front of us such as Hayden White's theory of emplotments applied to historical writing and Byron Almon's theory of musical narrative. The sheer quantity of what has been written about Frye reveals that the only valid response to Eagleton's rhetorical question is a very large and growing number, the growth being not incremental but exponential. Karl Marx and Contemporary Philosophy A. Chitty, M. McIvor, 2009-05-29 This collection brings together the latest work of some of the world's leading Marxist philosophers and new young researchers. Based upon work presented at meetings of the Marx and Philosophy Society, it offers a unique snapshot of the best current scholarship on the philosophical aspects and implications of Marx's thought. Post-War British Literature and the "End of Empire" Matthew Whittle, 2017-01-03 This book examines literary texts by British colonial servant and settler writers including Anthony Burgess, Graham Greene, William Golding, and Alan Sillitoe, who depicted the impact of decolonization in the newly independent colonies and at home in Britain. The end of the British Empire was one of the most significant and transformative events in twentieth-century history, marking the beginning of a new world order and having an indelible impact on British culture and society. Literary responses to this moment by those from within Britain offer an enlightening and often overlooked exploration of the influence of decolonization on received notions of race and class, while also prefiguring conceptions of multiculturalism. As Matthew Whittle argues in this sweeping study, these works not only view decolonization within its global context alongside the aftermath of the Second World War, the rise of America, and mass immigration, but often propose a solution to imperial decline through cultural renewal. British Fiction of the 1990s Nick Bentley, 2007-05-07 Presenting a fresh perspective on the diverse writings that appeared in British fiction during the 1990s, this book brings together leading academics in the field. Black is Beautiful Paul C. Taylor, 2016-05-23 Black is Beautiful identifies and explores the most significant philosophical issues that emerge from the aesthetic dimensions of black life, providing a long overdue synthesis and the first extended philosophical treatment of this crucial subject. The first extended philosophical treatment of an important subject that has been almost entirely neglected by philosophical aesthetics and philosophy of art. Takes an important step in assembling black aesthetics as an object of philosophical study. Unites two areas of scholarship for the first time: philosophical aesthetics and black cultural theory, dissolving the dilemma of either studying philosophy or studying black expressive culture. Brings a wide range of fields into conversation with one another, from visual culture studies and art history to analytic philosophy to musicology, producing mutually illuminating approaches that challenge some of the basic suppositions of each. Well balanced, up to date, and beautifully written, as well as inventive and insightful. Winner of The American Society of Aesthetics Outstanding Monograph Prize 2017. The Legacy of Marxism Matthew Johnson, 2012-06-28 Marx's influence is evident in a range of often incompatible and contradictory political movements and intellectual approaches. With a number of those movements now discredited by the experience of really existing socialism, and the academic left gravitating towards approaches which eschew authoritarian, essentialist, and ethnocentric elements of orthodox Marxism, the relevance of Marx has been called into question Featuring chapters by Norman Geras Joseph Femia Alan Johnson Paul Bowman Ronaldo Munck Lawrence Wilde Mark Cowling Chengyi Peng Terrell Carver Oliver Harrison and Stuart Sim this book is an attempt to examine means by which the left can make real substantive and positive contributions to contemporary debate The collection examines such topics as the meaning of Marxism and pluralism within the left Marxism s scientific credentials i ek revolution democracy and cultural studies the politics of development the relationship between Marxism and global capitalism the global justice debate and Marx s rejection of moral discourse the analysis of crime and criminal justice Chinese society and constitutional diversity and the relationship between Marxism and post Marxism      Third Wave Feminism S.
