Education and the Global Rural Barbara Pini, Relebohile Moletsane, Martin Mills, 2017-10-02 This edited collection challenges the urban centric nature of much feminist work on gender and education The context for the book is the radical reconfiguration of rural areas that has occurred in recent decades as a result of globalisation From a range of diverse national contexts including Kenya and South Africa Australia and Canada and the United States and Pakistan authors explore the intersections between masculinity femininity and rurality in education In recognition of the heterogeneity of categories such as rural girl and rural boy they attend to how educational exclusions can be magnified by differences in relation to social locations such as class race or sexuality Similar critical insights are brought to bear as authors examine what it means to be a male or female teacher in rural environments Contributors draw on data ranging from contemporary feature films to historical materials along with detailed ethnographic work and participatory approaches to produce a compelling narrative of the need to understand education as experienced by those who are not part of the urban majority This book was originally published as a special issue of Gender and Education

De Fontaine, Henry Box Brown, John Dixon Long, Harriet Jacobs, Jacob D. Green, Thomas S. Gaines, Willie Lynch, Margaretta Matilda Odell, Joseph Mountain, 2022-11-13

The Most Influential Memoirs Of Former Slaves offers a profound exploration into the lives and experiences of those who bore the cruelty of slavery and emerged with voices that have transcended time. This anthology brings together a vast array of literary styles including personal narratives, reflective essays, and poignant speeches highlighting the resilience and resistance of former slaves. Central to the collection are themes of freedom, dignity, identity, and resistance woven through the diverse experiences of its contributors. Each memoir serves not only as a testimony to the past but as a powerful literary work that has shaped our understanding of humanity's capacity for both cruelty and compassion. Through the voices of iconic figures such as Frederick Douglass, Harriet Jacobs, and Booker T. Washington, along with lesser-known yet equally compelling authors like Kate Drumgoold and F. G. De Fontaine, the anthology presents a collective history that spans the intersections of race, gender, and class. These authors reflect various historical and cultural movements, including abolitionism and the early civil rights movement, offering insights that enrich the discourse on societal transformation. The editors have meticulously curated these works to illustrate how individual narratives converge to form a tapestry of shared human experience. Readers are offered a rare opportunity to delve into a myriad of perspectives that challenge and enrich contemporary understandings of freedom and resilience. This anthology is essential for its educational value, presenting a dialogue between authors that spans generations and geographies. By journeying through these narratives, one gains not only historical insight but also an appreciation for the complexities and nuances of the human spirit in its fight for liberation. Whether a scholar, a student, or a general reader, this collection encourages a profound engagement with the enduring legacies of those who shaped history.
