Gift-Giving in Japan Katherine Rupp, 2003-06-10 Gift giving is extremely important in Japanese society not only at personal and household levels but at the national and macroeconomic levels as well This book is the first in English to document the extraordinary scale complexity and variation of giving in contemporary Japan Gift Giving in Japan is based on eighteen months fieldwork in the Tokyo metropolitan area as well as short term research in other parts of Japan The core of the study is the experience of family representatives of different ages classes genders occupations neighborhoods and religions The author also interviewed experts including the author of gift giving etiquette books Buddhist and Shinto priests department store and funeral home employees and workers at Tokyo s Tsukiji fish market She participated in neighborhood festivals election rallies house building rites and other ceremonies of which gift giving was an integral part Recent anthropological interest in drawing a strong contrast between commodities and gifts both reflects and reinforces the conception of the gift as part of the giver and the related distinction between the realm of the gift and the realm of the marketplace The author argues that Japanese practices of giving and receiving challenge assumptions related to this idea of the gift

Experimental Studies on Partnership Dissolution, R&D Investment, and Gift Giving Nadja

Trhal, 2019-03-21 In recent years traditional economic theory has been enriched by behavioral components There is huge and rapidly growing evidence from empirical and experimental studies that mere profit maximization is in many cases not a good proxy of real life decision making and interaction in economic situations Yet although the concept of homo oeconomicus has subsequently been dismissed by many authors behavior is not random or arbitrary but follows systematic patterns and rules that researchers in the field of behavioral economics aim at understanding This thesis adds to the understanding of actual economic decision making by analyzing behavior in three different economic applications The first application concerns experimental studies on the performance of partnership dissolution mechanisms The second application studies the effects of policy instruments on a firm s incentives to invest in R D Finally the third application tests the impact of responsibility for being in a disadvantageous situation through deliberate risk taking on solidarity behavior of economic agents Potential readership includes scholars of experimental economics in the fields of mechanism design industrial organization and social preferences as well as interested students and practitioners involved in these areas GIFT GIVING for Mommies

Mommies Line,2008-11-21 GIFT GIVING for Mommies helps you overcome the dilemmas and to enjoy the art and practice of gift giving becoming gifted in the art of selection presentation and reception of gifts In the first Chapter Gift Selection the quandaries in choosing and giving the right gift are unraveled Surprisingly re gifting can be done with a lot of class In the second chapter Gift Presentation the reader is shown how to make exactly the right presentation of the gift Cultures dictate that gifts must be presented in a particular manner to avoid offending the receiver Knowing the protocol can mean the difference between making or breaking a personal or business relationship In the third chapter Gift Reception the author enlightens the reader about the complications associated with being on the receiving end of a gift We don t always receive a gift properly Knowing how and when to decline a gift is as important as knowing how to select and properly present a gift
