

BIBLE STUDY PROJECT: CORRELATION TEMPLATE

Passage: Acts 19:11-22

- A. The story about God's actions performing miracles through Paul, and the events described in Acts 19:11–22 are consistent with the Bible's metanarrative's central theme of redemption. The narrative of reclamation plans to save humankind from their wrongdoings. In Acts 19:11-22, the text uncovers wonderful deeds performed by Paul. The touch of Paul's garments could heal and banish evil spirits. Moreover, Paul would expel evil spirits by calling upon the name of Jesus, the same Jesus who accomplished redemption at Calvary through His crucifixion and sacrifice for our sins. Further in the scripture, witnesses of the miracles were moved to confess their sins publicly, and the word of the Lord spread throughout the land. These witnesses witnessed God's promises in action and found salvation. Redemption is evident in this scripture through various means.
- B. This scripture underscores a significant theological principle: that the name of Jesus possesses genuine power, accessible exclusively to those in a personal relationship with Him. Initially, Paul demonstrated this authority by invoking Jesus's name to expel evil spirits. As John 14:13-14 emphasizes, "Whatever you ask in my name, this I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. 14 If you ask me anything in my name, I will do it". In Acts 19:15, a malevolent spirit acknowledges Jesus and Paul, highlighting the importance of personal connection. Acts 4:12 further emphasizes this truth, declaring, "And there is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved." Jesus himself reaffirms this in John 14:6, stating, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No one comes to the father except through me."
- C. Acts teach us that the power of Jesus' name is restricted to those who have a personal relationship with Him. This is similar to how Jesus dealt with demonic spirits when He was on earth. Philippians 2:9-11 states "Therefore God has highly exalted Him and has freely bestowed on Him the name that is above every name, that at the mention of the name of Jesus every knee shall bow, of those in heaven, those on earth and those under the earth and that every tongue shall confess that Jesus Christ is Lord to the Glory of God
