Giants Among Us First Generation College Graduates Who Lead Activist Lives:

The Burden of Academic Success Allison L. Hurst, 2010-03-01 The Burden of Academic Success Loyalists Renegades and Double Agents explores class identity reconstructions among working class students attending a public university Rather than focus on working class failure this book takes a critical look at the psychological and social costs of academic success Based on several hours of interviews with a diverse group of working class students this book describes how successful students respond to react to and manage their academic success The book does for class what other theorists have done for race examining the dynamic interplay of class identity and educational success social mobility The distinguishing features of the book are rich narrative detail compelling stories of student success and struggle intersectional analysis exploring the ways class race and gender inform each other in students understandings and narratives with an interwoven theory throughout and a new typology for understanding working class student responses to the burden of academic success The Burden of Academic Success is ideal for courses on sociology education and American studies as well as for use by college educators and administrators

College and the Working Class Allison L. Hurst, 2012-03-26 What are the meanings experiences and impact of college for working class people The author of this book addresses the two questions what is college like for working class students and what is college for the working class In The Other Three Percent the author draws on a wealth of previous research to tell the stories of five very different working class college students as they apply to enter successfully navigate and complete college Through these stories readers will learn about the obstacles working class students face and overcome the costs and effectiveness of higher education as a mechanism of social mobility and the problems caused on our college campuses by our reticence to meaningfully confront the class divide Readers will be invited to compare their own experiences of higher education with those of the students here described and to evaluate their own institutions openness towards working class students through a series of checklists provided in the book's conclusion Allison L Hurst is Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology at Furman University in Greenville South Carolina She is a member of the Association of Working Class Academics

Black Women Undergraduates, Cultural Capital, and College Success Cerri A. Banks, 2009 This book documents the academic and social success of Black women undergraduates as they negotiate dominant educational and social discourses about their schooling lives Starting with the premise that Black women undergraduates are not a homogenous group and that they are being successful in college in greater numbers than Black men this book examines the ways they navigate being traditionally underprepared academically for college the discourse of acting white and oppressive classroom settings and practices This work expands the theoretical concept of cultural capital by identifying the abundant and varied forms of cultural capital that Black women undergraduates provide develop and utilize as they make their way through college The discussion of their raced classed and gendered experiences challenges the academy to make use of this understanding in its work towards educational equity This movement has wide reaching implications for ethos policy and practice in higher education Practical Strategies to Reduce Childhood Trauma and Mitigate Exposure to the School-to-Prison Pipeline Alexander-Ashley, Belinda M.,2023-01-03 School closures due to the COVID 19 pandemic racial violence injustice and resource inequities highlight the need for multi disciplinary strategies and practices that support evidence based practices across a range of educational levels for leaders professors teachers educational professionals trauma survivors and youth and government programs for both in class and remote learning environments Practical Strategies to Reduce Childhood Trauma and Mitigate Exposure to the School to Prison Pipeline provides practical strategies and tools focused on reducing childhood trauma while mitigating exposure to the school to prison pipeline Covering a range of crucial topics such as social justice trauma mindfulness and coaching this reference work is ideal for researchers scholars practitioners academicians educators leaders administrators school staff youth programs government organizations students and trauma survivors Developing Trauma-Informed Teachers Ofelia Schepers,Megan Brennan,Philip E. Bernhardt,2022-07-01 Trauma is a public health crisis High rates of trauma exposure among youth and the impact that experiences of trauma can have on students psychosocial and academic outcomes are well established These traumatic events do not live outside of the scope of schools and teaching As children and teachers develop communities within their classrooms and schools trauma comes with those who have experienced it whether invited or not Bien Motta 2012 These experiences capture many facets of students lives including traumatic events however many teachers indicate that they feel unprepared to address students who have experienced trauma in meaningful and sustainable ways Caringi et al 2015 In response many schools and districts have adopted trauma informed practices Overstreet Chafouleas 2016 This text addresses the gap in the literature in embedding trauma informed practices into pre service teacher education This text provides examples of the various ways educator preparation faculty are developing and implementing trauma informed practices across their programs instituting broader curricular shifts to incorporate trauma informed practices shifting pedagogical practices to include trauma informed practices and collaborating across disciplines in order to ensure that teacher candidates are thoughtfully prepared to address students needs and create classroom environments that are equitable safe and sustainable for students and teachers Proceedings of IAC-TLEI 2015 collective of authors,2015-07-05 Giants Among Us Sandria Rodriguez,2001 How do children from undereducated and impoverished backgrounds get to college What are the influences that lead them to overcome their socioeconomic disadvantages and sometimes the disapproval of families and friends to succeed in college These are the basic questions Sandria Rodriguez posed to seventeen first generation college graduates and their compelling life stories make important contributions to what little is known about this phenomenon The daughter of parents who didn t finish elementary school Rodriguez uses many examples from her own life in the course of examining the participants experiences before during and after college that directed them toward social or educational activism Together the seventeen represent a wide range of diversity in terms of race ethnicity age geographical area of childhood and profession Twelve of the seventeen hold advanced degrees all are working professionals and all come from families who were poor Jerry the son of German immigrants owns an engineering company in Chicago Chang a native of China is the first from his village to go to college Grant a sharecropper's son is a lawyer with a nationally prominent law firm in Washington D C and patron of fine arts Arlene a Mohawk Indian is a storyteller and social activist Alex from Spanish Harlem is an elementary school principal The book is divided into four parts In the first two chapters we meet the participants In the three chapters that follow Rodriguez examines how the participants as children perceived themselves within their families schools and communities Chapters four and five focus on the campus life and the participants' activist experiences Finally chapter six offers recommendations for mentoring disadvantaged children so that they can successfully switch the track and aim for something better

