Frontier Development And Indigenous Peoples Progress In Planning S:

Frontier Development and Indigenous Peoples Tovi Fenster, Oren Yiftachel, 1997 Ethics and Planning Research Francesco Lo Piccolo, 2016-05-13 The consideration of ethics in social research has gained increasing prominence in the past few years particularly research which seeks to inform public policy This important and unique book provides a thorough examination of the issues relating to research ethics in planning for an international audience The authors examine alternative frameworks within which ethical action can be discussed and critically describe the key institutional arrangements surrounding the management of ethical behaviour in research Also included are highly relevant accounts of ethical challenges faced in planning research Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning 6 Christopher Silver, Robert Freestone, Christophe Demaziere, 2017-08-24 The Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning series offers a selection of some of the best scholarship in urban and regional planning from around the world The internationally recognized authors of these award winning papers take up a range of salient issues from the theory and practice of planning This 6th volume incorporates essays that explore the salient issue commonly referred to as The Right to the City This theme speaks to a growing new movement within planning theory and practice with multiple aims and strategies but with the common objective of advancing a more just and equitable world The right to the city functions as a manifesto advancing academic explorations of the opportunities for and barriers to expanding human and environmental justice At the same time it extends beyond academic inquiry to engage directly with the policy legal and political dimensions of human rights The right to the city has been invoked by global bodies such as United Nations Habitat and the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization to bolster not only their agendas around fundamental human rights but advance urban policies promoting inclusion sustainability and resilience Dialogues 6 offers engaging explorations into the academic expeditions by the global planning community that have helped to energize this movement The papers assembled here through processes of peer review represent an invaluable collection to untangle the complexities of this dynamic new approach to urban and regional planning The Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning DURP series is published in association with the Global Planning Education Association Network GPEAN and its member national and transnational planning schools associations Socio Economic Development in Indigenous and Non-indigenous Systems in Brazil Herta Avalos Viegas, 2004 The rainforest zone in Brazil is under pressure through encroachment of farming and other sectors which lead to ecologically unbalanced development reducing the living potential of indigenous communities The Bananal Island wetland is located in the transition zone between the Amazon and Cerrado Savannah ecosystems The conflicting interest of the rural actors on using the natural resources lead to the demarcation of most of its territory as Indigenous Lands This book attempts to analyze the socio economic potentials of indigenous and non indigenous systems presented in the adjacent zone of Bananal Island along the Javae River Special emphasis is given to the relationship of the indigenous communities with smallholders expelled out of the island and large scale farm and ranch systems and how this relationship may affect the living standard of the two less economically favorable groups The results show that for indigenous communities some of the actions of the government had improved a few components of their living standard raising them up to the level of smallholders and the fishermen found in the region The smallholders were allocated in settlements The poor infrastructure of the settlement studied and the absence of financial incentives for agricultural activities push these smallholders to establish small enterprises in order to guarantee their living standard The large scale farms and ranches are mainly market oriented and are dependent mostly on the national economic fluctuation They are high dependent of external labour to run their production activities There is a concern about the scarcity of specialized technical labour in the region The training of the smallholders could fill this gap and avoid future encroachments into Bananal Island as occurred in the past Unlearning the Colonial Cultures of Planning Libby

Porter,2016-02-24 Colonialization has never failed to provoke discussion and debate over its territorial economic and political projects and their ongoing consequences This work argues that the state based activity of planning was integral to these projects in conceptualizing shaping and managing place in settler societies Planning was used to appropriate and then produce territory for management by the state and in doing so became central to the colonial invasion of settler states Moreover the book demonstrates how the colonial roots of planning endure in complex post colonial societies and how such roots manifest in everyday planning practice continue to shape land use contests between indigenous people and planning systems in contemporary post colonial states The Routledge Handbook of Australian Urban and Regional Planning Neil Sipe,Karen Vella,2017-08-25 Where is planning in twenty first century Australia What are the key challenges that confront planning What does planning scholarship reveal about the state of planning practice in meeting the needs of urban and regional Australians The Routledge Handbook of Australian Urban and Regional Planning includes 27 chapters that answer these and many other questions that confront planners working in urban and regional areas in twenty first century Australia It provides a single source for cutting edge thinking and research across a broad range of the most important topics in urban and regional planning Divided into six parts this handbook explores contexts of urban and regional planning in Australia critical debates in Australian planning planning policy climate change disaster risk and environmental management engaging and taking planning action planning education and research This handbook is a valuable resource for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students in urban planning built environment urban studies and public policy as well as academics and practitioners across Australia and internationally Land and Development in Indonesia John F

