Giovanni Pisano: Sculptor Michael Ayrton, 1969 The first sculptures for the Pisa Baptistry The decade at Sienna The Sienna Cathedral facade The return to Pisa and the Pistoia pulpit The Pisa pulpit The last sculptures Giovanni Pisano, Sculptor [By] Michael Ayrton. Introd. by Henry Moore. Photos. Specially Taken by Ilario Bessi in Collaboration With Henry Moore Michael Ayrton, 1969 Giovanni Pisano in Genoa Giovanni Pisano, Max Seidel, Giovanna Rotondi Terminiello, 1987* Giovanni Pisano Michael Ayrton, Henry Moore, 1969 Nicola & Giovanni Pisano Anita Fiderer Moskowitz, 2005 In the year 1260 Nicola Pisano the sculptor who initiated the revival of classicizing ideals that would later form a major component of Italian Renaissance art created a remarkable and unusual monument for the Baptistry of Pisa a hexagonal pulpit supported by seven colorful columns and displaying on its parapet five visually compelling narrative reliefs several years later he designed a second pulpit this time for the cathedral of Siena Toward the end of the century his son Giovanni received a pulpit commission for the parish church of Sant Andrea Pistoia to be followed a few years later c 1302 by another one for the cathedral of Pisa These four extraordinary monuments each building upon both older traditions and its own immediate predecessors yet each a highly innovative and original solution are the primary subject of this book The pulpits by Nicola and Giovanni Pisano were produced during a period of enormous economic intellectual cultural and spiritual flux The expanded body of knowledge that resulted from the rise of Scholasticism a theological intellectual current that beginning in the French cathedral schools of the twelfth century attempted to reconcile Christian faith with the newly valued ideals of observation and reason in short to synthesize Christian and classical learning found expression in new themes and naturalistic motifs abounding in painting book illumination and sculpture and in religious and civic iconography In contrast to the emphasis on transcendental experience of the earlier Middle Ages the new urban centered religious orders of the thirteenth century such as the Dominicans and the Franciscans fostered a more direct empathetic relationship between ordinary mortals and God and his saints The Pisano pulpits were profoundly informed by these new conditions and concerns and in turn they contributed to changing perceptions about the natural world and the nature of religious experience Indeed these pulpits are among the earliest visual manifestations in Italy of the scholastic inclination to embrace a wide range of knowledge for the narratives relating biblical history are augmented by representations of Virtues and Vices Liberal Arts and pagan prophetesses of antiquity The sermons expounded from these and other urban pulpits were very much enhanced by the charisma of their preachers and the interplay between the verbal and the visual both of which were expressed in the vernacular that is in the case of sermons no longer only in the remote Latin tongue and in the case of visual imagery no longer employing the abstract forms and symbols of earlier periods But preaching was by no means the sole function of these raised platforms they were used for a variety of ceremonial occasions and like the para liturgical mystery and miracle plays that were becoming increasingly popular they satisfied the needs for edification diversion and even entertainment needs as compelling in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries as they are today In this book we explore in word and image these and other issues related to the pulpits of Nicola and Giovanni Pisano both as individual masterpieces and as monuments within the larger context of pulpit traditions Nicola and Giovanni different as were their sculptural styles were both consummate story tellers and it is nothing less than astonishing to observe the formal devices employed to make those stories as compelling as possible We shall thus witness varying interpretations of the narratives differing iconographic emphases and formal devices changing conceptions of the human figure and the development of spatial awareness in the work of both father and son By offering close readings of the narrative and figural iconography and the sculptural form conceived to give them expression this book invites the modern viewer reader to follow the itinerary of their original audience the worshiper standing before and walking around each pulpit In addition however numerous close up views of passages difficult to see in situ offer privileged access to details readily visible primarily to the sculptor at work rather than the standing or circumambulating spectator

H. Crichton, E. R. Crichton, 2011-02-17 Nicola Pisano was a much admired thirteenth century Italian sculptor and architect often considered to be the founder of modern sculpture Within this 1938 text G H and E R Crichton begin by giving a biographical background of Pisano before looking at those early sculptors whose works may have inspired him In the book's second part the Crichtons write in detail about the sculptures of Pisano describing the pulpits at Pisa and Siena as well as the Fountain at Perugia The Crichtons also discuss those pieces often accredited to Pisano which seem unlikely to be his Finally they share their conclusions on Pisano's influence on Italian sculpture These fascinating accounts of Pisano's life and works are supplemented by numerous illustrative plates This book will appeal to scholars of art and sculpture in general as well as of Pisano and thirteenth century sculpture more specifically

The Lives of the Most Excellent Painters, Sculptors, and Architects v1 Giorgio Vasari, 2015-12-04 The Lives of the Most Excellent Painters Sculptors and Architects Often called the first art historian Vasari invented the genre of the encyclopedia of artistic biographies with his Le Vite de pi eccellenti pittori scultori ed architettori Lives of the Most Eminent Painters Sculptors and Architects dedicated to Grand Duke Cosimo I de Medici which was first published in 1550 He was the first to use the term Renaissance rinascita in print though an awareness of the ongoing rebirth in the arts had been in the air since the time of Alberti and he was responsible for our use of the term Gothic Art though he only used the word Goth which he associated with the barbaric German style The Lives also included a novel treatise on the technical methods employed in the arts The book was partly rewritten and enlarged in 1568 with the addition of woodcut portraits of artists some conjectural The work has a consistent and notorious bias in favour of Florentines and tends to attribute to them all the developments in Renaissance art for example the invention of engraving Venetian art in particular along with arts from other parts of Europe is systematically ignored in the first edition Between the first and second editions Vasari visited Venice and while the second edition gave more attention to Venetian art finally including Titian it did so without achieving a neutral point of view Vasari's biographies are interspersed with amusing gossip Many of his anecdotes have the ring of truth while others are inventions or generic fictions such as the tale of young Giotto painting a fly on the surface of a painting by Cimabue that the older master repeatedly tried to brush away a genre tale that echoes anecdotes told of the Greek painter Apelles With a few exceptions however Vasari's aesthetic judgement was acute and unbiased He did not research archives for exact dates as modern art historians do and naturally his biographies are most dependable for the painters of his own generation and those of the immediate past Modern criticism with new materials opened up by research has corrected many of his traditional dates and attributions Vasari includes a sketch of his own biography at the end of the Lives and adds further details about himself and his family in his lives of Lazzaro Vasari and Francesco Salviati According to the historian Richard Goldthwaite Vasari was one of the earliest authors to use the term competition or concorrenza in Italian in its economic sense He used it repeatedly and stressed the concept in his introduction to the life of Pietro Perugino in explaining the reasons for Florentine artistic preeminence In Vasari's view Florentine artists excelled because they were hungry and they were hungry because their fierce competition amongst themselves for commissions kept them so Competition he said is one of the nourishments that maintain them
