Five Years On St Simons:

Five Years on St. Simons Carol Ashmore, 2003-07 Georgia's Land of the Golden Isles Burnette Vanstory, 1981 Since it first appeared in 1956 Mrs Vanstory's rich narrative of the barrier islands from Ossabaw to Cumberland and the mainland towns along the way has become the standard popular history of Georgia's golden coast Thoroughly revised and with over forty new illustrations this edition traces the crucial and colorful role these islands have played from the sixteenth century to the twentieth Home at one time or another to the American Indians the French the Spanish and the English to buccaneers friars and priests to Puritans and Scottish Highlanders to slave traders planters soldiers statesmen and millionaires these islands are as rich in history as they are in natural beauty Georgia's Land of the Golden Isles now takes the reader through the years from General James Oglethorpe to President Jimmy Carter unfolding the stories of the lives that What Nature Suffers to Groe Mart A. Stewart, 2002 What have touched or been touched by the golden isles of Georgia Nature Suffers to Groe explores the mutually transforming relationship between environment and human culture on the Georgia coastal plain between 1680 and 1920 Each of the successive communities on the coast the philanthropic and imperialistic experiment of the Georgia Trustees the plantation culture of rice and sea island cotton planters and their slaves and the postbellum society of wage earning freedmen lumbermen vacationing industrialists truck farmers river engineers and New South promoters developed unique relationships with the environment which in turn created unique landscapes The core landscape of this long history was the plantation landscape which persisted long after its economic foundation had begun to erode The heart of this study examines the connection between power relations and different perceptions and uses of the environment by masters and slaves on lowcountry plantations and how these differing habits of land use created different but interlocking landscapes Nature also has agency in this story some landscapes worked and some did not Mart A Stewart argues that the creation of both individual and collective livelihoods was the consequence not only of economic and social interactions but also of changing environmental ones and that even the best adaptations required constant negotiation between culture and nature In response to a question of perennial interest to historians of the South Stewart also argues that a sense of place grew out of these negotiations and that at least on the coastal plain the South as a place changed in meaning Haunted South Georgia Jim Miles, 2014-05-13 Each county in the vast territory of southern Georgia has a several times haunted history The old Barber Tucker Inn in Colquitt County and the renovated former Scottish Inn in Bryan County host ghostly guests A profane spirit disturbed a house s former residents with vile language The Hairy Man still searches a swamp for his long lost son A Dodge County ghost twice saved the lives of a family s children while one in Liberty County mysteriously extinguished a fire that would have destroyed a historic house Ghosts in Randolph County and Echols County provided the living with evidence sufficient to convict their murderers Join author Jim Miles as he recounts stories from the fifty seven counties of the region Collections of the Georgia Historical Society Georgia Historical Society, 1878 The
