Female Voices from an Ewe Dance-drumming Community in Ghana James Burns, 2017-07-05 Ewe dance drumming has been extensively studied throughout the history of ethnomusicology but up to now there has not been a single study that addresses Ewe female musicians James Burns redresses this deficiency through a detailed ethnography of a group of female musicians from the Dzigbordi community dance drumming club from the rural town of Dzodze located in South Eastern Ghana Dzigbordi was specifically chosen because of the author's long association with the group members and because it is part of a genre known as adekede or female songs of redress where women musicians critique gender relations in society Burns uses audio and video interviews recordings of rehearsals and performances and detailed collaborative analyses of song texts dance routines and performance practice to address important methodological shifts in ethnomusicology that outline a more humanistic perspective of music cultures This perspective encompasses the inter linkages between history social processes and individual creative artists The voices of Dzigbordi women provide us not only with a more complete picture of Ewe music making they further allow us to better understand the relationship between culture social life and individual creativity The book will therefore appeal to those interested in African Studies Gender Studies and Oral Literature as well as ethnomusicology Includes documentary on the downloadable resources

Translating Scripture for Sound and Performance James A. Maxey, Ernst Wendland, 2012-11-01 The various studies presented in this anthology underscore the foundational matter of translation in biblical studies as understood from the specific perspective of Biblical Performance Criticism If the assumption for the biblical messages being received is not individual silent reading then the question becomes how does this public performative mode of communication affect the translation of this biblical material Rather than respond to this in general theoretical terms most in this collection of articles offer specific applications to particular Hebrew and Greek passages of Scripture Almost all the authors have firsthand experience with the translation of biblical materials into non European languages in communities who maintain a vibrant oral tradition The premise is that the original Scriptures which were composed in and for performance are being prepared again for live audiences who will receive these sacred texts not primarily in printed form but first and foremost in community by means of oral and visual media This volume is an invitation for others to join us in researching more intensely this intersection of sound performance and translation in a contemporary communication of the Word

Lessons from Fort Apache Marybeth Eleanor Nevins, 2024 Lessons from Fort

Apache is an ethnography of Indigenous language dynamics on the Fort Apache reservation in Arizona that reveals important implications for both North American and global concerns about language endangerment Narrative □ State of the Art

Michael Bamberg, 2007-03-14 Narrative State of the Art which was originally published as a Special Issue of Narrative Inquiry 16 1 2006 is edited by Michael Bamberg and contains 24 chapters with a brief introduction by the editor that look back and take stock of developments in narrative theorizing and empirical work with narratives The attempt has been made to bring together researchers from different disciplines with very different concerns and have them express their conceptions of the current state of the art from their perspectives Looking back and taking stock this volume further attempts to begin to deliver answers to the questions i What was it that made the original turn to narrative so successful ii What has been accomplished over the last 40 years of narrative inquiry iii What are the future directions for narrative inquiry The contributions to this volume are deliberately kept short so that the readers can browse through them and get a feel about the diversity of current narrative theorizing and emerging new trends in narrative research It is the ultimate aim of this edited volume to stir up discussions and dialogue among narrative researchers across these disciplines and to widen and open up the territory of narrative inquiry to new and innovative work Poetics of Emptiness Jonathan Stalling, 2011-10-03 The

Poetics of Emptiness uncovers an important untold history by tracing the historically specific intertextual pathways of a single if polyvalent philosophical term emptiness as it is transformed within twentieth century American poetry and poetics This conceptual migration is detailed in two sections The first focuses on transpacific Buddhist poetics while the second maps the less well known terrain of transpacific Daoist poetics In Chapters 1 and 2 the author explores Ernest Fenollosa s The Chinese Written Character as a Medium for Poetry as an expression of Fenollosa s distinctly Buddhist poetics informed by a two decade long encounter with a culturally hybrid form of Buddhism known as Shin Bukkyo New Buddhism Chapter 2 explores the classical Chinese poetics that undergirds the lost half of Fenollosa s essay Chapter 3 concludes the first half of the book with an exploration of the didactic and soteriological function of emptiness in Gary Snyder s influential poetry and poetics The second half begins with a critical exploration of the three decades long career of the poet translator critic Wai lim Yip whose transpacific Daoist poetics has been an important fixture in American poetic late modernism and has begun to gain wider notoriety in China The last chapter engages the intertextual weave of poststructural thought and Daoist and shamanistic discourses in Theresa Hak Kyung Cha s important body of heterocultural productions By formulating interpretive frames as hybrid as the texts being read this book makes available one of the most important yet still largely unknown stories of American poetry and poetics Seeing with Different Eyes Patrick Curry, Angela Voss

