John Donne's Poetry and Early Modern Visual Culture Ann Hurley,2005 This study argues the thesis that John Donne s poetry already well served by the insightful close readings of earlier generations of scholars can now profit from being read in the context of early modern cultural experience specifically its visual culture It points out that the focus on visual culture allows for a non monolithic flexible reading of Donne s verse in part because it acknowledges that while the complexity of his religious identity has been well explored the complexity of his secular interest has perhaps been less thoroughly examined Since a study of early modern visual culture is deeply concerned with the vicissitudes of the image both religious and secular such a context serves to integrate what in Donne sometimes invites polarity Focused on close readings of several poems the study is in two parts On the one hand it examines the visual culture of early modern England and argues that reading Donne s poetry enhances our understanding of how that culture actually operated when looked at through the experience of a practicing poet the visual culture through which it participated adds a dimension to that verse that would otherwise be less accessible to us Ann H Hurley is Professor of English at Wagner College Contemporary Irish Poetry, New and Revised Editon Anthony Bradley,1988-11-15 The poems featured in this anthology are quintessentially human documents informed by humor compassion and a joyful and visionary element an impulse to praise what is really life and to protect it from the naysayers as well as by a salutary realism and irony This revised edition features the work of Tom Paulin Medbh McGuckian Paul Durcan Aidan Carl Mathews Anne Hartigan Nuala n Dhomhnaill and others who were not included in the first edition Moreover the selections from those poets featured in the first edition have in many cases been extensively changed and updated In total more than half the poems published in this second edition did not appear in the first Materijali za istorijata na Makedonija ,1982 The Circulation of Poetry in Manuscript in Early Modern England Arthur F.

Marotti,2021-05-26 This study examines the transmission and compilation of poetic texts through manuscripts from the late Elizabethan era through the mid seventeenth century paying attention to the distinctive material social and literary features of these documents The study has two main focuses the first the particular social environments in which texts were compiled and second the presence within this system of a large body of usually anonymous rare or unique poems Manuscripts from aristocratic academic and urban professional environments are examined in separate chapters that highlight particular collections Two chapters consider the social networking within the university and London that facilitated the transmission within these environments and between them Although the topic is addressed throughout the study the place of rare or unique poems in manuscript collections is at the center of the final three chapters The book as a whole argues that scholars need to pay more attention to the social life of texts in the period and to little known or unknown rare or unique poems that represent a field of writing broader than that defined in a literary history based mainly on the products of print culture