McCarthy,2017-03-09 Indonesia was founded on the ideal of the e Sovereignty of the People which suggests the pre eminence of people s rights to access use and control land to support their livelihoods Yet many questions remain unresolved How can the state ensure access to land for agriculture and housing while also supporting land acquisition for investment in industry and infrastructure What is to be done about indigenous rights Do registration and titling provide solutions Is the land reform agenda e legislated but never implementede still relevant How should the land questions affecting Indonesia s disappearing forests be resolved The contributors to this volume assess progress on these issues through case studies from across the archipelago from large scale land acquisitions in Papua to asset ownership in the villages of Sulawesi and Java to tenure conflicts associated with the oil palm and mining booms in Kalimantan Sulawesi and Sumatra What are the prospects for the e people s sovereignty in regard to land

Centuries old community planning practices in Indigenous communities in Canada the United States New Zealand and Australia have in modern times been eclipsed by ill suited western approaches mostly derived from colonial and neo colonial traditions Since planning outcomes have failed to reflect the rights and interests of Indigenous people attempts to reclaim planning have become a priority for many Indigenous nations throughout the world In Reclaiming Indigenous Planning scholars and practitioners connect the past and present to facilitate better planning for the future With examples from the Canadian Arctic to the Australian desert and the cities towns reserves and reservations in between contributors engage topics including Indigenous mobilization and resistance awareness raising and seven generations visioning Indigenous participation in community planning processes and forms of governance Relying on case studies and personal narratives these essays emphasize the critical need for Indigenous communities to reclaim control of the political socio cultural and economic agendas that shape their lives The first book to bring Indigenous and non Indigenous authors together across continents Reclaiming Indigenous Planning shows how urban and rural communities around the world are reformulating planning practices that incorporate traditional knowledge cultural identity and stewardship over land and resources Contributors include Robert Adkins Community and Economic Development Consultant USA Chris Andersen Alberta Giovanni Attili La Sapienza Aaron Aubin Dillon Consulting Shaun Awatere Landcare Research New Zealand Yale Belanger Lethbridge Keith Chaulk Memorial Stephen Cornell Arizona Sherrie Cross Macquarie Kim Doohan Native Title and Resource Claims Consultant Australia Kerri Jo Fortier Simpcw First Nation Bethany Haalboom Victoria University New Zealand Lisa Hardess Hardess Planning Inc Garth Harmsworth Landcare Research New Zealand Sharon Hausam Pueblo of Laguna Michael Hibbard Oregon Richard Howitt Macquarie Ted Jojola New Mexico Tanira Kingi AgResearch New Zealand Marcus Lane Griffith Rebecca Lawrence Umea Gaim Lunkapis Malaysia Sabah Laura Mannell Planning Consultant Canada Hirini Matunga Lincoln University New Zealand Deborah McGregor Toronto Oscar Montes de Oca AgResearch New Zealand Samantha Muller Flinders David Natcher Saskatchewan Frank Palermo Dalhousie Robert Patrick Saskatchewan Craig Pauling Te Runanga o Ngai Tahu Kurt Peters Oregon State Libby Porter Monash Andrea Procter Memorial Sarah Prout Combined Universities Centre for Rural Health Australia Catherine Robinson Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization Australia Shadrach Rolleston Planning Consultant New Zealand Leonie Sandercock British Columbia Crispin Smith Planning Consultant Canada Sandie Suchet Pearson Macquarie Siri Veland Brown Ryan Walker Saskatchewan

