Finding Out Conducting Eval Soc Research:

Program Evaluation for Social Workers Richard M. Grinnell, Peter Gabor (Sociologist), Yvonne A. Unrau, 2016 First published in 1994 this text is designed to be used by graduate level social work students in courses on evaluation and program design Over the course of 20 years and 6 editions the goals of the book have remained the same to prepare students to participate in evaluative activities within their organizations to prepare students to become critical producers and consumers of professional evaluative literature and to prepare students for more advanced evaluation courses and texts Grinnell Gabor and Unrau aim to meet these objectives by presenting a unique approach that is realistic practical applied and user friendly While a majority of textbooks focus on program level evaluation some recent books present case level evaluation methods but rely on inferentially powerful but difficult to implement experimental baseline designs This text assumes that neither of these approaches adequately reflects the realities of the field or the needs of students and beginning practitioners Instead Program Evaluation for Social Workers offers a blend of the two that demonstrates how they can complement one another The integration of case level and program level approaches provides an accessible adaptable and realistic framework for students to more easily grasp and implement in the real world Completing Your Evaluation

Dissertation, Thesis, Or Culminating Project Tamara M. Walser, Michael S. Trevisan, 2020-08-13 This practical user friendly resource helps students successfully complete an evaluation capstone a dissertation thesis or culminating project where a student conducts an evaluation as their capstone experience Authors Tamara M Walser and Michael S Trevisan present a framework to support students and faculty in maximizing student development of evaluator competencies addressing standards of the evaluation profession and contributing to programs and disciplinary knowledge Their framework and this book is organized by six fundamentals of evaluation practice quality stakeholders understanding the program values approaches and maximizing evaluation use Throughout the book they use the metaphor of the journey to depict the processes and activities a student will experience as they navigate an evaluation capstone and the six fundamentals of evaluation practice In pursuit of a completed capstone students grow professionally and personally and will be in a different place when they reach the destination and the capstone journey is complete Social Work Research and Evaluation Skills Frederic G.

Cyber Society, Big Data, and Evaluation Jonathan D. Breul, 2017-01-31 We are living in a cyber society Mobile devices social media the Internet crime cameras and other diverse sources can be pulled together to form massive datasets known as big data which make it possible to learn things we could not begin to comprehend otherwise While private companies are using this macroscopic tool policy makers and evaluators have been slower to adopt big data to make and evaluate public policy Cyber Society Big Data and Evaluation shows ways big data is now being used in policy evaluation and discusses how it will transform the role of evaluators in the future Arguing that big data will play a permanent and growing role in policy evaluation especially since results may be delivered almost in real time the contributors declare that the evaluation community must rise to the challenge or risk being marginalized This volume suggests that evaluators must redefine their tools in relation to big data obtain competencies necessary to work with it and collaborate with professionals already experienced in using big data By adding evaluators expertise for example in theory driven evaluation using repositories making value judgements and applying findings policy makers and evaluators can come to make better informed decisions and policies

Program Evaluation in Social Research Jonathan A. Morell, 2016-06-06 Program Evaluation in Social Research presents a plan for developing evaluation into a form of applied social research that is methodologically sound relevant to the problems of society and built on a technological as opposed to a scientific model Evaluation as applied relevant social research and as social technology is described along with its validity and usefulness This book is comprised of eight chapters and opens with a discussion on the consequences of program evaluation for the conduct of social research and for society at large and how evaluation can be made into a method of generating practical and powerful suggestions for planning successful social programs The concept of outcome evaluation is also organized into meaningful categories which can be used for the intelligent planning of appropriate evaluation activities The following chapters consider the types of evaluation that are carried out the relative merits of each type and how to optimize the validity and utility of each type Evaluation as a technological rather than a scientific pursuit is also discussed The remaining chapters focus on the frictions that arise during the implementation of program evaluation program evaluation as a profession and how evaluation can be developed into a relevant and powerful method of guiding the course of social innovations This monograph will appeal to sociologists social scientists and social researchers

