and novellas Flowering Judas The Leaning Tower and Pale Horse Pale Rider and a novel Ship of Fools In the preface to the first collection of her nonfiction writings The Days Before Porter herself urged readers to look closely at her nonfiction for there they would discover the shape direction and connective tissue of a continuous central interest and preoccupation of a lifetime Most of the reviews which appeared in such publications as the New York Herald Tribune the New York Times the Nation and New Masses she apparently undertook for financial reasons but occasionally she would agree to review a friend's latest offering She published no reviews after the success of her best selling novel Ship of Fools Porter's scope as a reviewer was impressively broad Because she lived in Mexico City during the revolution had known Diego Rivera and had studied primitive Mexican art she was often called on to review books on Mexican art and on the revolution Porter also reviewed many books by or about women Her reviews of the Short Novels of Colette and Katharine Anthony's translation of Catherine the Great's memoirs are particularly noteworthy for her comments about women artists and her expression of admiration for women who flout traditional roles These collected reviews illustrate the evolution of one of the most important American writers of the twentieth century and will interest not only Porter scholars but also anyone who appreciates her fiction
