Translated Alison E. Martin, 2018-09-07 The first extensive analysis of the translation publication and critical reception of Alexander von Humboldt's writings in nineteenth century Britain Prompts a rethinking of the role of translation in mediating scientific knowledge Reconsiders how translators shape a scientist's international reputation Draws on extensive archival material in neglected publishers' archives to shed new light on how authors, their translators and their publishers collaborate Alexander von Humboldt was one of the most important scientists of the nineteenth century Captivating his readers with his vibrant lyrical prose he transformed understandings of the earth and space by rethinking nature as the interconnection of global forces This book argues that style was key to the success of these translations and shows how Humboldt's British translators, now largely forgotten figures, were pivotal in moulding his prose and his public persona as they reconfigured his works for readers in Britain and beyond Five Hundred Years without Love Alex Lacson, 2021-04-30 This is about a man, his lost love, the imperfect world he lives in and how he finds his true love after he discovers his true self and life's purpose when he realized that much of the world's imperfections are caused by lack of love for others fueled by greed and selfishness which cause social cancer Anton Hinirang was unhappy for the last twenty four years after losing his first and only love when Marian's parents forced her to marry someone with money and stature Decades later not even success could make Anton happy When his unhappiness was complicated by tragic events that happened to his father and two siblings caused by his country's social ills it woke and changed Anton forever It led to his self discovery of his life's purpose which in turn led him to find his true love In its core the story is about love how its absence can render a person's life unhappy and miserable and how lack of love in people's hearts especially among leaders can cause poverty and misery among many in society and the world Alex Lacson is a bestselling author in the Philippines He is known as a builder of hope in his country especially among the youth Alex believes that love is the answer to most of the problems confronting humanity
