Five Comic One Act Plays:

Plays by George Colman the Younger and Thomas Morton Barry Sutcliffe, 1983-09-08 This volume contains edited texts of five plays by two late eighteenth century dramatists The plays have been chosen to represent the range of the two playwrights and the variety of dramatic material on offer during the period The full length plays and afterpieces by George Colman the Younger and Thomas Morton were as popular as Sheridan's works in their time but today are seldom performed or read This discrepancy lies at the heart of Barry Sutcliffe's extensive introduction which explores the critical and social background to the dramatic activity of the period and relates the dramas to the shifting demands of the theatre audiences for whom these plays were written

Cyril's Success. A comedy in five acts, etc Henry James Byron, 1870 The Director as Collaborator Robert Knopf, 2015-10-05 The Director as Collaborator teaches essential directing skills while emphasizing how directors and theatre productions benefit from collaboration Good collaboration occurs when the director shares responsibility for the artistic creation with the entire production including actors designers stage managers and technical staff Leadership does not preclude collaboration in theatre these concepts can and should be complementary Students will develop their abilities by directing short scenes and plays and by participating in group exercises
