Ghosts And Goosebumps Ghost Stories Tall Tales And Superstitions From Alabama:

Ghosts and Goosebumps Jack Solomon, Olivia Solomon, 1994-03-01 Ghosts and Goosebumps is a rich collection of folktales and superstitions that capture the oral traditions of central and southeastern Alabama. In its pages one can glimpse the long lost horse and buggy times when people sat up all night with the dead and dying hoed and handpicked cotton, drew water from wells and met the devil rather regularly. The book is divided into three parts: tales, superstitions, and slave narratives. The spirits of treasure keepers, poltergeists, murderers, and the murdered, wicked men and good men, and true float through the book's first section. Sue Peacock, for example, recalls seeing the ghost of her brother, and E. C. Nevin describes a mysterious light in a swamp. In other tales, reports of supernatural experiences are proved to be rationally explicable. Lee Wilson's devil in the cemetery turns out to be a cow, and chains rattling near New Tabernacle Church in Coffee County belong not to specters but to hogs. The superstitions are arranged according to subject and include such topics as love and marriage, weather, and the seasons, wish making, bad luck signs, and portents. Anonymous tellers confide that it is bad luck to carry ashes out after dark, to let a locust holler in your hand, to rock an empty rocking chair, to let your fishing pole cross someone else's, or to have a two dollar bill unless one corner has been removed. The slave narratives selected from the Works Progress Administration Folklore Collection are substantial and yield a fascinating view of nineteenth century African American folk life, replete with sillies and lazy men, preachers and witches, brave little boys and reluctant bridegrooms. Although the times and places have changed, the spirit of the folk is unaltered. Taken together, these folktales are marvelously diverse, by turns fearsome, fantastical, witty, ribald, charmingly innocent, showing people from all backgrounds their endless vices and occasional virtues, their hopes, fears, and loves.

Shadows and Cypress Alan Brown, 2009-09-28 From backwaters as dark as a cypress swamp to nooks as mysterious as a musty college library, southerners have conjured spirits and told ghost stories. Shadows and Cypress: Southern Ghost Stories is a Dixie's dance that summons ghost tales from Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia. Collecting more than a dozen stories from each state, this book channels the South's entire panorama of creepy locales into one volume. The limestone caves of Kentucky, the swamps of Louisiana and Florida, the pine hills and hollows of Appalachia, and the plains of Texas: these are perfect haunts for a host of narratives about visitors from the spirit world. The many cultures that converged in the American South enriched the region's ghost stories. Shadows and Cypress taps African American, French, Hispanic, and Scotch Irish storytelling traditions to capture the distinctive signatures that each has left on ghostlore. Throughout the region, the southern ghost story is hardly a curio from the crypt. It is still alive and well. Folklorist Alan Brown draws stories from crannies as contemporary as the college dormitory or cars parked on a lover's lane. To give the reader the unique experience of hearing a classic ghost story told, Brown presents these tales exactly as they were recorded in his field research or as archived in the trove of the WPA oral collections. A wide variety of specters found only in this region arise in Shadows and

Cypress The fillet and loogaroo from Louisiana plat eye from South Carolina and haints from across Dixie are among the creatures bumping in the night Beginning with the Revolutionary War and continuing to the present day this generous gathering of tales will chill and delight readers and long haunt shelves as a comprehensive sourcebook of the region s supernatural allure
