From Poor Law To Community Care:

From Poor Law to community care Means, Robin, Smith, Randall, 1998-09-01 Recent community care changes have raised fundamental issues about the changing role of the public voluntary and informal sectors in the provision of social care to older people They have also raised issues about the health and social care interface the extent to which services should be rationed and the respective roles of residential care and care at home From Poor Law to community care sets these debates in the context of the historical growth of welfare services from the outbreak of the Second World War through to the establishment of social services departments in 1971 Based on extensive research on primary sources such as the Public Records Office and interviews with key actors the book considers the changing perceptions of the needs of elderly people the extent to which they have been a priority for resources and the possibilities for a policy which combines respect for elderly people with an avoidance of the exploitation of relatives This is an updated second edition of The development of welfare services for elderly people first published by Croom Helm 1985 It is essential reading for practitioners and policy makers interested in gerontology policy studies community care and postgraduate students studying and training in a range of health and social care related professions Direct Payments and Personal Budgets Ion Glasby, Rosemary Littlechild, 2016-01-13 In the context of the Care Act 2014 this third edition of the leading textbook on personalisation considers key policy changes since 2009 and new research into the extension and outcomes of personal budgets Direct payments and personal budgets have developed rapidly transforming the whole of adult social care In future all care will be delivered via a personal budget with direct payments as the default rather than the exception As the concepts have spread from adult social care to other sectors the changes have been controversial and difficult to implement Front line practitioners and people using services have struggled to make sense of these ways of working in a challenging financial and policy context This accessible textbook is essential reading for students practitioners and policy makers in social work and community care services Working with Older People John Harris, Denise Tanner, 2007-10-11 Working with older people has become an increasingly important part of social work education and practice Whether studying community care adult services human growth and development or social work processes and interventions this book will be a vital source of information and help Working with Older People provides a framework of knowledge skills and values pertinent to qualifying social work courses and the new post qualifying award in Social Work with Adults including discussion of ideas about human development and theories of older age legislation social policy and social welfare skills for working with older people assessment and care planning partnership working Written by two experienced educators and practitioners this key text facilitates individual or group learning through features such as objectives for each chapter case studies and further reading suggestions There are numerous activities throughout the book and the final chapter contains pointers to consider for all of the activities It will be essential reading for social work students and qualified social workers Transforming adult social care Ann Marie Gray, Derek Birrell, 2013-04-10 This textbook analyses the transforming structure for the delivery of adult social care including developments in the commissioning of adult social care in the devolved countries Towards a New Social Compact for Care in Old Age Janice Robinson, 2001 From Beveridge to Blair Margaret Jones, Rodney Lowe, 2002 This book is designed to inform and stimulate debate by providing a concise introduction to the evolution of both the structure of Britain's welfare state and attitudes towards it It then concentrates on five core services health care education social security the personal social services and housing For each it examines the original vision the attempts to implement this vision the resulting complexities and controversies and above all the impact on individual customers

Residential Care Transformed J. Johnson, S. Rolph, R. Smith, 2010-05-28 This book now in paperback revisits Peter Townsend's classic study of residential care for older people in Britain conducted in the late 1950s It provides not only a fascinating account of residential care for older people over the last 50 years but is also an important contribution to the literature on research methods The Voluntary Sector Jeremy Kendall, 2004-02-24 Serving as an introduction to the UK s voluntary sector this book builds on the foundations lain in an earlier book by Kendall and Dahrendorf Using a comparative approach to place the UK voluntary sector in perspective this book considers the scope scale structure and impact of the voluntary sector's activities on society Based on both qualitative and quantitative evidence this informative book includes statistical mapping of the sector as well as semi structured interviews conducted with voluntary sector policy actors A much needed addition to the current literature The Voluntary Sector provides a theoretical framework and in depth analysis of an Caring in Crisis Gillian Dalley, 2022-05-28 This book examines a familiar and contemporary increasingly important area social policy issue the crisis besetting social care but differs from usual accounts by including additional perspectives philosophical ethical and political not often raised but nonetheless crucial to understanding the issue Its central argument is that while a health care divide dates back to legislative separation at the inception of the welfare state in the 1940s the major cause of the current crisis has been the slow but insidious ideological and practical splitting off and fracturing of social care from other state welfare institutions notably the NHS and its consequent entrapment in the treacherous straits of profit and loss self interest and individualism These issues and others the book argues contribute to the building of a strong case for bringing social care into the public sector Towards the end the book goes on to consider the impact from 2020 of the Covid 19 pandemic on a caring crisis that was already well established The consequences of this global shock are still working through and are likely to be profound Solutions as the book describes which were already being formulated prior to the arrival of the pandemic are even more salient now The book will therefore be of interest to students and researchers of social policy and public policy health and social care professionals and policymakers and users of social care themselves
