Fox, 2013-02-26 Among the buildings on the National Mall in Washington D C only the Pan American Union PAU houses an international organization The first of many anticipated peace palaces constructed in the early twentieth century the PAU began with a mission of cultural diplomacy and after World War II its Visual Arts Section became a leader in the burgeoning hemispheric arts scene proclaiming Latin America s entr e into the international community as it forged connections between a growing base of middle class art consumers on one hand and concepts of supranational citizenship and political and economic liberalism on the other Making Art Panamerican situates the ambitious visual arts programs of the PAU within the broader context of hemispheric cultural relations during the cold war Focusing on the institutional interactions among aesthetic movements cultural policy and viewing publics Claire F Fox contends that in the postwar years the PAU Visual Arts Section emerged as a major transfer point of hemispheric American modernist movements and played an important role in the consolidation of Latin American art as a continental object of study As it traces the careers of individual cultural policymakers and artists who intersected with the PAU in the two postwar decades such as Concha Romero James Charles Seeger Jos G mez Sicre Jos Luis Cuevas and Rafael Squirru the book also charts the trajectories and displacements of sectors of the U S and Latin American intellectual left during a tumultuous interval that spans the Mexican Revolution the Spanish Civil War the New Deal and the early cold war Challenging the U S bias of conventional narratives about Panamericanism and the postwar shift in critical values from realism to abstraction Making Art Panamerican illuminates the institutional dynamics that helped shape aesthetic movements in the critical decades following World War II The Usable Past Lois Parkinson Zamora, 1997-12-13 A comparative study of Latin American and North American fiction Writing the Apocalypse Lois Parkinson Zamora, 1989-04-28 This is a comparative literary study of apocalyptic themes and narrative techniques in the contemporary North and Latin American novel Zamora explores the history of the myth of apocalypse from the Bible to medieval and later interpretations and relates this to the development of American apocalyptic attitudes She demonstrates that the symbolic tensions inherent in the apocalyptic myth have special meaning for postmodern writers Zamora focuses her examination on the relationship between the temporal ends and the narrative endings in the works of six major novelists Gabriel Garcia Marquez Thomas Pynchon Julio Cortazar John Barth Walker Percy and Carlos Fuentes Distinguished by its unique cross cultural perspective this book addresses the question of the apocalypse as a matter of intellectual and literary history Zamora s analysis will enlighten both scholars of North and Latin American literature and readers of contemporary fiction José Luis Cuevas visto por los escritores, 2000 America Unbound Antonio Barrenechea, 2016-11-15 This original contribution to hemispheric American literary studies comprises readings of three important novels from Mexico Canada and the United States Carlos Fuentes's Terra Nostra Quebecois writer Jacques Poulin's Volkswagen Blues and Native American writer Leslie Marmon Silko's Almanac of the Dead The encyclopedic novel has particular generic characteristics that serve these writers as a vehicle for the reincorporation of hemispheric histories Starting with an examination of Moby Dick as precursor Barrenechea shows how this narrative genre allows Fuentes Poulin and Silko to reflect the interconnected world of today as well as to dramatize indigenous and colonial values in their narratives His close attention to written documents visual representations and oral traditions in these encyclopedic novels sheds light on their comparative cultural relations and the New World from pole to pole This study amplifies the scope of America across cultures and languages time and tradition José Luis Cuevas José Luis Cuevas, Catalog of the Library of the Museum of Modern Art: Col Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.).