Teaching College in an Age of Accountability Richard E. Lyons, Meggin McIntosh, Marcella L. Kysilka, 2003 This book provides professors with the insights and tools necessary to achieve higher levels on accountability assessment outcomes while preparing students for enhancing their own career success in a more complex future In recent years many initiatives have been implemented by a number of state legislatures and boards of trustees to increase institutional effectiveness These measures have made colleges and universities aware that practices once accepted as sacrosanct within the culture will from this time forward be assessed regularly for their contribution to achieving more accountable outcomes This book equips professors to address outcome goals in a proactive manner

Journal of Career Development, 2004 Academic Cultures: Professional Preparation and the Teaching Life Sean P. Murphy, 2008 For better or for worse the goal of securing tenure track assistant professorships frames the graduate school experience for most students Yet what the graduate experience boasts in scholarly training it lacks in institutional training that is in guiding future faculty members to see and experience positively the wide variety of prospective professional identities rooted in assorted academic cultures

Academic Cultures: Professional Preparation and the Teaching Life gives voice to diversity in postsecondary education a strength of the system rather than a problem to redress Contributors whether they work at a private high school or a public comprehensive university an open access institution or a religiously affiliated college disclose to readers the details and outcomes of their cross sector transitions Their accounts show how faculty members from a range of institutions have built rewarding professional lives based on the traditional components of the professoriat teaching service and scholarship

Family, Community, and Higher Education Toby S. Jenkins, 2013-01-17 This book explores social topics and experiences that illustrate the various ways in which the family unit influences and impacts college students In the text the authors not only explore family memories but also challenge the traditional lack of inclusion and appreciation for family as knowledge producers and educational allies This book spotlights the family unit as a critical factor within the educational experience one that prepares supports and sustains educational achievement through both everyday simple lessons and critical and difficult family challenges Through these experiences families teach the lessons of survival that often help students to persist in college Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2001

PAIS International in Print Catherine Korvin,2003-05 This book contains bibliographic references with abstracts and subject headings to public and social policy literature and to world politics published in print and electronic formats international focus Adjunct Faculty in Community Colleges Desna L. Wallin,2005-01-15 The employment of adjunct faculty is often what allows community colleges to offer excellent yet affordable education however this group is often deprived of the professional development and basic amenities enjoyed by their full time colleagues Academic administrators are those charged with hiring and supervising adjunct faculty and this book provides them with examples of successful programs that highlight the important connection between teaching quality and effective hiring orientation acculturation and professional development practices for their constituency These models come from community and technical colleges across the United States and can be implemented into any two year system Through the use of research case studies and hands on how to guides checklists and samples this volume s expert contributors explain how to understand part time faculty how to motivate them and value them as members of the academy They go on to offer practical advice for recruiting integrating supporting and retaining these great teachers Best Practices for Supporting Adjunct Faculty Richard E. Lyons,2007-05-11 Showcases proven initiatives at a variety of institutional types that help achieve the needs of adjunct instructors while increasing their effectiveness within institutions existing delivery systems American Book Publishing Record ,2001 Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall,2003 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers Vanderbilt Issues in Higher Education Sandria Rodriguez,2001 Bibliographic Guide to Education ,2002 lists publications cataloged by Teachers College Columbia University supplemented by The Research Libraries of The New York Public Library PAIS International in Print ,2002
