The Battle of the Denmark Strait Daniel Knowles, 2020-10-04 Dawn 24 May 1941 two groups of ships one British one German meet in the Denmark Strait Here two giants of maritime history HMS Hood and the Bismarck meet Within minutes of the battle beginning HMS Hood blows up with a catastrophic loss of life Out of a crew of 1 418 only three survive Coupled with this the Royal Navy's newest battleship is outfought While this is a cause of celebration for the Germans Bismarck has been wounded curtailing her Atlantic raiding sortie Despite the wealth of documentary information and photographic evidence available on the battle there continues to be controversy as to how the conflict was actually fought This book analyses the events of 24 May 1941 to both shed new light and provide clarifications on how the battle was fought the damage that different ships sustained and how it was that the pride of the Royal Navy was destroyed in such a catastrophic manner

HMS Hood Daniel Knowles, 2019-07-15 For over twenty years the battlecruiser HMS Hood toured the world as the most iconic warship in the Royal Navy Unmatched in her beauty and charisma Hood is one of history's greatest warships During the twilight years of the British Empire the Hood toured the world showing the flag as a symbol of British power As the Royal Navy's show ship Hood came to command a special place in the hearts and minds of the British public Such was the regard for HMS Hood that her destruction in the Denmark Strait on the morning of 24 May 1941 by the German battleship Bismarck created dismay across the world Within minutes of entering battle the Mighty Hood as she was affectionately known was destroyed by a catastrophic explosion which had echoes of Jutland a quarter of a century earlier Out of a crew of 1 418 only 3 survived The sinking of HMS Hood was the single largest disaster ever sustained by the Royal Navy This book charts the life and death of this legendary battlecruiser in both peace and war from her early origins through the interwar years to her destruction

England's Last War Against France Colin Smith,2010-11-25 Genuinely new story of the Second World War the full account of England s last war against France in 1940 42 Most people think that England s last war with France involved point blank broadsides from sailing ships and breastplated Napoleonic cavalry charging red coated British infantry But there was a much more recent conflict than this Under the terms of its armistice with Nazi Germany the unoccupied part of France and its substantial colonies were ruled from the spa town of Vichy by the government of Marshal Philip Petain Between July 1940 and November 1942 while Britain was at war with Germany Italy and ultimately Japan it also fought land sea and air battles with the considerable forces at the disposal of Petain s Vichy French When the Royal Navy sank the French Fleet at Mers El Kebir almost 1 300 French sailors died in what was the twentieth century s most one sided sea battle British casualties were nil It is a wound that has still not healed for undoubtedly these events are better remembered in France than in Britain An embarrassment at the time France s maritime massacre and the bitter hard fought campaigns that followed rarely make more than footnotes in accounts of Allied operations against Axis forces Until now

King George V-Class Battleships Daniel Knowles,2022-04-08 Following the First World War the major naval powers entered into an agreement restricting the construction of capital ships and limiting the numbers that signatories were allowed to maintain so numerous ships were scrapped or disposed of and the majority of planned vessel were either cancelled whilst being built or never laid down By the late 1920s the Royal Navy s battle force comprised of the two Nelson class ships the battlecruisers Hood Renown and Repulse and Revenge and Queen Elizabeth class ships all designed before the First World War In 1928 the Royal Navy began planning a new class of battleships which was put on hold with the signing of the Treaty of London In 1935 realising its battle fleet was becoming dated as other nations laid down new classes of battleships the Royal Navy recommenced planning capital ships within treaty limitations The result was the King George V class battleships Regarded by some as the worst new generation battleships in the Second World War the King George V class were Britain s most modern battleships during the conflict and saw action in some of the most famous engagements from the sinking of the Bismarck in 1941 to the surrender of Japan in 1945 This book charts the story of the King George V class from its conception and design through to the operational history of the ships in the class

The Royal Navy in the Age of Austerity 1919-22 G. H. Bennett draws connections between the early 20th century and the present day showing how the same kind of connections exist between naval and foreign policy the provision of ships for the Royal Navy business and regional prosperity and employment The Royal Navy in the Age of Austerity 1919 22 engages with a series of important historiographical debates relating to the history of the Royal Navy the failures of British Defence policy in the inter war period and the evolution of British foreign policy after 1919 together with more mundane debates about British economic industrial social and political history in the aftermath of the First World War It will be of great interest to scholars and students of British naval history

Joseph Moretz,2012-12-06 Joseph Moretz's innovative work focuses on what battleships actually did in the inter war years and what its designed war role in fact was In doing so the book tells us much about British naval policy and planning of the time Drawing heavily on official Admiralty records and private papers of leading officers the author examines the navy's operational experience and the evolution of its tactical doctrine during the interwar period He argues that operational experience combined with assumptions about the nature of a future naval war were more important in keeping the battleship afloat than conservatism in Navy

Hunt the Bismarck Angus Konstam,2019-09-19 Hunt the Bismarck tells the story of Operation Rheinbung the Atlantic sortie of Nazi Germany's largest battleship Bismarck in May 1941 and her subsequent pursuit by the Royal Navy Bismarck entered naval service in the summer of 1940 She was well armed with eight 15in guns as well as a powerful array of lighter weapons while her armoured protection earned her the reputation of being unsinkable This claim was put to the test in May 1941 when she sortied into the Atlantic and fought the legendary battle of the Denmark Strait destroying HMS Hood the pride of the Royal Navy Bismarck was now loose in the North Atlantic However damage sustained in the battle limited her ability to roam at will and the Royal Navy deployed the Home Fleet to avenge the sinking of the Hood The stage was set for the greatest chase story in the history of naval warfare Drawing on a wealth of first hand accounts and intertwining extensive research into a fast paced narrative this is the most readable and accurate account of Bismarck's epic pursuit ever produced
