Kraemer,2013-09-06 Reconnecting Reading and Writing explores the ways in which reading can and should have a strong role in the teaching of writing in college Reconnecting Reading and Writing draws on broad perspectives from history and international work to show how and why reading should be reunited with writing in college and high school classrooms It presents an overview of relevant research on reading and how it can best be used to support and enhance writing instruction     Reading Into Writing Eric Gould,1983     Writing from the Margins Carolyn Ericksen Hill,1990     From Inquiry to Academic Writing Stuart Greene,April Lidinsky,2011-07-06 Academic writing is a conversation a collaborative exchange of ideas to pursue new knowledge From Inquiry to Academic Writing A Text and Reader demystifies cross curricular thinking and writing by breaking it down into a series of comprehensible habits and skills that students can learn in order to join in The extensive thematic reader opens up thought provoking conversations being held throughout the academy and in the culture at large Read the preface     Reading Writing George Y. Trail,2001     Hearing Ourselves Think Ann M. Penrose,Barbara M. by which white privilege maintains and reproduces itself Ryden and Marshall consider topics ranging from the emotional investment in whiteness to the role of personal narrative in reconstituting racist identities to critiques of the foundational premises of writing programs steeped in repudiation of despised discourses Marshall and Ryden alternate chapters to sustain a multi layered dialogue that traces the rhetorical complexities and contradictions of teaching English and writing in a university setting Their lived experiences as faculty and administrators serve to underscore the complex code of whiteness even as they push to decode it and demonstrate how their own pedagogical practices are raced and racialized in multiple ways Collectively the essays ask instructors and administrators to consider more carefully the pernicious nature of whiteness in their professional activities and how it informs our practices
