From Summit To Sea An Illustrated History Of Railroads In B C And Alberta:

From Summit to Sea George H. Buck, 1999-09 This definitive history presents a well illustrated account of the construction and development of railroads in British Columbia and Alberta between 1880 and 1939 a time of tremendous growth and expansion of the railroads and populations of the two provinces The detailed text and fascinating archival photographs include remarkable stories of the places and personalities that have shaped the history of Canadian railroads and indeed Canada

From Summit to Sea George H. Buck, 1999-09-01 Breaking News Fred Thirkell, Bob Scullion, George Alfred Barrowclough, 2004 Winner of a City of Vancouver Heritage Award 2005 Before the First World War photographs of major news events were rarely seen in the daily newspapers the technology was still too new to make their use viable Filling the gap and providing the missing images were the postcard photographers who could make their breaking news photos available on the street the day after an event occurred George Alfred Barrowclough was one of those photographers Barrowclough had the eye of an artist and the nose of a newsman His images of Vancouver and the surrounding areas stand out over those of other postcard photographers of his day in that they are more people centred and action oriented capturing the lives and appearances of the people living in and around Vancouver in the decade before the Great War Drawing from postcards that Barrowclough produced between 1908 and 1912 award winning authors Fred Thirkell and Bob Scullion have selected images for Breaking News that showcase the photographer's focus on people and events In Vancouver in those years you looked to newspapers for words you looked to Barrowclough for news This is Fred Thirkell and Bob Scullion's sixth book in the postcard genre Several of their earlier books have also won City of Vancouver Heritage awards

The Canadian Historical Review , 1998 Canadian Books in Print , 2003 The Family Tree Guide Book Family Tree magazine, 2002 Everything you need to know to trace your genealogy across North America

Canadian Books in Print Marian Butler, 2000 Canadian Periodical Index , 2000 BC Studies , 1998 Quill & Quire , 1999 Subject Guide to Books in Print , 1991 Up-coast Richard Rajala, 2006 In Up Coast award winning author Richard A Rajala offers the first comprehensive history of the forest industry on British Columbia's central and north coast He integrates social political and environmental themes to depict the relationship of coastal people and communities to the forest from the late 19th century to the present The account begins with the emergence of a small scale industry tied to the needs of salmon canneries and early settlements and traces the development of a diverse structure involving sawmills tie and pole producers and hand loggers struggling to profit from participation in domestic and foreign markets But from the early 20th century on government policies favoured the interests of giant pulp and paper firms such as Pacific Mills at Ocean Falls A turn to sustained yield forestry after World War II promoted further concentration of ownership a pattern that saw Columbia Cellulose capture the Skeena and Nass watersheds to meet the fibre needs of its troubled Prince Rupert pulp enterprise At the same time postwar development drew the region into a role as hinterland log extraction site for southern plants fed by enormous Tree Farm Licenses Relating these themes to a tradition of activism against capitalist inequities Up Coast discusses First Nations union and community protests against corporate exploitation of labour and resources In addressing the modern era of land claims environmentalism and capital flight Rajala turns to the complex and unresolved struggle for a more equitable and sustainable human relationship with British Columbia s forests The National Cyclopædia of American Biography ,1921 Backpacker ,2007-09 Backpacker brings the outdoors straight to the reader s doorstep inspiring and enabling them to go more places and enjoy nature more often The authority on active adventure Backpacker is the world s first GPS enabled magazine and the only magazine whose editors personally test the hiking trails camping gear and survival tips they publish Backpacker s Editors Choice Awards an industry honor recognizing design feature and product innovation has become the gold standard against which all other outdoor industry awards are measured Iron Road West Derek Hayes,2018-11-17 British Columbia wouldn t exist without the railway the province was brought into the Canadian Confederation in 1871 in exchange for the promise of a transcontinental line to the West Coast It was the arrival of the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1886 that set off economic development in the province created the city of Vancouver and spurred others to build competing lines In Iron Road West Derek Hayes charts the development of the province through its railway lines using a wealth of photographs and other visuals to show how rails were laid through the wild terrain that characterized much of British Columbia As railways revolutionized the province they inevitably incited fierce competition and personal hatreds creating an exciting frontier like environment that Hayes describes in vivid detail The book also covers the emergence of the modern freight railway in British Columbia including fully automated and computerized trains An extensive section details our railway legacy including preserved railways locomotives and facilities that can still be visited today Prolifically illustrated Iron Road West will fascinate not only railway enthusiasts but anyone with an interest in the history of the province The Northern Alberta Railways British Railway Modellers of North America,Cecil J. (Cecil John) Swanson,Colin K. Hatcher,1998 The Spiral Tunnels and the Big Hill - An Illustrated Railway History Graeme Pole,2024-01-18 When the Canadian Pacific Railway CPR built through the Rockies in 1884 it laid track straight down the west slope of Kicking Horse Pass Dropping 1 140 feet in 7 1 railway miles this section of railway was a construction worker s horror and a railroader s nightmare that soon became known as the Big Hill Intended to be temporary the 4 5 percent grade more than 3 miles long saw use for 25 years until completion of the Spiral Tunnels in 1909 The two tunnels unique in North America loop over themselves doubling the length of track and halving the grade Incorporating more than 100 photographs The Spiral Tunnels and the Big Hill An Illustrated Railway History describes the construction of the CPR and recounts the tales of daring defiance and disaster on the second steepest mainline track ever operated in North America Maps and diagrams reveal how the Spiral Tunnels create a safer grade for trains The text provides up to date descriptions of today s locomotives and explains the many challenges of operating trains on mountain grades A Canadian bestseller for three decades this revised edition will be informative reading for railfans for travellers in the Rockies and for those with an interest in Canadian history Train Country Donald MacKay,Lorne Perry,1994 Gravity, Steam, and Steel Graeme Pole,2022-12-19 In 1882 the Canadian Pacific Railway Company committed to building Canada's first trans continental railway across unknown ground in the Selkirk Mountains of southern British Columbia It was a gamble that almost scuttled the project and the promise of the young country During the next three years a small army of surveyors engineers and labourers cleared the grade and built track across Rogers Pass the only break in the Selkirk Mountains a place that defined wilderness Trestles tunnels snowsheds bridges and miles of looping track the Canadian Pacific Railway has since employed them all to reduce the dangers and to make railway operations in Rogers Pass safer and more reliable Gravity Steam and Steel recounts the triumphs and tragedies of building and operating a railway in a place where 40 feet of snow falls each year and where trains routinely run on grades that many other railways would consider impossibly steep The Skyline Limited Robert D. Turner,David S. Wilkie,1994-01 This is the dramatic story of the Kaslo Slocan Railway the Great Northern's narrow gauge in the rugged Slocan Mountains of BC's West Kootenay district during the 1890s and early 1900s Here too is the superbly illustrated account of the beautiful sternwheelers that connected the K S with other Great Northern branch lines The Skyline Limited is a fascinating chapter in the stories of the Great Northern and the Canadian Pacific
