Narrative Inquiries of School Reform Cheryl J. Craig, 2003-05-01 This book culminates five years of extensive field based inquiry with teachers and principals in four reforming school contexts It arises from living alongside teachers and principals entering into their realities engaging them in conversations seeing school life through their eyes and employing the words and images they use to wrap around their experiences It involved thinking narratively about schools as sites of high drama within which teachers and principals negotiate meaning as knowledgeable and knowing human beings It gave primacy to everyday events taking shape on school landscapes It meant creating spaces and devoting enormous amounts of time to observing and listening hard to what teachers and principals say and do when reform initiatives become personally lived in context from their points of view Poetic Inquiry as Social Justice and Political Response Abigail Cloud, Sandra L. Faulkner, 2019-12-02 This volume speaks to the use of poetry in critical qualitative research and practice focused on social justice In this collection poetry is a response a call to action agitation and a frame for future social justice work The authors engage with poetry's potential for connectivity political power and evocation through methodological theoretical performative and empirical work The poet researchers consider questions of how poetry and Poetic Inquiry can be a response to political and social events be used as a pedagogical tool to critique inequitable social structures and how Poetic Inquiry speaks to our local identities and politics The authors answer the question What spaces can poetry create for dialogue about critical awareness social justice and re-visioning of social cultural and political worlds This volume adds to the growing body of Poetic Inquiry through the demonstration of poetry as political action response and reflective practice We hope this collection inspires you to write and engage with political poetry to realize the power of poetry as political action response and reflective practice The Miracle Collectors Joan Luise Hill, Katie Mahon, 2021-03-02 This eye opening book will teach you how to step back examine important moments in your life and recognize the miracles that are constantly occurring all around you As part of their own spiritual quest miracle experts Katie Mahon and Joan Luise Hill discovered that when we are truly awake and present miracles abound It started by sharing their own stories which quickly prompted an unexpected outpouring of stories from others Stories that had never been told stories that didn't seem to matter and stories that had been forgotten While some defy explanation others invite us to take a closer look to discover common ground with each other and to seek meaning in a whole new way The stories of courage forgiveness gratitude faith hope and love from The Miracle Collectors allow us to notice and appreciate the miracles that are available to each one of us while opening us up to a part of the Divine mystery we can absorb and understand By using Take a Miracle Moment challenge at the end of every chapter you open the path for your own reawakening of the spirit Perhaps you too will become a miracle collector

Whispers of the Ancients Tamarack Song, Moses Beaver, 2010-05-05 Narratives inspired by the retelling of Indian stories and legends with gorgeous artwork Recognising Postnatal Depression Andrea Taub-Da Costa, 2012-09-28 The journey to motherhood is sometimes clouded with unrealistic expectations and society's unfair judgement of any woman who isn't immediately blissfully happy with her new baby Giving birth is a major life adjustment and rite of passage for all mothers This book is for anyone who is struggling or has struggled on that journey who may be grappling with confusion anxiety fear or anger It offers hope support and comfort and a clear path out of what may feel like a bewildering or overwhelming situation Postnatal depression affects around 30 per cent of mothers but partners children extended family friends and colleagues all feel its ripple effect and many mothers do not know or do not wish to acknowledge that this misunderstood illness can be treated just like any other. Written by a medical doctor, a clinical psychologist, and their patient, a writer, each author contributes her own personal experience and expertise in the area of postnatal depression to an open and enlightening discussion of just what this illness is, how to recognise it, and ways to achieve recovery of body, mind, and spirit. They call on health care professionals and society at large to respond timeously, knowledgeably, and with empathy to what is for many mothers a medical emergency. Women from different walks of life agreed to share with the authors, and now with the reader, their tough yet transformational experiences of postnatal depression, offering hope and encouragement and revealing the power of healing through openness and the telling of their stories. The Healing Heart for Communities Allison Cox, David Albert, 2009-03-01. The only book of its kind that demonstrates the power of storytelling to heal.

Crossmaglen Paddy Said Patrick Joseph McEntegart, 2019. Once every generation there comes along a book that both lifts the spirit and inspires the mind. Crossmaglen Paddy Said is one of those rare published gems. This is not a book to be read just for laughs, as it contains a mix of tragedy and comedy. It is a true story. All incidents mentioned happened as they are described, and at that time and place. In the words of an eminent professional who first read the manuscript: "This book does not follow any set plot or order. Perhaps this is intentional, and you are going for a James Joyce stream of consciousness effect, or Beckett, where everything happens with only one or two characters in one room on one day, or Flann O'Brien's writings, where there are surreal theories and weird characters, and the reader has the sense of entering a strange world. It has been compared by a Hollywood producer with Conor McPherson's Laurence Olivier award-winning play The Weir, which won the Play of the Year award in 1999. Crossmaglen Paddy Said contains authentic evidence of the British ships and regiments who exported the food off the island of Ireland during the period of the Great Hunger from 1845 to 1950. Inside, it also draws a unique, paralleled comparison between an incident that occurred relating to Crossmaglen on August 15, 1971, and Boston, Massachusetts, on the March 5, 1770, the most important date in American history. In the second phase, this book becomes an inspirational story which details and outlines the lifetime achievements of both Paddy and the narrator, Paudraic Moore. It then becomes a super motivational tool for its readers. Meeting in the Margins Cynthia Trenshaw, 2025-07-30. When Cynthia Trenshaw recently widowed, moves to Berkeley, she thinks the reason she has transplanted herself is to earn her master's degree in theology. But when, step by unexpected step, she is drawn into the cultural borderlands where society's invisible people reside, she encounters dispossessed and demanding teachers not listed on any academic roster and becomes immersed in a heady curriculum of helplessness and joy, wisdom and pain. A book that encourages readers to receive the generosity and reciprocity of the margins. Meeting in the Margins offers guidance for how we can all, as individuals, begin to repair the rift between the margins and the mainstream of society simply by being profoundly present.
