Gift Of The Stranger Faith Hospitality And Foreign Language Learning:

The Gift of the Stranger David Smith, Barbara Maria Carvill, 2000 A pioneering look at the implications of Christian faith for foreign language education It has become clear in recent years that reflection on foreign language education involves more than questioning which methods work best This new volume carries current discussions of the value laden nature of foreign language teaching into new territory by exploring its spiritual and moral dimensions David Smith and Barbara Carvill show how the Christian faith sheds light on the history aims content and methods of foreign language education They also propose a new approach to the field based on the Christian understanding of hospitality Learning from the Stranger David Smith, 2009-06-09 Cultural differences increasingly impact our everyday lives Virtually none of us today interact exclusively with people who look talk and behave like we do David Smith here offers an excellent guide to living and learning in our culturally interconnected world Learning from the Stranger clearly explains what culture is discusses how cultural difference affects our perceptions and behavior and explores how Jesus call to love our neighbor involves learning from cultural strangers Built around three chapter length readings of extended biblical passages from Genesis Luke and Acts the book skillfully weaves together theological and practical concerns and Smith s engaging readable text is peppered with stories from his own extensive firsthand experience Many thoughtful readers will resonate with this insightful book as it encourages the virtues of humility and hospitality in our personal interactions and shows how learning from strangers not just imparting our own ideas to them is an integral part of Christian discipleship You Are What You Love James K. A. Smith, 2016-03-29 Christianity Today Book Award Winner Martin Institute and Dallas Willard Center Book Award You are what you love But you might not love what you think In this book award winning author James K A Smith shows that who and what we worship fundamentally shape our hearts And while we desire to shape culture we are not often aware of how culture shapes us We might not realize the ways our hearts are being taught to love rival gods instead of the One for whom we were made Smith helps readers recognize the formative power of culture and the transformative possibilities of Christian practices He explains that worship is the imagination station that incubates our loves and longings so that our cultural endeavors are indexed toward God and his kingdom This is why the church and worshipping in a local community of believers should be the hub and heart of Christian formation and discipleship Following the publication of his influential work Desiring the Kingdom Smith received numerous requests from pastors and leaders for a more accessible version of that book s content No mere abridgment this new book draws on years of Smith s popular presentations on the ideas in Desiring the Kingdom to offer a fresh bottom up rearticulation The author creatively uses film literature and music illustrations to engage readers and includes new material on marriage family youth ministry and faith and work He also suggests individual and communal practices for shaping the Christian life Anglican Church School Education Howard J. Where the Eye Alights Marilyn McEntyre, 2021-01-05 Lent is about more than going to church on weekdays and giving up chocolate or social media It s also a time to form one s heart and mind through study and prayer In Where the Eye Alights Marilyn McEntyre offers forty short meditations based on excerpts from Scripture and poetry that guide readers on a devotional journey from Ash Wednesday through Holy Saturday As in lectio divina the spiritual practice of reading Scripture repetitively and meditatively McEntyre invites us to notice words that may give us pause and summon us to reflection This book calls our attention to how the Spirit speaks through phrases that can open doors to deep places for those willing to sit still with them Lent is a time of permission says McEntyre Many of us find it hard to give ourselves permission to pause to sit still to reflect or meditate or pray in the midst of daily occupations most of them very likely worthy in themselves that fill our waking minds and propel us out of bed and on to the next thing We need the explicit invitation the liturgical year provides to change pace to curtail our busyness a bit to make our times with self and God a little more spacious a little more leisurely and see what comes The reflections I offer here come from a very simple practice of daily meditation on whatever has come to mind in the quiet of early morning
