From the Devotions Carl Phillips, 1997-12-31 With From the Devotions Carl Phillips takes us even further into that dangerous space he has already made his own where body and soul ever restless come explosively together Speaking to a balance between decorum and pain he offers here a devotional poetry that argues for faith even without the comforting gods or the organized structures of revealed truth Neither sage nor saint nor prophet the poet is the listener the mourner the one who has some access to the maddening quarters of human consciousness the wry Sibyl From the Devotions is deeply felt highly intelligent and unsentimental and cements Phillips's reputation as a poet of enormous talent and depth In his extraordinary new book of poems From the Devotions by far his best Carl Phillips has done what few of his contemporaries have dared or managed with as much elegant authority He has plotted here the romantic landscape of desire Myths are unsheathed and glisten History is held and pondered Violence shimmers desires are silhouetted against the light of love and death His tone is at once erotic and mystical hushed and compelling This book is a blessing a ravishing a haunting I urge you to read it to succumb to it J D McClatchy Carl Phillips is the author of In the Blood which won the Morse Poetry Prize and Cortège a Finalist for both the National Book Critics Circle Award and a Lambda Literary Award The recipient of fellowships and prizes from the Guggenheim Foundation the Massachusetts Artists Foundation and the Academy of American Poets Phillips is associate professor of English and of African and Afro American Studies at Washington University St Louis where he also directs the creative writing program

Lorden,2023-11-02 Jennifer Lorden reveals the importance of deeply felt religious devotion centuries before it is commonly said to arise Her ground-breaking study establishes the hybrid poetics that embodied its form for medieval readers while obscuring it from modern scholars Working across the divide between Old and Middle English she shows how conventions of earlier English poetry recombine with new literary conventions after the Norman Conquest These new conventions for example love lyric repurposed as devotional song created hybrid aesthetics more familiar to modern scholars She argues that this aesthetic as much as changing devotional practice rendered later affective piety recognizable in a way that earlier affective devotional conventions were not Forms of Devotion reconsiders the roots and branches of poetic topoi revising commonplaces of literary and religious history This title is part of the Flip it Open Programme and may also be available Open Access Check our website Cambridge Core for details Poems, 1913-1956 Bertolt Brecht,1979 First
