From Pain To Violence Traumatic Roots Of Destructiveness:

From Pain to Violence Felicity de Zulueta, 2006-05-01 Violence is all around us yet despite its widespread prevalence we remain unclear about its causes In this book Felicity de Zulueta begins by defining violence as distinct from aggression and then attempts to trace its origins highlighting the polarization between those who believe mankind to be innately violent and those who see violence as the outcome of man's life experiences As a result of her investigations the author suggests that the current high level of violence may well be linked to the effects of childhood and adult trauma which appear to be far more widespread than has hitherto been acknowledged These findings are relevant to understanding why normal people can become violent in certain conditions This is a second edition and has been fully updated A new chapter on terrorism has been added

Aggression and Destructiveness Celia HARDING, 2006-09-27 Why when and how does aggression go wrong How can we make sense of apparently meaningless destructiveness and violence Aggression is a part of human nature that energises our relationships acts as an impetus for psychic development and enables us to master our world More often we focus on its more destructive aspects such as the violence individuals inflict on themselves or others and overlook the positive functions of aggression In Aggression and Destructiveness Celia Harding brings together contributions from experienced psychoanalysts and psychoanalytic psychotherapists to explore the roots of aggression and the clinical dilemmas it presents in psychotherapy Beginning with accounts of aggression and destructiveness from a range of developmental and theoretical perspectives the book provides useful insights into subjects including Bullying and abusive relationships Male and female violence and destructiveness Depressive perverse and psychotic states of mind Attacks on therapeutic treatment This book makes a valuable contribution to the attempt to make sense of human aggression destructiveness and violence perpetrated against the self others and reality It will be of great interest to trainee and qualified psychodynamic counsellors psychoanalytic psychotherapists and psychoanalysts

The Significance of High Value in Human Behaviour Chris Steed, 2019-03-01 The Significance of High Value in Human Behaviour is an innovative conceptualisation of how the quest for a high self worth works as a psychosocial dynamic presenting the idea that feelings of impotence and low self esteem induce a powerful impetus on negative human action This book gives an account of what it means to base a whole psychological perspective on high value which has been an understudied aspect of human action Employing an ethnographical approach the book uses client observations and social research to promote original solutions in an empathetic and engaging manner for psychological support services aiding isolated individuals It considers the concept of a valuable self and examines the negative effects within the personality which can be generated when this drive for a valuable self is blocked through human devaluation or violence The Significance of High Value in Human Behaviour will appeal to academics and post graduate students in the fields of psychology and psychotherapy psychotherapists with specialist interests in loneliness and self worth and sociologists concerned with the psychology of the self

Therapeutic Care for Refugees Renos K. Papadopoulos, 2018-03-08 This volume addresses the complexities involved in attending to the mental health of refugees It covers theory and research as well as clinical and field applications emphasising the psychotherapeutic perspective It explores the delicate balance between accepting the resilience of refugees whilst not neglecting their psychological needs within a framework that avoids pathologising their condition Moreover it deals with the difficulties in delineating the various relevant intersecting perspectives to the refugee reality e g psychological socio political legal organisational and ethical The book introduces important considerations about the actual psychotherapy with refugees in individual family and group settings but in addition it encourages the introduction of therapeutic elements to all types of work with refugees Thus it argues for the necessity of approaching every facet of the refugee experience from a therapeutic perspective this is why the title refers to therapeutic care rather than to psychotherapy
