

A Ghost Who Loves the Movies

I'm a ghost who loves the movies;
I never miss a show.
I pour myself some popcorn
And sit in the front row.

I just adore the comedies
And laugh the whole way through;
The last time I saw one of those,
I laughed away my BOO.

I like to watch the dramas,
And musicals are fun,
But fall asleep in mushy flicks
The moment they've begun.

But mostly I prefer the films
That chill you to the bone—
The kind that leave you wishing
That you had not come alone.

It seems folks don't appreciate
A movie-going shade;
They say I scare the crowds away
And make people afraid.

Though I'm as friendly as can be
And always say hello
To those who sit right next to me
Before they start the show.

I'm a ghost who loves the movies;
It's my favorite place to be;
So the next time that you see one,
You might bump into me.

Ghost Poems and Wetland Ballads David Rollison, 2014-03-01 A selection of recent poems by San Francisco Bay Area poet David Rollison Carolina Ghost Woods Judy Jordan, 2000-03-01 Ghost Poems Daisy Wallace, 1979 The Body Ghost Joseph Lease, 2018-06-05 Promise me the rich can't sleep Joseph Lease begs in The Body Ghost offering poems as light on the page as nursery rhymes and as powerful as prayer Here verse conjures up the body in pain the body politic in collapse and the tensile strength of the filaments that connect us Through a Small Ghost Chelsea Dingman, 2020 This collection of poems speaks to the grief and trauma associated with stillbirth and infertility But more than that these poems are concerned with how both parents deal with this trauma without letting it tear them or their relationship apart There are threads beneath the surface of the poems that speak to the inequality in these relationships and in the male female dynamic whether this inequality is perceived or real Dingman also questions the perception of reality itself when dealing with the traumatized mind Dingman asks the difficult questions that surround child rearing Are the children themselves everything the parents had hoped for Is there still something missing She explores the invisibility of the mother after she has children as well as what a woman is willing to sacrifice in terms of body country and relationship Set against changing political climates in Florida Canada and Denmark these poems navigate the geopolitical differences that influence the experience of parenting

Ghost Letters Richard McCann, 2015-12-01 Fiercely passionate and deeply elegiac Richard McCann's Ghost Letters chronicles the intersection of grief and desire These are poems of memory but they are made of the body the consoling body the wounded body the sexual body both loved and unloved The Haunted Hour Various, Margaret Widdemer, 2008-04 Published for the first time in one volume this ghostly collection features 20 chilling tales from all time masters of mystery and suspense The authors include Richard Matheson Simon P McCaffery Bram Stoker David Dean Ray Bradbury Jo Bannister Robert Bloch Stephen F Wilcox Robert Campbell David Braly Patricia Highsmith and many more This Ghostly Poetry Daniel Aguirre-Otezia, 2020-04-02 The Spanish Civil War was idealized as a poet's war The thousands of poems written about the conflict are memorable evidence of poetry's high cultural and political value in those historical conditions After Franco's victory and the repression that followed numerous Republican exiles relied on the symbolic agency of poetry to uphold a sense of national identity Exilic poems are often read as claim making narratives that fit national literary history This Ghostly Poetry critiques this conventional understanding of literary history by arguing that exilic poems invite readers to seek continuity with a traumatic past just as they prevent their narrative articulation The book uses the figure of the ghost to address temporal challenges to historical continuity brought about by memory tracing the discordant disruptive ways in which memory is interwoven with history in poems written in exile Taking a novel approach to cultural memory This Ghostly Poetry engages with literature history and politics while exploring issues of voice time representation and disciplinarity

Booth s ruminations on loss in this award winning debut are rooted in a time past but one still palpable and persistent Here are memories of love lost family mourned a father absent ghosts of hometowns and childhood Here too is a Short Letter to the Twentieth Century and finally a Long Letter to the Twentieth Century as if across this collection the poet is mustering up the force to speak back to history In Dexter Booth s Scratching the Ghost a cracked egg means the universe is splitting the slap of a double dutch rope is a broken throated hymn and splitting a squealing hog is akin to lovemaking These are poems loyal to their own intrepid logic and reckless plausibility Yet lest the reader get too giddy in a fun house of mirrors here too are the melodic laments and remarkable lyric passages of a poet who acknowledges the infinite current of melancholy that underlines his journey Major Jackson Women's Ghost Literature in Nineteenth-Century Britain Melissa Edmundson Makala, 2013-02-15 Women s Ghost Literature in Nineteenth Century Britain examines the Female Gothic genre and how it expanded to include not only gender concerns but also social critiques of repressed sexuality economics and imperialism

Two Ghost Poems Frederick Turner, 2011 Index of Haunted Houses Adam O. Davis, 2020-09-01 This is a book of ghost stories and for the most part ghosts are jealous monsters intent upon our destruction They never appear overtly here yet we gradually become aware of their presence the way spirits in haunted houses trod over creaky floors slam doors and issue sudden gusts of wind The poems are Koan like the fewer the words the more charged they are The engine driving this sense of haunting and loss is money which Davis describes as federal bone boiling around us Bison in Nebraska are reduced to bones seven standing men tall fodder for the fertilizer used by farmers in the 1800s Though they often specify dates there s an equality to the hauntings every instance has its moment and persists despite being in the past present or future If there really was a 1980 or 1848 or 1499 Davis implies it is somewhere Index of Haunted Houses is spooky and sad a stunning debut one that will surprise convince and most of all delight Ghost Gear Andrew McFadyen-Ketchum, 2014-03-01 2014 finalist Miller Williams Arkansas Poetry Prize Basin Ghosts Jesse Graves, 2014-03-20 Basin Ghosts is a chapbook of original poems by Jesse Graves author of Tennessee Landscape with Blighted Pine Many poems in Basin Ghosts address places and themes that resonated in Graves s first collection which won both the Weatherford Award and the Appalachian Writers Association Book of the Year Award in Poetry The poems in Basin Ghosts examine life in the rural South changes that have occurred over generations in communities there and the ways in which the past lives on through memory and attachment to the land Grace Notes Leora never walked the quarter mile of red dust to her bench at Big Sinks schoolhouse without carrying the hand sewn satchel she used for an accordion case The notes came to her out of some darkness a cavity just inside her ear where the curve of a sound pushed through her fingers and into the buttons of that strange machine

Where did the accordion come from The imprint read Vienna Austria 1904 and how it arrived to her in Capps Creek
Tennessee the middle of the middle of nowhere will pass like the mystery of cloudburst some graceful symmetry beyond this
