and development in Central Asia William K.. Medlin, Finley Carpenter, William M.. Cave, 1971      Islam in Post-Soviet Uzbekistan Johan Rasanayagam, 2010-11-08 The Uzbekistan government has been criticized for its brutal suppression of its Muslim population This book which is based on the author s intimate acquaintance with the region and several years of ethnographic research is about how Muslims in this part of the world negotiate their religious practices despite the restraints of a stifling authoritarian regime Fascinatingly the book also shows how the restrictive atmosphere has actually helped shape the moral context of people s lives and how understandings of what it means to be a Muslim emerge creatively out of lived experience      The Formation of the Uzbek Nation-state Anita Sengupta, 2003-01-01 The Formation of the Uzbek Nation State is a detailed and insightful examination of the process of nation state formation in the Central Asian region in the post October revolution period based on a case study of Uzbekistan Author Anita Sengupta examines the role of language and

Social and Cultural Change in Central Asia Sevkett Akyildiz, Richard Carlson, 2013-10-15 Focusing on Soviet culture and its social ramifications both during the Soviet period and in the post Soviet era this book addresses important themes associated with Sovietisation and socialisation in the Central Asian states of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan The book contains contributions from scholars in a variety of disciplines and looks at topics that have been somewhat marginalised in contemporary studies of Central Asia including education anthropology music literature and poetry film history and state identity construction and social transformation It examines how the Soviet legacy affected the development of the republics in Central Asia and how it continues to affect the society culture and polity of the region Although each state in Central Asia has increasingly developed its own way the book shows that the states have in varying degrees retained the influence of the Soviet past or else are busily establishing new political identities in reaction to their Soviet legacy and in doing so laying claim to re defining and reinventing pre Soviet and Soviet images and narratives Throwing new light and presenting alternate points of view on the question of the Soviet legacy in the Soviet Central Asian successor states the book is of interest to academics in the field of Russian and Central Asian Studies

Education in the Muslim World Rosarii Griffin, 2006-05-15 This collection of articles is an eclectic selection of studies of a range of educational situations relating to Muslim populations in different parts of the world It is intended as a selection and in no way contains any overarching theme other than illustrating the wide diversity of situations and issues relating to education in Muslim societies The contributors provide a wide and fascinating range of insights and problems many of which apply to other communities as well there is much to be shared and celebrated between east and west but only with greater understanding It is hoped this book will contribute something towards that understanding

The International Politics of Central Asia John Anderson, 1997

Central Asia is a fascinating region yet remote and unfamiliar to many people This new study provides an introduction to the politics of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Islam and the Russian Empire Helene Carrere D'Encausse, Hélène Carrère d'Encausse, 1988-01-01 A particularly valuable work In my judgment it contains the best account of nineteenth century Muslim societies in Central Asia It is I think indispensable to an understanding of the events that followed Ira Lapidus co editor of Islam Politics and Social Movements The Piety of Learning: Islamic Studies in Honor of Stefan Reichmuth, 2017-08-28 The Piety of Learning testifies to the strong links between religious and secular scholarship in Islam and reaffirms the role of philology for understanding Muslim societies both past and present Senior scholars discuss Islamic teaching philosophies since the 18th century in Nigeria Egypt the Ottoman Empire Central Asia Russia and Germany Particular attention is paid to the power of Islamic poetry and to networks and practices of the Tijaniyya Rif'iyya Khalwatiyya Naqshbandiyya and Shadhiliyya Sufi brotherhoods The final section highlights some unusual European encounters with Islam and features a German Pietist who traveled through the Ottoman Empire a Habsburg officer who converted to Islam in Bosnia a Dutch colonial Islamologist who befriended a Salafi from Jeddah and a Soviet historian who preserved Islamic manuscripts Contributors are Razaq Deremi Abubakre Bekim Agai Rainer Brunner Alfrid K. Bustanov Thomas Eich Ralf Elger Ulrike Freitag Michael Kemper Markus Koller Anke von K. Gelgen Catherine Mayeur Jaouen Armina Omerika Amidu Olalekan Sanni Ya'ar Sarikaya Ridiger Seesemann Shamil Sh. Shikhaliev Diliara M. Usmanova History of civilizations of Central Asia Adle, Chahryar, UNESCO, 2005-10-03 This major six volume project co published with Macmillan covers the historical experience of the peoples and societies of the Caribbean region from the earliest times to the present day The sixth volume brings this series to an end as it takes in the whole of the modern period from colonial conquest and domination to decolonization the Cold War from start to finish the disintegration of the Soviet Union and the renewed instability in certain areas Not only did the colonial regimes lay a new patina over the region but nationalism remoulded all old identities into a series of new ones That process of the twentieth century was perhaps the most transformative of all after the colonial subjugation of the nineteenth While it has been the basis of remarkable stability in vast stretches of the region it has been a fertile source of tension and even wars in other parts The impact and the results of such changes have been astonishingly variable despite the proximity of these states to each other and their being subject to or driven by virtually the same compulsions Veiled Empire Douglas T. Northrop, 2016-06-08 Drawing on extensive research in the archives of Russia and Uzbekistan Douglas Northrop here reconstructs the turbulent history of a Soviet campaign that sought to end the seclusion of Muslim women In Uzbekistan it focused above all on a massive effort to eliminate the heavy horsehair and cotton veils worn by many women and girls This campaign against the veil was in Northrop's view emblematic of the larger Soviet attempt to bring the proletarian revolution to Muslim Central Asia a region Bolsheviks saw as primitive and backward The Soviets focused on women and the family in an effort to forge a new liberated social order This unveiling campaign however took place in the context of a half century of Russian colonization and the long standing suspicion of rural Muslim peasants toward an urban colonial state Widespread resistance to the idea of unveiling quickly appeared and developed into a broader anti Soviet animosity among Uzbeks of both sexes Over the next quarter century a bitter and often violent confrontation ensued with battles being waged over indigenous practices of veiling and seclusion New local and national identities coalesced around these very practices that had been placed under attack Veils became powerful anticolonial symbols for the Uzbek nation as well as important markers of Muslim propriety Bolshevik leaders who had seen this campaign as an excellent way to enlist allies while proving their own European credentials as enlightened reformers thus inadvertently strengthened the seclusion of Uzbek women precisely the reverse of what they set out to do Northrop s fascinating and evocative book shows both the fluidity of Central Asian cultural practices and the real limits that existed on Stalinist authority even during the ostensibly totalitarian 1930s

Youth in the Former Soviet South Stefan Kirmse, 2014-06-11

This book offers the first comprehensive analysis of youth in all its diversity in Muslim Central Asia and the Caucasus It brings together a range of academic perspectives including media studies Islamic studies the sociology of youth and social anthropology While most discussions of youth in the former Soviet South frame the younger generation as victims of crisis as targets of state policy or as holy warriors this book maps out the complexity and variance of everyday lives under post Soviet conditions Youth is not a clear cut predictable life stage Yet across the region young people s lives show forms of experimentation and regulation Male and female youth explore new opportunities not only in the buzzing space of the city but also in the more closely monitored neighbourhood of their family homes At the same time they are constrained by communal expectations ethnic affiliation urban or rural background and by gender and sexuality While young people are more dependent and monitored than many others they are also more eager to explore and challenge In many ways they stand at the cutting edge of globalization and post Soviet change and thus they offer innovative perspectives on these processes This book was published as a special issue of Central Asian Survey
