Cultural Anthropology John H. Bodley, 2011-04-16 This introductory text introduces basic concepts in cultural anthropology by comparing cultures of increasing scale and focusing on specific universal issues throughout human history Cultural materials are presented in integrated ethnographic case studies organized by cultural and geographic areas to show how ideological social organization and material features fit together in specific sociocultural systems John H Bodley explicitly seeks a balance between ecological materialist and cultural ideological explanations of sociocultural systems while stressing the importance of individual power seeking and human agency Part One examines domestic scale autonomous tribal cultures Part Two presents politically organized class based civilizations and ancient empires in the imperial world Part Three surveys global industrial market based civilizations in the contemporary commercial world Cultural Anthropology uniquely challenges students to consider the big questions about the nature of cultural systems Indigenous Biography and Autobiography Peter Read, Frances Peters-Little, Anna Haebich, 2008-12-01 In this absorbing collection of papers Aboriginal Maori Dalit and western scholars discuss and analyse the difficulties they have faced in writing Indigenous biographies and autobiographies The issues range from balancing the demands of western and non western scholarship through writing about a family that refuses to acknowledge its identity to considering a community demand not to write anything at all The collection also presents some state of the art issues in teaching Indigenous Studies based on auto biography in Austria Spain and Italy Corridors to Extinction and the Australian Megafauna Steve Webb, 2013-02-27

Extinctions have always occurred and always will so what is so surprising about the megafauna extinctions They were caused by humans and were the first of many extinctions that eventually led to the extinction of the Moa Steller s Sea Cow the Dodo Great Auk and countless other species great and small all attributed to human agency Therefore the megafauna were humans first great impact on the planet There is now an increasing realization that the blitzkrieg view of these extinctions may have been wrong A growing body of evidence and long term field work is beginning to show that at least Australia s megafauna did not succumb to human agency not because humans probably did not hunt the odd animal but because the an infinitely more logical reason lies in the climatic conditions of the Quaternary Ice Ages and the affect they had on continental geography environment climate and most importantly the biogeography of the megafauna This book presents the evidence of this theory demonstrating the biogeographic approach to Australia s megafauna extinction Written clearly to benefit a diverse level of readers from those with a passing interest to professionals in the field Examines future climate change and its effects on the planet by looking at examples buried in the past Presents new evidence from extensive field research

Opera Indigene: Re/presenting First Nations and Indigenous Cultures Pamela Karantonis,Dylan Robinson,2016-05-13 The representation of non Western cultures in opera has long been a focus of critical inquiry Within this field the diverse relationships between opera and First Nations and Indigenous cultures however have received far less attention Opera Indigene takes this subject as its focus addressing the changing historical depictions of Indigenous cultures in opera and the more contemporary practices of Indigenous and First Nations artists The use of re presenting in the title signals an important distinction between how representations of Indigenous identity have been constructed in operatic history and how

Indigenous artists have more recently utilized opera as an interface to present and develop their cultural practices This volume explores how operas on Indigenous subjects reflect the evolving relationships between Indigenous peoples the colonizing forces of imperial power and forms of internal colonization in developing nation states Drawing upon postcolonial theory ethnomusicology cultural geography and critical discourses on nationalism and multiculturalism the collection brings together experts on opera and music in Canada the Americas and Australia in a stimulating comparative study of operatic representation Indigenous Engineering for an Enduring Culture Cat Kutay,Elysebeth Leigh,Juliana Kaya Prpic,Lyndon Ormond-Parker,2022-09-28 For many millennia Indigenous Australians have been engineering the landscape using sophisticated technological and philosophical knowledge systems in a deliberate response to changing social and environmental circumstances These knowledge systems integrate profound understanding of country and bring together knowledge of the topography and geology of the landscape its natural cycles and ecological systems its hydrological systems and natural resources including fauna and flora This enables people to manage resources sustainably and reliably and testifies to a developed contextualised knowledge system and to a society with agency and the capability to maintain and refine accumulated knowledge and material processes This book is a recognition and acknowledgement of the ingenuity of Indigenous engineering which is grounded in philosophical principles values and practices that emphasise sustainability reciprocity respect and diversity and often presents a much needed challenge to a Western engineering worldview Each chapter is written by a team of authors combining Indigenous knowledge skills and academic expertise providing examples of collaboration at the intersection of Western and Indigenous engineering principles sharing old and new knowledges and skills These varied approaches demonstrate ways to integrate Indigenous knowledges into the curricula for Australian engineering degrees in line with the Australian Council of Engineering Deans Position Statement on Embedding Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander perspectives into the engineering curriculum first published in 2017 The Palgrave
