Boon, 1972 From Symbolism to Structuralism, Levi-Strauss in Literary Tradition [By] James A. Boon James A. Boon, 1972 Claude Lévi-Strauss and the Making of Structural Anthropology Marcel Hénaff, 1998 As anthropology continues to transform itself this book affords a broad and balanced account of the remarkable accomplishments of one of the great intellectual innovators of the 20th century It presents an authoritative and accessible analysis of Claude Lévi Strauss's research in anthropological theory and practice as well as his contributions to debates surrounding linguistics epistemology ethics and aesthetics Modernist Anthropology Marc Manganaro, 2014-07-14 Recent insights into the nature of representation and power relations have signaled an important shift in perspective on anthropology from a fieldwork based science of culture to an interpretive activity bound to the discursive and ideological process called text making This collection of essays reflects the ongoing cross fertilization between literary criticism and anthropology Focusing on texts written or influenced by anthropologists between 1900 and 1945 the work relates current perspectives on anthropology's discursive nature to the literary period known as Modernism The essays each demonstrating anthropology's profound influence on this important cultural movement are organized according to discourse type from the comparativist text of Frazer to the ethnographies of Boas Benedict Mead and Hurston and on to the surrealist experiments of the College de Sociologie Meanwhile the book's orientation shifts from essays that approach anthropology from the vantage points of literariness and textual power to those that contemplate what bearing the junction of cultural theory and anthropology can have upon present and future social institutions In addition to the editor contributors include Vincent Crapanzano Deborah Gordon Richard Handler Arnold Krupat Francesco Loriggio Michele Richman Marty Roth Marilyn Strathern Robert Sullivan John B Vickery and Steven Webster Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Claude Lévi-Strauss Edmund Leach, 1989-10-15 In this lucid guide to the often abstruse works of Claude Lévi Strauss Edmund Leach synthesizes the thought of one of the twentieth century's greatest anthropologists and provides a thoughtful introduction to the theory and practice of structuralism Leach organizes his work not by chronology but by theme exploring three important topics in Lévi Strauss's work human beings and their symbols the structure of myth and kinship theory Written concisely and with great care and penetration this brief book is both a fine introduction for the uninitiated reader of Lévi Strauss and a critical analysis that will prove valuable to those more familiar

Beyond Aesthetics Christopher Pinney, Nicholas Thomas, 2020-05-25 The anthropology of art is currently at a crossroads. Although well versed in the meaning of art in small scale tribal societies anthropologists are still wrestling with the question of how to interpret art in a complex post colonial environment. Alfred Gell recently confronted this problem in his posthumous book Art and Agency. The central thesis of his study was that art objects could be seen not as bearers of meaning or aesthetic value but as forms mediating social action. At a stroke Gell provocatively dismissed many longstanding but tired questions of definition and issues of aesthetic value. His book proposed a novel perspective on the roles of art in political practice and made fresh links between analyses of style, tradition and society. Offering a new overview of the anthropology of art, this book begins where Gell left off. Presenting wide ranging critiques of the limits of aesthetic interpretation, the workings of objects in practice, the relations between meaning and efficacy and the politics of postcolonial art, its distinguished contributors both elaborate on and dissent from the controversies of Gell's important text. Subjects covered include music and the internet as well as ethnographic traditions and contemporary indigenous art. Geographically its case studies range from India to Oceania to North America and Europe.

The Trickster and the Paranormal George P. Hansen, 2001-08-20 Paranormal and supernatural events have been reported for millennia. They have fostered history's most important cultural transformations e.g. via the miracles of Moses, Jesus, Mohammed. Paranormal phenomena are frequently portrayed in the world's greatest art and literature as well as in popular TV shows and movies. Most adults in the U.S. believe in them. Yet they have a marginal place in modern culture. No university departments are devoted to studying psychic phenomena. In fact a panoply of scientists now aggressively denounces them. These facts present a deeply puzzling situation. But they become coherent after pondering the trickster figure, an archaic being found worldwide in mythology and folklore. The trickster governs paradox and the irrational but his messages are concealed. This book draws upon theories of the trickster from anthropology, folklore, sociology, semiotics and literary criticism. It examines psychic phenomena and UFOs and explains why they are so problematical for science.

1848 — A European Revolution? A. Körner, 2000-02-17 This book is among the rare contributions to the 150th anniversary of 1848 which takes a completely new theoretically informed approach. Instead of a traditional social or political history, the authors analyse the dichotomy between the international dimension in the ideas of the revolution and the nationalisation of memories in its commemorations over the past 150 years. The book offers original research on the history of European ideas and takes part in the current debate about the relationship between history and memory.
