Books in Print Supplement ,2002 Serials in the British Library ,2006 Spatial Cognition IV, Reasoning, Action, Interaction Christian Freksa,Markus Knauff,Bernd Krieg-Brückner,Bernhard Nebel,Thomas Barkowsky,2005-02-22 This is the fourth volume in a series of books dedicated to basic research in spatial cognition Spatial cognition is a field that investigates the connection between the physical spatial world and the mental world Philosophers and researchers have proposed various views concerning the relation between the physical and the mental worlds Plato considered pure concepts of thought as separate from their physical manifestations while Aristotle considered the physical and the mental realms as two aspects of the same substance Descartes a dualist discussed the interaction between body and soul through an interface organ and thus introduced a functional view that presented a challenge for the natural sciences and the humanities In modern psychology the relation between the physical and the cognitive space has been investigated using thorough experiments and in artificial intelligence we have seen views as diverse as problems can be solved on a representation of the world and a representation of the world is not necessary Today's spatial cognition work establishes a correspondence between the mental and the physical worlds by studying and exploiting their interaction it investigates how mental space and spatial reality join together in understanding the world and in interacting with it The physical and representational aspects are equally important in this work Almost all topics of cognitive science manifest themselves in spatial cognition
