Educating For Wisdom And Compassion Creating A Climate Fo:

Teaching from the Thinking Heart John P. Miller, Michele Irwin, Kelli Nigh, 2014-07-01 Forward by Nel Noddings This book includes papers written by teachers and how they engage holistic education in their classrooms The papers come from a course taught by Jack Miller at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education at the University of Toronto entitled The Holistic Curriculum This is a rich and diverse collection of papers showing how holistic education can be brought into public education despite the pressures of testing and other accountability measures Although most of the teachers teach in public schools there are also examples from teachers working in private and post secondary settings This book can inspire other teachers who are looking for ways to teach the whole person in a more connected manner There are very few texts in the field of holistic education that include the voices and practices of teachers particularly those working in public schools Many of the examples of holistic education in practice come from Waldorf Montessori Reggio Emilia and alternative schools A unique feature of this book is the many different voices of teachers describing their work in the classroom they talk about their successes the challenges and even a few failures

Handbook of Mindfulness in Education Kimberly A. Schonert-Reichl, Robert W. Roeser, 2016-02-29 This handbook addresses the educational uses of mindfulness in schools. It summarizes the state of the science and describes current and emerging applications and challenges throughout the field. It explores mindfulness concepts in scientific theoretical and practical terms and examines training opportunities both as an aspect of teachers' professional development and a means to enhance students' social, emotional, and academic skills. Chapters discuss mindfulness and contemplative pedagogy programs that have produced positive student outcomes including stress relief, self-care, and improved classroom and institutional engagement. Featured topics include: A comprehensive view of mindfulness in the modern era; Contemplative education and the roots of resilience; Mindfulness practice and its effect on students' social, emotional, and learning; A cognitive neuroscience perspective on mindfulness in education that addresses students' academic and social skills development; Mindfulness training for teachers and administrators; Two universal mindfulness education programs for elementary and middle school students. The Handbook of Mindfulness in Education is a must-have resource for researchers, graduate students, clinicians, and practitioners in psychology, psychiatry, education, and medicine, as well as counseling, social work, and rehabilitation therapy.

Reforming Education in Developing Countries Izhar Oplatka, 2018-11-12 Underpinned in the stream of thought named communitarianism, Reforming Education in Developing Countries argues that developing countries need educational reforms that are tightly entwined into their cultural, social, and organizational contexts. It questions the applicability of neoliberal reforms in developing societies through an analysis of the main elements of neoliberalism in education. It highlights the critical role of the community and suggests new and alternative lines of thought for the practice of reform initiation and implementation in developing countries. The book criticizes major neoliberal ideas in education, illuminates the distinctions between current neoliberal reforms and the characteristics of traditional societies, analyzes major educational ideologies in the developed world, and emphasizes the key role of local communities in this world. It proposes a dynamic model of reforming education in these countries that includes three major phases and integrates both modern and traditional indigenous educational purposes and values. Evocative ponderings are outlined throughout the book to promote critical thinking and reframing of educators' views towards educational reform and change. This book will be of great interest to researchers and students in the fields of educational leadership, educational policy, educational change, comparative education, political science, and sociology. It will also appeal to educators, supervisors, and policymakers.