, 2009-05-05 Seeing with Different Eyes Essays in Astrology and Divination represents the cutting edge of contemporary thought and research on divination The thirteen authors come from a variety of academic disciplines ranging from anthropology and classics to English literature and religious studies and all address the question of divination astrology and

oracles in a spirit of critical but sympathetic inquiry The emphasis is on a participatory and reflexive approach which is firmly post positivist seeking to understand the divinatory act on its own terms within widely varying contexts ancient Greek and Chaldean philosophy and theurgy Theravadan Buddhism Biblical studies Elizabethan Hermeticism Jacobean drama Heideggerian philosophy Medieval scholasticism 19th century occultism contemporary Guatemalan divination and Western medical practice The authors are all teachers or researchers in the area of divination and symbolism which is a new disciplinary focus developing at the University of Kent Canterbury under the aegis of the MA programme in the Cultural Study of Cosmology and Divination The essays in this volume originally contributed to an international conference of the same name held there in April 2006

From Orality to Orality James A. Maxey, 2009-09-15 In this groundbreaking work Bible translation is presented as an expression of contextualization that explores the neglected riches of the verbal arts in the New Testament Going beyond a historical study of media in antiquity this book explores a renewed interest in oral performance that informs methods and goals of Bible translation today Such exploration is concretized in the New Testament translation work in central Africa among the Vute people of Cameroon This study of contextualization appreciates the agency of local communities particularly in Africa who seek to express their Christian faith in response to anthropological pauperization An extended analysis of African theologians demonstrates the ultimate goals of contextualization liberation and identity Oral performance exploits all the senses in experiencing communication while performer text and audience negotiate meaning Performance not only expresses but also shapes identity as communities express their faith in varied contexts This book contends that the New Testament compositions were initially performed and not restricted to individualized silent reading This understanding encourages a reexamination of how Bible translation can be done Performance is not a product but a process that infuses biblical studies with new insights methods and expressions

Rabinal Achi Dennis Tedlock, 2003-09-04 Tedlock's photographs and diagrams accompany the text capturing nuances not apparent in the dialogue alone He also provides an introduction and commentary that explains the historical events compressed into the play the Spanish influence on the Mayan dramatic tradition and the cultural and religious world preserved in this remarkable play BOOK JACKET Nine Visits to the Mythworld Ghandl of the Qayahll Llaanas, 2023-10-28 In the Fall of 1900 a young American anthropologist named John Swanton arrived in the Haida country on the Northwest Coast of North America intending to learn everything he could about Haida mythology He spent the next ten months phonetically transcribing several thousand pages of myths stories histories and songs in the Haida language Swanton met a number of fine mythtellers during his year in the Haida country Each had his own style and his own repertoire Two of them a blind man in his fifties by the name of Ghandl and a crippled septuagenarian named Skaay were artists of extraordinary stature revered in their own communities and admired ever since by the few specialists aware of their great legacy Nine Visits to the Mythworld includes all the finest works of one of these master mythtellers In November 1900 when Ghandl dictated these nine stories the Haida world lay in ruins Wave upon wave of smallpox and other diseases rapacious commercial exploitation by fur traders whalers and miners and relentless missionization by the church had taken a huge toll on Haida culture Yet in the blind poet's mind the great tradition lived and in his voice it comes alive Robert Bringhurst's eloquent and vivid translations of these works are supplemented by explanatory notes that supply the needed background
