From Romantic Irony to Postmodernist Metafiction Christian Quendler, 2001 This study represents a comparison between two radical gestures of literary self reflexivity romantic irony and postmodernist metafiction It examines the impact of early German romantic theory and its central concept of irony on German and English romantic narrative fiction and relates the same to postmodernist self reflexive novels including its British and American variants A primary objective of this comparison is to account for the radical skepticism that postmodernist metafiction voices with respect to the paramount philosophical question of truth and reality The immanent tension between an absolute idealistic and a radically skeptic position which romantic irony articulates and enacts is conceived of as an important and instructive link to the understanding of postmodernism

Hybrid Identity and the Utopian Impulse in the Postmodern Spanish-American Comic Novel Paul R. McAleer, 2015 The author examines the role of comedy in the novels of four key postmodern Spanish American writers Gustavo Sainz Alfredo Bryce Echenique Jaime Bayly and Fernando Vallejo An important but often overlooked function of comedy is its intrinsic relation to questions of identity This relationship furthermore is connected to another traditional feature of comedy the utopian impulse This book analyses these functions of comedy in the novels of four key postmodern Spanish American writers Gustavo Sainz Alfredo Bryce Echenique Fernando Vallejo and Jaime Bayly Focusing on the correlation between changing concepts of identity and the hybrid cultural context of the late 20th century it examines the issues of individual and social identities expressed by these authors in their inscription and distortion of the comic genre as well as in their usage of different modes of comedy It views the novels comic aspects as symptoms of hybridity which according to many theorists have brought about the dissolution of concepts such as the self and society and utopian modernity These symptoms are studied in tandem with the individual themes of the novels such as gender sexuality class and global migration as well as the post national question of Peruvian Colombian and Mexican identity Paul McAleer is Lecturer in Hispanic Studies at the University of Hull
