental experiences This book is a significant contribution to the growing research literature in place and place making studies

Mixed-Income Housing Development Planning Strategies and Frameworks in the Global South George Okechukwu Onatu, Wellington Didibhuku Thwala, Clinton Ohis Aigbavboa, 2023-12-14 Functioning as a toolkit for inclusive urban planning this book acts as both a model for understanding the planning and management of this framework and a foundation for future research Lost Informal Housing in Istanbul F. Yurdanur Dulgeroglu-Yuksel, 2022-11-14 The dynamics of globalization brought a radical change in megacities and tensions between the stakeholders and dwellers against top down urban renewal policies This unique book provides a worldview of multi stakeholders in the urban housing market With a longitudinal research approach it paves the way for interdisciplinary researchers to critically assess the urban renewal projects and update such studies The urban renewal processes are implemented without participation and the book highlights field based information for policymakers The reader will find with the information provided from the field why participation is necessary for a sustainable urban development why there are different types of urbanizations and how it works under different conditions Better understanding of the challenges of urban renewal processes in the world cities is intended with the focus on the changing informal settlements Istanbul is a megacity housing more than half of its dwellers in informal settlements After many decades of self upgrading and silently communicating with the local authorities the informal sector had become adapted and maintained its living spaces Unexpectedly the end of the first decade of the 21st century marked a radical urban land valuation and international investments Top down interventions started with naming Istanbul the 2010 European Capital of Culture Then came the Law of Urban Transformation which meant the fast decline of squatter housing and the speedy loss of its cultural value of the mahalle spirit place identity The book will raise curiosity on why the time has come to change the perspectives about the informal urban sector The Political Economy of Government Subsidised Housing in South Africa Sithembiso Lindelihle Myeni, Andrew Okem, 2019-08-15 This book unpacks the political economy of government subsidised housing programmes in South Africa Exploring government policy towards subsidised housing in South Africa this edited collection analyses various programmes their shortcomings and potential options to address these weaknesses in the context of a country suffering from an exponential demand for housing in the face of insufficient supply The Political Economy of Government Subsidised Housing in South Africa looks at the complex and contested nature of the issue in post apartheid South Africa stimulating debate and knowledge sharing on housing programmes proffering solutions to the issue The book explores the issue from both practical and intellectual standpoints exploring the relationship between historical institutional legacies and contemporary power structures and their role in provision of housing for the growing population of South Africa This book will be of great interest to students of urban and regional planning political economy development studies and African studies Resource Sustainability and Caribbean Development Duncan F. M. McGregor, David Barker, Sally Lloyd-Evans, 1998 Resource Sustainability and Caribbean Development follows on from Barker and McGregor's earlier edited volume Environment and Development in the Caribbean Geographical Perspectives 1995 and aims to focus more specifically on the theme of sustainability and to examine research contributions of geographers to problems of sustainability in the Caribbean region While the problems of environmental degradation have increased in recent decades the ability of Caribbean governments to cope with the consequences appears to have been eroded There is however a growing recognition within the region of the need for development strategies that focus on the social needs of the people yet simultaneously protect the fragile natural environment It is hoped that the research presented here will serve to inform the wider research and decision making community of the main problems associated with resource sustainability in the region and of some of the major research directions crucial to the alleviation of these problems Preface
