Advances and Technologies in High Voltage Power Systems Operation, Control, Protection and Security Hassan Haes Alhelou, Pierluigi Siano, 2021-08-30 The electrical demands in several countries around the world are increasing due to the huge energy requirements of prosperous economies and the human activities of modern life In order to economically transfer electrical powers from the generation side to the demand side these powers need to be transferred at high voltage levels through suitable transmission systems and power substations To this end high voltage transmission systems and power substations are in demand Actually they are at the heart of interconnected power systems in which any faults might lead to unsuitable consequences abnormal operation situations security issues and even power cuts and blackouts In order to cope with the ever increasing operation and control complexity and security in interconnected high voltage power systems new architectures concepts algorithms and procedures are essential This book aims to encourage researchers to address the technical issues and research gaps in high voltage transmission systems and power substations in modern energy systems

Fault Diagnosis of Nonlinear Systems Using a Hybrid Approach Ehsan Sobhani-Tehrani, Khashayar Khorasani, 2009-06-22

The increasing complexity of space vehicle such as satellites and the cost reduction measures that have affected satellite operators are increasingly driving the need for more autonomy in satellite diagnostics and control systems Current methods for detecting and correcting anomalies onboard the spacecraft as well as on the ground are primarily manual and labor intensive and therefore tend to be slow Operators inspect telemetry data to determine the current satellite health They use various statistical techniques and models but the analysis and evaluation of the large volume of data still require extensive human intervention and expertise that is prone to error Furthermore for spacecraft and most of these satellites there can be potentially unduly long delays in round trip communications between the ground station and the satellite In this context it is desirable to have onboard fault diagnosis system that is capable of detecting isolating identifying or classifying faults in the system without the involvement and intervention of operators Toward this end the principle goal here is to improve the efficiency accuracy and reliability of the trend analysis and diagnostics techniques through utilization of intelligent based and hybrid based methodologies
