the first major critical biography of Gypsy legend and guitar icon Django Reinhardt The Monetary Imagination of Edgar Allan Poe Heinz Tschachler, 2013-06-05 In this first of its kind treatment Heinz Tschachler offers an account of Edgar Allan Poe's relation to the world of banking and money in antebellum America. He contends that Poe gave the full force of his censure to the acrimonious debates about America's money. Andrew Jackson's bank war, the panic of 1837, and the ensuing depression and the nation's inability to furnish a sound and uniform currency. Poe's attitude is overt in his early satires more subdued in The Gold Bug and almost an undercurrent in writings that enter into and historicize the discovery of gold in California. In Poe's writings much is concealed though his art also reveals while it conceals in this instance a deep felt desire for an authority that would guarantee a measure of permanence and continuity to the nation's currency. That kind of currency was finally furnished by Abraham Lincoln both were born in 1809. Poe died in 1849 at one time a dedicated reader of Poe's tales and sketches. Wielding his power of regulation Lincoln came to save the Union not just militarily but also economically. Under him the United States government finally provided the kind of sound and uniform currency that Poe in his writings could only name and rehearse The Change of Narrative Modes in Chinese Fiction (1898-1927) Pingyuan

Chen, 2022-02-17 This book examines the Chinese fictions xiaoshuo published between 1898 and 1927 three pivotal decades during which China underwent significant social changes. It applies Narratology and Sociology of the Novel methods to analyze both the texts themselves and the social cultural factors that triggered the transformation of the narrative mode in Chinese fiction. Based on empirical data the author argues that this transformation was not only inspired by translated Western fiction but was also the result of a creative transformation in traditional Chinese literature Ghost Note Vicki

James, 2020-07-02 Six years Seventy two months Over two thousand days That's what I'd dedicated to that guitar playing a seahole Danny Silver Now I Daisy Piper was left to pick up the wreckage of his love while he ran off with the band to find fortune and fame. Life went on without him and a new man soon rescued me from the ashes of Danny but a part of my heart remained a little broken no matter who tried to fix it. First loves can't be forgotten so easily and when Danny returned to our small hometown in Devon famous and adored by millions I couldn't stop myself from wanting to get a glimpse of the man I'd once laid beside to see how much he'd changed. The smallest actions make for the biggest mistakes and a single look into Danny's eyes was all it took before I ran. I ran because the spark that came to life inside felt dangerous and I wasn't the kind of girl who enjoyed getting burnt twice. But running from a rock star isn't as easy as I thought it would be and with Danny's sights now firmly set on me again all I could do was pray that he got bored of the chase. That he thought life in Devon was too slow for him and that he craved the bright lights of the city as well as the noise of the stadium. If he didn't I was about to ruin everything for everyone. Especially myself and my stupid little Silver lined heart.
