Flashback A Story Of Posttraumatic Redemption:

Flashback Gregory Stanley, 2001-04-02 Flashback Gregory Stanley, 2001-03 On February 12 1991 all the schools in the small town of Monroe Georgia were the targets of simultaneous terrorist attacks Over 40 people were killed Yet the high school suffered no casualties thanks to the actions of the students favorite teacher Daniel Tillman who single handedly dispatched the attackers After the attacks word begins leaking out that Tillman had spent seven years in Vietnam as part of the ultra secret SOG Special Forces team The teachers administration and some townspeople demand his dismissal because they no longer feel comfortable around him The story focuses on how he is prodded into fighting for his future and how along the way he comes to terms with his past He is aided and sustained by the love and support of his students the advice of an aged uncle the interventions of a pesky CNN reporter and the help of one of the state s most powerful politicians who has vivid memories of the teacher from twenty years earlier Transitions - Liminality as Lived Experience Marta B.

Erdoş, 2025-07-23 This book adopting a systemic transdisciplinary perspective explores the sociopsychological and the psychosocial interfaces shaping people s lived experiences of liminality It is about life s outstandingly chaotic and confusing moments regularly recurring in or under calamitous circumstances pervading our lives in the 21st century Prospects for constructive change have traditionally been present in transformative liminal settings The broad context of permanent liminality however is conducive to impasses in the process of change The resulting liminal hotspots are characterized by a turmoil of negative feelings and increased suggestibility In the book discursive analyses underpin and illustrate the key points Part I of the book serves as an introduction exploring the mixed potential inherent languaging and symbol use in the social construction of transitions and liminal phenomena Part II comprises sociopsychological analyses of the contexts as labyrinths of meaning of today s globalized a mazed societies where economy politics and info communication technologies are closely intertwined to maintain trickster liminality This part includes explorations on two distinct forms of manipulative discourse characteristic of authoritarian regimes highlighting the role of double bind relations that permeate a despotic system to perpetuate unpredictability chaos and repeated entrapments in liminal hotspots The author explores the discursive practices altering the traditional patterns of transformative liminality into the absurdity of permanent liminality with its self destructive power Part III is about the psychosocial interface focusing on the intersubjective domain of the individual s lived experiences specifically on the phenomenological connections between rites of transition and psychosocial crises Further it comprises explorations on the prospects for transformative liminality inherent in dialogue As a conclusion humans constructive potential must be coupled with care to benefit from transformations Transitioning from one form of process into the subsequent one remains an intrinsic and mercurial event in human development Let us embrace these moments but embrace them with care Transitions Liminality as Lived Experience is primarily intended for scholars as well as students master s level or PhD in the broad area of social sciences especially in social communication discourse studies counselling

History Films, Women, and Freud's Uncanny Susan E. Linville, 2004-06-01 History films were a highly popular genre in the 1990s as Hollywood looked back at significant and troubling episodes from World War II the Cold War era and the techno war in the Persian Gulf As filmmakers attempted to confront and manage intractable elements of the American past such as the trauma of war and the legacy of racism Susan Linville argues that a surprising casualty occurred the erasure of relevant facets of contemporary women's history In this book Linville offers a sustained critique of the history film and its reduction of women to figures of ambivalence or absence Historicizing and adapting Freud's concept of the uncanny and its relationship to the maternal body as the first home she offers theoretically sophisticated readings of the films Midnight Clear Saving Private Ryan The Thin Red Line Nixon Courage Under Fire Lone Star and Limbo. She also demonstrates that the uncanny is not only a source of anxiety but also potentially a progressive force for eroding nostalgic ideals of nation and gender. Linville concludes with a close reading of a recent 9/11 documentary showing how the patterns and motifs of 1990s history films informed it and what that means for our future.

Special Issue Austin Sarat, 2016-02-17 This volume carefully examines the relationship between gender equality and power across an array of realms: sex, reproduction, pleasure, work, money.
