

The book cover features a collage of various illustrations related to evolution and biology. At the top left is a white animal head with large ears. Next to it is a close-up of a cat's face with orange eyes. To the right is a blue fish. Below the cat is a lizard. To the right of the lizard is a green frog. In the center, a large white box contains the title and author's name. Below the box, there is a collage including a man's face, a mole, a large grey animal head, a butterfly, a running monkey, a dinosaur head, a mammoth tusk, a skeleton of a bipedal animal, a pink worm, and a brown lizard.

From The Beginning The Story Of Human Evolution:

From the Beginning David Peters,1991 Examines the history of life on Earth and traces the course of human evolution

The Origin of the Human Species Dylan Brown,2005-01-01 Human Evolution P. J. Andrews,C. B. Stringer,1989-09-29 The development of our ancestors is traced by fossil evidence of various ancestral groups in a survey that expands from man s earliest beginnings through the emergence of modern humans Evolution or Creation? Albert DeBenedictis,2014-04-02 This book is designed to share the research on the origins of the universe and the origins of life with those who are truly interested in making their decisions regarding origins as well as those who are simply curious about opposing views Stone Tools in Human Evolution John J. Shea,2017 An exploration of how the evolution of behavioral differences between humans and other primates affected the archaeological stone tool evidence A Story of Us Lesley Newson,Peter J. Richerson,2021 Changes in the environment drive evolution and evidence suggests that our ancestors evolved to use cultural adaptations to survive environmental fluctuations of great severity In A Story of Us Lesley Newson and Peter Richerson explain the evidence and ideas that provide an account of how they coped using short descriptive stories to illustrate life at different stages of our evolutionary history Human Evolution Robin Dunbar,2014-05-01 What makes us human How did we develop language thought and culture Why did we survive and other human species fail The past 12 000 years represent the only time in the sweep of human history when there has been only one human species How did this extraordinary proliferation of species come about and then go extinct And why did we emerge such intellectual giants The tale of our origins has inevitably been told through the stones and bones of the archaeological record yet Robin Dunbar shows it was our social and cognitive changes rather than our physical development which truly made us distinct from other species The ^AWorld from Beginnings to 4000 BCE Ian Tattersall,2008-02-01 In this lively and readable introduction renowned anthropologist Ian Tattersall thoroughly examines both fossil and archaeological records to trace human evolution from the earliest beginnings of our zoological family Hominidae through the appearance of Homo sapiens to the Agricultural Revolution In the Beginning: World History from Human Evolution to the First States Lauren Ristvet,2007-01-09 This engaging and accessible volume draws on the most recent historical archeological scholarship to tell the stories of human evolution gathering and hunting societies and the distinct breakthroughs that led to the emergence of the earliest cities states and civilizations Highlighting both the separate paths and the intersecting journeys of diverse human communities In In the Beginning provides the essential but often neglected foundation on which all subsequent historical development was constructed The Human Story Charles Lockwood,2008 Anthropology professor Charles Lockwood tells the amazing story of human evolution in a concise and compelling introduction to all our ancestors and extinct relatives He draws on the explosion of discoveries made over the past 20 years to demystify the fascinating cast of characters who hold the secret to our origins and describes the main sites individual fossils key scientific breakthroughs and latest research that have fed our knowledge With the help of a rich assortment of photographs reconstructions and maps Lockwood takes us from the earliest hominins who date back six or seven million years ago to contemporary homo sapiens providing the basic facts about each species what it looked like what it ate how and when it lives and how we know this information Created in association with London s Natural History Museum this is a truly readable up to date well illustrated and user friendly summary of the evidence as it stands today

Ancient Pakistan - An Archaeological History Mukhtar Ahmed,2014-05-29 Ancient Pakistan An Archaeological History deals with the prehistory of Pakistan from the Stone Age to the end of the Indus Civilization This particular volume The Stone Age concerns with the first appearance of man in northern Pakistan more than a million years ago and traces his cultural history up to the emergence of agriculture and sedentary living in this region The book is written for students of ancient history anthropology and archaeology The material is generously illustrated with a large number of maps tables drawings and colored photographs Each Section is provided with extensive references to the text and a comprehensive bibliography is provided for those who want to dig deeper into the subject Although the book primarily deals with the Greater Indus Valley its scope is much wider the subject has been discussed in context with the paleolithic of India Central Asia and Iran The story of human evolution provides a constant background Getting Here

William White Howells,1997 Renowned anthropologist author and educator Howells draws together the latest from all of today s sciences to tell the fascinating story of man s evolution Long recognized as one of the world s foremost authorities and interpreters of human evolution he is also known for his unique contribution of skull measurements to show relationships between peoples

Kinship and Human Evolution Steen Bergendorff,2016-03-07 Kinship and Human Evolution Making Culture Becoming Human offers an exciting new explanation of human evolution Based on insights from anthropology it shows how humans became cultured beings capable of symbolic thought by developing kinship based exchange relationships Kinship was as an adaptive response to the harsh environment caused by the last major ice age In the extreme ice age conditions natural selection favored those groups that could forge and sustain such alliances and the resulting relationships enabled them to share different food resources between groups Kinship was a means of symbolically linking two or more groups to the mutual reproductive advantage of both From an evolutionary point of view kinship freed humans from their dependence on their immediate environment vastly expanding the niches they could occupy If we take kinship to be the major factor in human evolution networks and alliances must precede cultural units becoming the defining element of localized cultures Kinship and Human Evolution argues that it is living in networks that produces cultural differences and not culturally different groups that encounter one another it shows that kinship both saved and created humanity as we know it in all its cultural diversity
