Erin Beeghly,2025-02-20 What s Wrong with Stereotyping offers a refreshing and accessibly written philosophical take on the ethics of stereotyping Stereotyping is woven into every aspect of human experience conversation psychology algorithmic systems and culture It relates to generalization and induction core aspects of rationality But when and why it is morally wrong to stereotype This book tackles this deep and enduring puzzle To solve it Erin Beeghly delves into the relationship between stereotyping and another phenomenon discrimination Not only does stereotyping cause discriminatory treatment she argues stereotyping can itself be discriminatory This insight that to stereotype is to discriminate enables a novel philosophical methodology which builds towards a theory of wrongful stereotyping by analyzing the lived experiences of marginalized groups and existing theories of wrongful discrimination Core chapters evaluate important ethical wrongs the failure to treat persons as individuals disrespect harm prejudice threats to freedoms and the failure to treat persons as equals One finds that there is no essence of

Sweet Anticipation David Huron, 2008-01-25 The psychological theory of expectation that David Huron proposes in Sweet Anticipation grew out of the author's experimental efforts to understand how music evokes emotions These efforts evolved into a general theory of expectation that will prove informative to readers interested in cognitive science and evolutionary psychology as well as those interested in music The book describes a set of psychological mechanisms and illustrates how these mechanisms work in the case of music All examples of notated music can be heard on the Web Huron proposes that emotions evoked by expectation involve five functionally distinct response systems reaction responses which engage defensive reflexes tension responses where uncertainty leads to stress prediction responses which reward accurate prediction imagination responses which facilitate deferred gratification and appraisal responses which occur after conscious thought is engaged For real world events these five response systems typically produce a complex mixture of feelings The book identifies some of the aesthetic possibilities afforded by expectation and shows how common musical devices such as syncopation cadence meter tonality and climax exploit the psychological opportunities The theory also provides new insights into the physiological psychology of awe laughter and spine tingling chills Huron traces the psychology of expectations from the patterns of the physical cultural world through imperfectly learned heuristics used to predict that world to the phenomenal qualia we experienced as we apprehend the world
