Economic Theories of Development Diana Hunt, 1989      Economic Theories of Development, 1987      The Battle for Asia Mark T. Berger, 2004 This book is a history of the Asian region from 1945 to the present day which delineates the various ideological battles over Asia's development      Development Economics in the Twenty-First Century Claudia Sunna, Davide Gualerzi, 2015-12-14 Development Economics has been identified as a homogeneous body of theory since the 1950s concerned both with the study of development issues and with the shaping of more effective policies for less advanced economies Development Economics in the Twenty First Century brings together an international contributor team in order to explore the origins and evolution of development economics This book highlights the different elements of high development theory through a precise reconstruction of the different theoretical approaches that developed between the 1950s and the 1970s These include the theory of balanced and unbalanced growth theory the debate on international trade the concept of dualism dependency theory structuralism and the analysis of poverty and institutions The chapters highlight the relevance and usefulness of these analyses for the contemporary theoretical debate on development issues Comparative perspectives are explored and analysed including those of Keynes Hirschman Krugman and Stiglitz The chapters situate development economics within current debates among economists and historians of economic thought providing a platform for future research This book is suitable for researchers and students with an interest in Development Economics the History of Economic development and the Economics of Developing Countries      Theories Of Comparative Politics Ronald H Chilcote, 2018-02-12 Extensively revised and updated this classic text revisits the central problem of searching for mainstream and alternative paradigms to guide us in comparative political inquiry Building upon the first edition's comprehensive and systematic overview of frameworks ideologies and theories the second edition highlights new directions and developments over the past decade including the continuation of an ideological political science methodological innovations such as rational choice historical and postbehavioural approaches new emphases on and links between political culture and participation the recasting of modernization theory and the revitalization of class analysis and a thoroughgoing post Keynesian political economy point of view The second edition continues the tradition of the first in updating what one reviewer commended as outstanding excellent annotated bibliographies at the end of each chapter and the thorough survey of the general literature of comparative politics at the end of the book In addition the new edition includes an appendix of definitions that facilitate clarity and understanding of political science terminology important for students at every level from the introductory on up In a post Cold War world in which challenges to comparative inquiry abound ethnic conflict authoritarian repression state building and disintegration new industrialization and postindustrialization security systems redefined the search for new paradigms that Theories of Comparative Politics represents gains in importance daily

Non-Formal Education Alan Rogers, 2007-03-06 The Comparative Education Research Centre CERC at the University of

Hong Kong is proud and privileged to present this book in its series CERC Studies in Comparative Education Alan Rogers is a distinguished figure in the field of non formal education and brings to this volume more than three decades of experience The book is a masterly account which will be seen as a milestone in the literature It is based on the one hand on an exhaustive review of the literature and on the other hand on extensive practical experience in all parts of the world It is a truly comparative work which fits admirably into the series Much of the thrust of Rogers work is an analysis not only of the significance of non formal education but also of the reasons for changing fashions in the development community Confronting a major question at the outset Rogers ask why the terminology of non formal education which was so much in vogue in the 1970s and 1980s practically disappeared from the mainstream discourse in the 1990s and initial years of the present century Much of the book is therefore about paradigms in the domain of development studies and about the ways that fashions may gloss over substance

Latin America In The World Economy Frederick Stirton Weaver,2018-02-13 Latin America in the World Economy considers the dual aspect of Latin American development how external factors phases of world capitalism since Columbus interweave with internal factors Latin American culture politics and social groups Weaver skillfully demonstrates how domestic social conflicts and power relations have consistently capitalized on changes in the international economy while conversely engagement with the international economy has consistently constrained local struggles and patterns of change Over half of Latin America in the World Economy focuses on the short twentieth century after 1930 and the way that the book frames recent events and processes in broad historical and comparative terms is appropriate for courses on world history and comparative development as well as for more specialized courses on Latin America

Aid to Africa Gordon Cumming,2017-07-05 The end of the Cold War forced Western donors to rethink their aid relations with Africa This book looks at two of these donors France and Britain and asks whether the development programmes of these former colonial powers have undergone radical changes since the end of the Old World Order It focuses on the introduction of a controversial new regime trend political conditionality and uses policy models to illustrate the driving forces behind this new development strategy and explain substantial differences in France and Britain s practice of political conditionality in Togo and Kenya Overall this volume the first comparative study of French and British aid in the post Cold War period offers fresh insights into the evolution of the political assistance agenda and into deeper forces at work within the French and UK policy processes

Creative Practice and Socioeconomic Crisis in the Caribbean Kent Wessinger,2017-03-27 Although the world is saturated with extraordinary methods innovation and technology the Caribbean seems to have been left behind in the sustainable growth of global development While the majority of the world defines the Caribbean as paradise the reality of life for Afro Caribbean culture is defined by an unrelenting hardship This book comprehensively analyzes this phenomenon from a unique and intimate perspective in order to offer a viable pathway to sustainable growth By examining the historic progression of the Caribbean region and the African culture within the author explores the relationship between creative practice and socioeconomic crisis and questions whether limited access to environments that facilitate original and conceptual ideas correlates with socioeconomic crisis The outcomes and methods of analysis developed in this book are a useful tool for other cultures or organizations seeking to diffuse socioeconomic crisis and implement a pathway of sustainable growth This innovative book will be of great interest to students and scholars of cultural and sustainability studies Caribbean and African Studies as well as Development and Sustainable Development      Stabilization and Structural Adjustment

Capitalist Realism in Africa: Realities and Myths in Advertising Emmanuel C. Alozie,2015-01-06 Capitalist Realism in Africa Realities and Myths in Advertising is a multifaceted analysis of the role of advertising in the national development of Nigeria and by extension other African Nations The book examines the unique political cultural and religious systems that create the context for advertising in African countries and describes the unique historical social economic communication and political context within which the practice of advertising takes place Since the end of the Cold War the several African nations or emerging countries have undertaken concrete efforts to reform their political social and economic institutions as they strive to join the global economy and improve the socioeconomic conditions of their citizens To achieve these goals administrators have relied on various forms of mass media including advertising to promote these reforms and socioeconomic development Despite some unique challenges and opportunities as well as controversies surrounding the role of advertising in developing economies advertising literature relevant to African countries remains in a blind spot Capitalist Realism in Africa Realities and Myths in Advertising bridges this gap by offering an in depth analysis of advertising in an area of the world that has been largely neglected and provides a ground for generating a discussion about the practice of advertising in an African context

An Introduction to Health Planning for Developing Health Systems Andrew Green,2007-01-11 Health planning is a critical component when responding to the health needs of low and middle income countries characterised by particularly stringent resource constraints The major communicable diseases such as AIDS TB and malaria often appear in parallel with growing non communicable diseases including heart disease and diabetes and yet resources are often less than the levels recommended by the World Health Organisation for basic health care The new edition of this well respected text explains the importance of health planning in both developing regions such as Africa and those in transition such as Central and Eastern Europe It stresses the importance of understanding the national and international context in which planning occurs and provides an up to date analysis of the major current policy issues including health reforms Separate chapters are dedicated to the distinct issues of finance for health care and humanresource planning The various techniques used at each stage of the planning process are explained starting with the situational analysis and then looking in turn at priority setting option appraisal programming implementation monitoring and evaluation The book ends by examining the challengesfacing planners in the 21st century particularly in the light of growing globalisation A major theme of the book is the need to recognise and reconcile the inevitable tension that lies between value judgements and rational decision making As such in addition to introducing techniques such as costing and economic appraisal it also outlines techniques such as stakeholder analysis for understanding the relative attitudes and power of different groups in planning decisions Each chapter includes a comprehensive bibliography including key websites a summary and exercises to help the reader practise techniques and better understand the content The book argues that all health professionals and community groups should be involved in the planning process for it to be effective and will therefore appeal to anyone involved in planning
