Food and Climate Change without the hot air S L Bridle, 2020-09-03

Did you know that more than a quarter of the greenhouse gas emissions that cause climate change come from food In this ground breaking and accessible book Professor Sarah Bridle calculates the greenhouse gas emissions of a selection of our most popular meals and beverages from a cup of tea and a bowl of cereal to spaghetti bolognese and chicken tikka masala Breaking down different ingredients and cooking methods to reveal their environmental impact she finds delicious and sustainable meal alternatives With this knowledge we can make a conscious effort to lower our emissions such as eating more locally grown produce and introducing meat free days enabling us to help our planet while also eating healthier food As well as explaining how our food choices impact the environment and giving practical advice on how to lower emissions Food and Climate Change without the hot air considers how climate change will affect the food of the future A rigorously researched discussion of how food and climate change are intimately connected Bridle also dives into the important topic of food waste and gives valuable tips to avoid leftovers Illustrated in full colour throughout this is an essential resource for anyone with eco anxiety looking for quick and easy ideas to become more sustainable Extracting the Future Mark Goodale,2025-10-07 Bolivia's troubled efforts to develop a commercial lithium industry Bolivia's lithium accounts for a significant percentage of the world's known reserve Drawing on extensive ethnographic research Mark Goodale traces the development of Bolivia's closely guarded lithium project through the perspectives of a wide array of people and institutions including workers at the Salar de Uyuni the world's largest salt flat the state lithium company in La Paz Latin America's first electric vehicle company and energy entrepreneurs in Bolivia the United States and Germany He points to a fundamental contradiction a so called green energy transition dependent on the ever greater extraction of yet another nonrenewable resource But without access to Bolivia's lithium and at megaindustrial scales that far outstrip current production there won't be sufficient lithium supply to make the batteries needed for a truly global EV revolution Extracting the Future shows how the lithium economy is deeply embedded in a global capitalist system that continues to rely on resource extraction unsustainable economic growth and geopolitical violence