Designing Better Services Francesca Foglieni, Beatrice Villari, Stefano Maffei, 2017-09-25 This book provides accessible comprehensive guidance on service design and enables practitioners approaching the discipline for the first time to develop the strategic mindset needed to exploit its innovation potential The opening chapters trace the origins of service design and examine its links with service innovation as well as its strategic role in service organizations It then offers step by step guidance on tackling a service design project explaining the main design elements and indications of various useful design tools It also introduces the topic of evaluation as a support practice in designing or redesigning better services and providing evidence concerning the value of service design interventions The third chapter explores how evaluation is currently approached in service design practice through the analysis of a number of case studies Based on these experiences it extensively discusses evaluation with a particular focus on service evaluation and explains its importance in supporting service design and fostering innovation throughout the service design process Further it describes pragmatic directions for setting up and conducting a service evaluation strategy The concluding chapter uses an interpretive model to summarize the role evaluation could have in service design practice and focuses on interdisciplinary competences that need to be acquired by service designers in order to address the evolution of the discipline The novel approach adopted in the book fosters the growing interest in design driven service innovation and assists in realizing its full potential in both the private and the public sector

Political Pressures on Educational and Social Research Karen Trimmer, 2016-05-12 Political Pressures on Educational and Social Research draws upon a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches to consider the problems that can arise when research findings diverge from political directions for policy Chapters explore the impacts this can have on the researchers as well as the influence it has on the research including the methodology and the publication of results The book offers innovative ways of seeing how these connect overlap and interact revealing particular issues of concern for researchers and evaluators in the context of research internationally Key topics include the power and positioning of research evidence based policy development ethics and the importance of research that seeks to explore and discover knowledge The book is divided into two sections The first presents chapters from international academics which provide a theoretical underpinning and discussion of power policy ethics and their influence on research resourcing autonomy purpose and methodology The second section explores specific case studies and instances from the authors own experiences in the field This book offers an interesting and enlightening insight into the sometimes political nature of research and will appeal to researchers evaluators and postgraduate students in the fields of education and the social sciences It will be of particular interest to those studying research methods

Disrupting Program Evaluation and Mixed Methods Research for a More Just Society Jori N.

Hall, Ayesha Boyce, Rodney Hopson, 2023-01-01 While women have influenced the fields of program evaluation and mixed methods research their contributions are rarely acknowledged In this edited volume we recognize the contributions Jennifer C Greene made to evaluation and mixed methods focusing on how she disrupted traditional ways methods are conceptualized and implemented We aim to provide a range of perspectives on how Greene disrupted social science theory methodology and training through her commitment to the values of democracy diversity and dialogue Accordingly the volume makes explicit how Greene democratized social science inquiry and training by emphasizing inclusive culturally responsive and educative theories methods and pedagogical practices Second it clarifies how her commitment to diversity supported scholars from diverse disciplinary backgrounds and cultures within and beyond the United States and validated often ignored perspectives on phenomena or experiences And third it showcases how her commitment to dialogue opened spaces for non traditional methodological approaches that engage communicate and disseminate program evaluation and mixed methods work Taken together the first hand accounts presented in this volume offer a historical perspective and practical guidance on program evaluation and mixed methods conceptualization implementation and training Endorsements The theme of disruption in this book is a powerful look at the breadth and significance of Jennifer C Greene s distinguished contributions both theoretical and practical in evaluation for over 30 years In essence these chapters reveal the sustaining power of her scholarship and influence today and likely in years to come Her recognition that no single method can solve the complex problems faced in evaluation is revealed in the ontological epistemological and methodological work she developed on mixed methods which led to a genre of study that recast the debate about the hegemony of quantitative over qualitative methods and vice versa She has foregrounded values the quintessential character of evaluation by recognizing the multiplicity of perspectives that guide our theories roles questions designs and perceptions of quality Jennifer Greene s generativity is exemplified in her egalitarian dialogic stance inclusion of voices and context and commitment to equity The chapters reflect the impact of her work on scholars who continue to advance evaluation for a more just society Valerie J Caracelli U S Government Accountability Office It is not possible to convey in a few words my strongest endorsement for this volume that begins scratching the surface of Jennifer C Greene s many contributions to evaluation theory methods and practice I have worked with and learned from her on many occasions over the years as I grappled with refining my understanding and practice of culturally responsive evaluation I commend the editors and authors for this first substantive collection providing a more in depth understanding and appreciation of Jennifer Greene s body of work for some while providing others the opportunity to revisit the lessons we have learned from her work spirit and commitment to make a difference Stafford Hood Center for Culturally Responsive Evaluation Assessment CREA and Professor Emeritus University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign
