Unemployment, Schooling and Training in Developing Countries M. D. Leonor, 2018-12-07 First published in 1985 Increasing doubt is being shed on the proposition that higher levels of education in developing countries are an unmitigated good Unemployment among school leavers and university graduates is now a major problem Some people argue that what is needed is a reform of primary education and the changing of attitudes to work but many of the measures adopted have failed to achieve these goals and have only worsened the problem by increasing costs making curricula less flexible and by increasing mis education This book examines the problems and the measures adopted to alleviate them in four important developing countries It provides many new research findings and much new thinking and concludes with suggestions for improving policies

The Statesman's Year-Book 1975-76 J. Paxton, 2016-12-22 The classic reference work that provides annually updated information on the countries of the world

Labour Information International Labour Office, 1991 This reference book provides a core list of publications in the labour field covering both reference materials and selected ILO publications in English It covers employment training labour relations labour administration working conditions and environment social security promotion of equality and workers education

Women's Education in Developing Countries Elizabeth M. King, M. Anne Hill, 1997-07-01 Why do women in most developing countries lag behind men in literacy Why do women get less schooling than men This anthology examines the educational decisions that deprive women of an equal education It assembles the most up to date data organized by region Each paper links the data with other measures of economic and social development This approach helps explain the effects different levels of education have on women's fertility mortality rates life expectancy and income Also described are the effects of women's education on family welfare The authors look at family size and women's labor status and earnings They examine child and maternal health as well as investments in children's education Their investigation demonstrates that women with a better education enjoy greater economic growth and provide a more nurturing family life It suggests that when a country denies women an equal education the nation's welfare suffers Current strategies used to improve schooling for girls and women are examined in detail The authors suggest an ambitious agenda for educating women It seeks to close the gender gap by the next century Published for The World Bank by The Johns Hopkins University Press
