Lyell Earle, 1897      Picture Perception in Animals Joel Fagot, 2013-06-17 Animal researchers commonly present pictures to their subjects usually birds or monkeys in order to infer how natural objects are perceived and conceptualised or to discover the brain mechanisms underlying these abilities This unique book questions the premise of this experimental approach and asks whether or not pictures can be considered as ecologically valid and realistic stimuli for animals Leading researchers in comparative psychology and neuroscience address such questions as Can animals recognise objects of scenes in pictures despite variations in viewpoints How do animals perceive faces and Is there an equivalence in animals minds between pictures and the objects they represent The result is an authoritative and cutting edge survey of current knowledge in the field which underlines the advantages limits and risks of using pictures to infer cognitive abilities or brain mechanisms in animal studies Picture Perception in Animals will be essential reading for comparative psychologists anthropologists and neuroscientists working in picture perception

The Picture in Question Mark C. Taylor, 2010-01-15 A rich exploration of the possibilities of representation after Modernism Mark Taylor's new study charts the logic and continuity of Mark Tansey's painting by considering the philosophical ideas behind Tansey's art Taylor examines how Tansey uses structuralist and poststructuralist thought as well as catastrophe chaos and complexity theory to create paintings that please the eye while provoking the mind Taylor's clear accounts of thinkers ranging from Plato Kant and Hegel to Merleau Ponty Derrida and de Man will be an invaluable contribution to students and teachers of art

Picture Pedagogy Paul Duncum, 2020-05-14 Contemporary societies are saturated with pictures They are globally a part of everyday life and they are seductive offering values and beliefs in such highly pleasurable forms that it is often difficult to resist their power to persuade Yet interpreting pictures is largely neglected in schools Picture Pedagogy addresses this head on showing that pictures can be used as a powerful form of classroom pedagogy

Duncum explores key concepts and curriculum examples to empower you to support students to develop a critical consciousness about pictures whether teaching art media language or social studies Drawing on the interpretive concepts of representation rhetoric ideology aesthetic pleasure intertextuality and the gaze Duncum shows how you can develop your students skills so that their power as viewers can match the power of pictures to seduce Examples from the history of fine art and contemporary popular mass media including Big Data and fake news are drawn together and shown to be appealing to the same aesthetic pleasures Often these pleasures are benign but also problematic helping to promote morally questionable ideas about a range of topics including gender race and sexual orientation and this is explored fully Minimally Invasive