Strengthening primary health care to tackle racial discrimination, promote intercultural services and reduce health inequities World Health Organization, 2022-09-02 Extractivism and Labour in the Caribbean Dennis C. Canterbury, 2023-12-01 This book explores the impact of resource extraction and the dynamics of great powers competing for natural resources in the Caribbean The book analyzes labour capital relations between China the United States the European Union and Russia in the Caribbean as competition increases with the arrival of non traditional sources of foreign investments in infrastructure from the East Chapters assess these dynamics through varying historical and current forms of worker community and organization resistance in the Caribbean s extractive industries from the 1970s to the present In doing so the book critically analyzes the interplay of extractive capital with labour unions community organizations management and the state particularly regarding the struggle for higher wages improved working conditions and the broader issues of extractive capitalism and underdevelopment dispossession social exclusion and environmental degradation The first book on extractivism and labour in the Caribbean and a major contribution to critical development studies literature it will appeal to policymakers as well as students and scholars in the fields of development studies development economics sociology politics and international relations Resources and Sustainable Development in the Arctic Chris Southcott, Frances Abele, David Natcher, Brenda Parlee, 2018-10-04 Over the past thirty years we have witnessed a demand for resources such as minerals oil and gas which is only set to increase This book examines the relationship between Arctic communities and extractive resource development With insights from leading thinkers in the field the book examines this relationship to better understand what if anything can be done in order for the development of non renewable resources to be of benefit to the long term sustainability of these communities The contributions synthesize circumpolar research on the topic of resource extraction in the Arctic and highlight areas that need further investigation such as the ability of northern communities to properly use current regulatory processes fiscal arrangements and benefit agreements to ensure the long term sustainability of their culture communities and to avoid a new path dependency This book provides an insightful summary of issues surrounding resource extraction in the Arctic and will be essential reading for anyone interested in environmental impact assessments globalization and Indigenous communities and the future of the Arctic region State of the World, 1993 Lester Russell Brown, 1993 Democracy and Governance for Resourcing the Commons Janet McIntyre-Mills, Norma R. A. Romm, Yvonne Corcoran-Nantes, 2019-06-11 This book promotes the well being of the commons through representation and accountability through monitoring from below in order to operationalize engagement This book views the commons as a legal concept a transformative governance concept and a basis for systemic ethics The chapters focus on practical responses to address complex problems that comprise many interrelated variables and are perceived differently by stakeholders with different values and life experiences By considering these different stakeholders the goal is to highlight ways to regenerate and invigorate employment opportunities The book identifies pathways towards ethical vocational education to enable lifelong engagement by active citizens which requires action learning to address areas of perceived policy concern Throughout the chapters in this book the authors discuss transformative research and its implications on stakeholders They focus on re presentation and its implications for thinking and practice One author makes the case for fostering non anthropocentric approaches to ethical development In addition the chapters cover case studies including governance challenges associated with water management using a mixed method approach and also production of mushrooms in collaboration with coffee growers in Jakarta The book focuses on ways to de colonialise knowledge formation in public policy and makes the case for an alternative approach to governance and democracy that takes into account a range of local people s perspectives The Ashgate Research Companion to Modern Imperial Histories John Marriott, 2016-03-23 Written by leading scholars this collection provides a comprehensive and authoritative overview of modern empires Spanning the era of modern imperial history from the early sixteenth century to the present it challenges both the rather insular focuses on specific experiences and gives due attention to imperial formations outside the West including the Russian Japanese Mughal

Ottoman and Chinese The companion is divided into three broad sections Part I Times surveys the three main eras of modern imperialism The first was that dominated by the settlement impulse with migrants many voluntarily and many more by force making new lives in the colonies This impulse gave way most especially in the nineteenth century to a period of busy and rapid expansion which was less likely to promote new settlement and in which colonists more frequently saw their sojourn in colonial lands as temporary and related to the business mostly of governance and trade Lastly in the twentieth century in particular empires began to fail and to fall Part II Spaces studies the principal imperial formations of the modern world Each chapter charts the experience of a specific empire while at the same time placing it within the complex patterns of wider imperial constellations The individual chapters thus survey the broad dynamics of change within the empires themselves and their relationships with other imperial formations and reflect critically on the ways in which these topics have been approached in the literature In Part III Themes scholars think critically about some of the key features of imperial expansion and decline These chapters are brief and many are provocative They reflect the current state of the field and suggest new lines of inquiry which may follow from more comparative perspectives on empire The broad range of themes captures the vitality and diversity of contemporary scholarship on questions of empire and colonialism encompassing political economic and cultural processes central to the formation and maintenance of empires as well as institutions ideologies and social categories that shaped the lives both of those implementing and those experiencing the force of empire In these pages the reader will find the slave and the criminal the merchant and the maid the scientist and the artist alongside the structures which sustained their lives and their livelihoods Overall the companion emphasises the diversity of imperial experience and process Comprehensive in its scope it draws attention to the particularities of individual empires rather than over generalising as if all empires at all times and in all places behaved in a similar manner It is this contingent and historical specificity that enables us to explore in expansive ways precisely what constituted the modern empire Forthcoming Books
